

Show 60 - The Celtic Holocaust

0:02

It's hardcore history.

0:06

If I asked you to get a piece of paper.

0:09

Something to write with.

0:13

To make a numerical list of all the things.

0:18

That you would be willing to die for.

0:22

How long is your list?

0:25

What's on it?

0:28

This is kind of an exercise in you run into these things elsewhere. I'm sure I sold the clarify your life and priorities exercise.

0:36

Another one, I've heard is don't write your own obituary now.

0:40

And you can see how that might help you get a sense of Alji. This is what I'd like to be someday. And here's how far I am from that now and so help you figure out how your doing.

0:51

The what would you be willing to die for question is a priority question help you so to figure out what are the most important things to me?

1:01

And if you think about.

1:02

List like that I mean, I think we probably all have pretty similar things at least at the top of the list wouldn't we made wouldn't loved ones be on that list right near the top.

1:12

I would be willing to die for my wife and children or parents.

1:18

I have to believe that's pretty common in any era in history.

1:23

Than likely something on that list near the top would be possessions of one kind or another.

1:29

Land comes to mind right off the top of my head out. This phone is been in my family for 3 generations. I would give my life for it.

Number of conflict that word land ownership based since time. Immemorial is uncountable is not but you coming.

1:44

Other kind of position, you might think it's like money.

1:48

How long down on your list of days ago before you get to things?

1:53

For a little harder to get your hands on tangibly.

1:58

I mean wear something like freedom on your list.

That's funny because if you go and look all throughout human history. There are slogans like the New Hampshire State model which is live free or Die.

You going to look at like revolutionary France in and all these other movements throughout history, and some form of give me Liberty or give me death live free or die is on the list of people willing to give their own lives based on the idea that a non free life isn't worth living.

2:31

So willing to die for a concept of a concept, it means everything when you talk about your day to day life and we should point out that freedom is always meant different things to different people.

I'm in different things in different areas.

The 2 big definitions run into is the obvious one freedom is my right to personal control and I'll talk to me and 70.

2:53

The other window is a political sort of freedom that says as long as no outside people or power, or state or entities controlling my people, then were free we may live in a dictatorship.

3:07

The Freedom involves freedom from outside control.

3:13

No, we change the.

3:15

Parameters of our little question here for minute.

3:18

What if instead of giving your own life and then what you would be willing to die for?

3:25

The new list is.

3:27

What would you be willing to lose?

Everything for 3:32

I'm by everything I certainly need your life that's a given, but the lives of all your loved ones. One way or another, either through out right death or having them sold into a life of slavery. You little kids sold into a life of slavery and all your possessions taking in all your stuff stolen in your community devastated in your culture, Mortale Woon did that's pretty much everything isn't it.

What's with that.

3:58

Some of the greatest human tragedies, both personal and Honor Society wide level throughout history.

4:06

Have happened when some of the things on the list that you be willing to die for.

4:12

Become the cost of preserving other things on your list that you be willing to die for.

4:20

Did you see this all the time in the 20th century look at? How many people in order to protect their societies freedom.

4:27

Something own children off to die in a war so this is part of the human condition.

4:34

Unless you've lived through.

4:36

Near genocidal conditions.

4:40

Most of us haven't had to deal.

4:42

With the kind of threat that people throughout history have had to deal with to everything.

4:50

The general a coin New Hampshire State model live free or Die.

4:55

What Revolutionary War general for example, he wrote that phrase decades after the war?

5 minutes

5:02

And in total freedom and safety.

Now I have no doubt he would have been willing to give his life.

5:09

In the service of what was the brand new country during the Revolutionary War.

5:14

What do you could also take some comfort in the idea?

5:17

That, he wasn't going to have to give much more than that I mean the.

5:21

British were not going to come into the country and after they hang him.

Executed teenage sons.

5:30

And rape his wife and his children and send them off to slavery burn down his house destroyed his town and stamp out of church.

5:38

I want to do that.

5:42

That's a different kind of risk is that that's genocide.

And people still deal with that.

5:47

Even as I'm speaking right now somewhere in the world.

5:53

No obviously genocides come in many different shades and colors and variations.

5:59

Answer come stances me take the.

6:02

Jews in the Gypsies in the Second World War during the Holocaust.

6:06

That's an example where the people who are being victimized had absolutely no choice and no options.

6:13

No one said to them, either do this, or we're gonna kill you all.

6:19

Choice was never offered.

6:22

Sometimes, though.

6:24

It is.

6:26

Joyce, a is you do this choice be is we committed genocide or a near Jennicide or an absolute crime against humanity by modern standards against you.

6:38

I need for most of human history. That's the choice that cities have one enemy army's show up outside their walls.

6:47

Surrender before the siege weapons start being used.

6:52

And you can maybe go free maybe carry some of your personal possessions with you. Maybe not, but the deal is that is soon as the siege starts in most of these cases they can do whatever they wanted to you.

7:04

Sometimes they might still let you go. Sometimes they might have a negotiation 3 weeks from now, so could you wanna stop in now will make a deal?

7:11

But oftentimes the deal with implicit in history. Handsomely says that this is this. The standard understanding throughout most of pre gunpowder history and even in the gunpowder in history that if.

7:25

You don't surrender when called upon in the city goes under siege.

7:29

You could have an absolute genocide at least on the city wide level afterwards.

7:33

And everyone will understand that that's just how it goes.

7:37

They weren't doing that, too civilizational equals much by the 18th century.

7:44

Which of course that the British would consider the Colonist who 5 minutes ago I've been?

7:50

Subject of the same king's the British.

7:55

But when you were dealing for example, with savages or barbarians.

8:00

Those are.

8:01

Obviously slur terms.

8:03

All bets were off.

8:06

History, the laws of war, this term for that a Latin term Bealium Romanum.

8:12

Basically means war the way the Romans did it.

8:16

Total war the legal definition, I got from one place said.

8:20

The Belum Romanum is all out war without restraint as the Romans practices against groups, they considered to be barbarians.

8:31

Let's understand if the British crown.

In 1775 were dealing with Native Americans.

My been a very different situation all of a sudden you can treat them the way Rome treated barbarians.

8:47

Oftentimes, with what we would call today genocide.

But.

Often times,

8:54

Which choices unlike the Jews in the Gypsies in the Second World Wars Holocaust off in time is the choice was?

9:00

Surrender and except subjugation without rebellion.

9:05

9:07

What do any of those other things?

9:09

And see everyone either killed or sold into slavery? What passes for city in your culture destroyed.

9:18

And maybe your culture itself.

9:20

Taking apart piece by piece.

9:23

There's something very strange maybe about me.

9:28

But I see a certain romance.

9:30

Doomsword of romance, the same sort of thing you see with the Native American. Sometimes we watch this story. That is a calamity and you did times that behavior that human beings in it. Make a tear roll down your cheek and then touch something deep in your soul. Those were willing to say yes. We know that you'll kill all of us or destroy our civilization. If we don't suck you get myself to you.

9:53

We're going to take the chance here and try to live free or Die.

10 minutes

No, not the only one that sees the obvious entertainment value or.

10:04

The compelling nature of the extreme situation.

10:08

My choice like that.

10:10

Don't put you in being sent to because it's a Hollywood cliché isn't it.

10:14

Storytelling trope they would say maybe not gonna make circles are occurring theme.

10:20

I mean, it would be very easy to tell this story and turn it into Braveheart.

10:23

Will try very hard not to do that.

10:27

But it's an old theme and it's easy to become soda.

10:31

In new word to it overtime.

10:34

So numb.

10:36

The other problem is.

10:38

The situations that were talking about the reality of them is actually so intense and so extreme that any poor trailer discussion of them can't help but somehow minimise trivialise or hype in a different way for entertainment value.

10:52

What do people were actually going through I was trying to myself?

10:56

Imagine if that list of we mentioned a minute ago that genocide. List the Magic. Only one of those things was going to happen to me.

11:04

In my cushy life here where I'm in no danger say having my culture wiped out can even imagine with that would mean?

11:13

Make blue jeans are illegal.

11:17

No more iPhones and they start destroying the Christian religion. I mean, I'm not quite sure in the modern sense in the United States, where I live how that even you can't even get your mind around it.

Maybe in some weird.

Emotionally voyeuristic way that's what makes it kind of intriguing.

I've always said you watch people deal with something you can't imagine dealing with yourself.

11:43

The story that I would like to use to highlight that has a very familiar ring.

11:48

Because we seen this movie historically speaking before over and over again.

11:53

Broadly, speaking, it's the story of a European power.

11:58

Using it's technological in civilizational advantages to dominate.

12:05

12:07

And colonize the land.

12:09

Have a tribal people less sophisticated politically speaking tribal people.

12:15

I'm to destroy broad elements of their culture is part of doing so.

12:21

Obviously, the last 500 years we've seen this movie play out in the Americas with European colonization and conquest.

12:30

We saw it play out in Africa to same thing.

12:34

The difference here.

12:36

Is that the people the tribal people?

12:39

On the receiving end of European conquest and colonization are themselves European.

12:46

This didn't happen a couple 100 years ago.

12:49

This happen more than 2000 years ago.

12:53

The reason I wanted to talk about this story as opposed to any of the others with similar themes.

12:59

Is because this is one of the Times were you look at the?

13:02

Odds.

13:04

When you say there's a halfway decent chance here?

13:08

All the people on the receiving end of the European colonization.

13:14

To fight back and win.

13:17

Native Americans for example, never had a chance never a chance ever.

13:22

If for no other reason and there's a lot of other ones. Just the disease alone. If you're about to have a hemispheric civilizational conflict between the New World in the Old World. You don't wanna lose. Maybe I mean, I saw an estimate that said 98% I think that's gotta be high. But let's just say 85% of the entire population of the hemisphere to disease right off the bat.

13:47

There are a bunch of experts have you tried to explain what the situation must of been like in these tribes. In the center of the Americas. You know that we're still untouched by European contact.

13:58

What diseases manage to find them and we're just like shell shocked?

14:04

Traumatized remnants by the time Europeans got to the interior the American tribes basically wiped out by this is it like a magic that imagine that Bonic plague in Europe, but worse from Middle Ages.

14:18

I see numbers that say that in the insight 1800, they are estimating what the.

14:24

Tribal population of North America was now not the North America that constituted the United States in that area back there, because that was just a sliver compared to today, but but the native population through out here for the Pacific to the Atlantic in what's now the United States.

14:39

Some estimates are as low as 600,000 people.

14:43

That's pretty unfair fight right there isn't it.

14:46

Not just that as we all know that's not 600,000 people. All smashed into one state right next to the 13 colonies when United States become to stay dry don't like the USS to deal with 600,008 is next door. They are spread out in small groups in the width and breadth of the territory able to be picked off divided and conquered one by one overtime, which is what happened.

15 minutes

15:11

I mean, it still blows my mind to realise.

15:14

You know how small the number of Native American Warriors. There are fighting against the encroachment of Manifest Destiny at anytime and you know how well they did based on how small they were made. You know if you get 1500 North American Native American Warriors in one place at one time that's a sizable force.

15:35

The highest estimate I've ever seen for the largest Native American force of Warriors ever assembled.

15:42

Is between 4 and 5000 people the little bighorn war people think that's the biggest battle that the largest number ever seen are just under 5005, 1000.

15:53

Windows Spanish conquistadors found the Aztec Empire. The Aztecs could raise tens of thousands, maybe hundreds of thousands of Warriors.

16:03

No obviously there is there a different state organizational system, which plays into this story.

16:08

The same time, it's also first contact basically in the disease have not had time to take hold.

16:14

And Fast, forward couple 100 years and all of a sudden you go from hundreds of thousands of Warriors. Maybe 2:15, 100, being a sizable force and look? How long it took the US to deal with that.

16:28

And to be fair, it wasn't like the United States have 100, 1000 people against 1500 natives, the forces of the European.

16:36

Powers fighting in the New World were very small also in 1500.

16:41

US forces fighting these Native American tribes half of which might be local militia. That was not uncommon either.

16:48

Even in the big wars like the American Revolution, the numbers are smaller than you would think I'm in again. 25,000 would be a ton in the American Revolution.

16:59

So you wonder how the US or before the British and French explorers would have fared. If they were exploring the interior say of North America and they came up on some.

17:09

People that had not been impacted by the disease, I mean? What is the Aztec Empire instead of being in the middle of Mexico was on the opposite side of the Mississippi to be running to buy the Europeans at some point.

17:21

Or better yet, let's make it interesting combat. Let's put ancient golf on the western side of the Mississippi.

17:30

You know, Gullys Rygol is with the Romans called an area about the size of taxes in the ancient world that comprised.

17:38

Well, most of Northwestern Europe. Modern de France, a lot of Belgium. Western stripper Germany, Switzerland in during one part of this period northern Italy even.

17:48

Estimates of the ancient population range from 3 to 7000000 people.

17:53

My kind of armies that they could put in the field will let you say, I'd imagine there pretty close to the kind of?

18:00

The Aztecs probably could put in the field and Armia 40 or 50,000 Golik peoples.

5 or 10000 of which might be mounted was not unusual.

18:13

Imagine imagine those armies.

18:16

There used to brushing aside 1500 natives, maybe on a really bad day, 2508, is having to deal with 40 or 50,000 of them instead.

18:27

No, I have no doubt.

18:29

Given the technological.

18:31

Advantages and more more importantly, the state organization advantages of a place like the early United States or

18:38

Before the British in the fridge. I have no doubt they would conquer this Latter Day version of golf at some point.

18:46

But I wonder if they could conquer as quickly as Caesar did.

18:50

In the real thing.

18:52

2000 years before.

18:55

And if they couldn't.

18:57

What is that say?

19:00

Well, rather than attributed to any failings or shortcomings.

19:06

Of the European or American forces in North America.

19:11

Maybe it says how incredibly awesome, Julius Caesar was.

19:17

Blossom doesn't mean good.

19:21

And.

19:22

Up until relatively recently what he did.

19:27

Ingall.

19:29

What celebrated and in fact going back 102 100 years in the area where the great powers, especially great powers of Europe are celebrating the idea of doing exactly what Julius Caesar in the Romans were doing to the tribal peoples North of them in their own it.

19:46

They tended to see you sesar as the good guy.

19:50

Sorry I wanna talk about today.

19:53

Is narrated by Julius Caesar?

19:56

It's a little like hearing the Star Wars saga I was told by Darth Vader.

20 minutes

20:03

And it is designed to have the audience cheer.

20:08

Wendy plucking little republics are crushed.

20:12

And 100 years ago.

20:14

Why people dead?

20:17

The beginning to my recent translation of Caesars War, Commentaries from his commanding goal.

20:27

The Carolyn Hammond translation feels the need at the beginning of the work to explain why yet another translation of Caesar's account of his.

20:37

Well, I had one professor in school in the 80s called it a Celtic Holocaust. Why a new translation was needed. In Hammond points out because the views of the audience are different than they used to be, she writes quote.

20:51

A new translation of the garlic war does call for some explanation not least because the number of versions are already available yet each generation needs its own translation of any classic text. The culture in Moraes of the translators own time are bound to leave their mark. Besides the subject matter of the garlic war is potentially distasteful even in moral for the modern reader. The drive to increase territorial Holdings by civilian as well as military casualties in the predominant said he could not make motives for organized aggression. All these belong to an accepted norm of international activity in the ancient world.

21:31

Enhance need careful introduction explanation as well as up-to-date translation.

21:38

And quote.

21:40

Of course, which is basically saying.

21:43

Is it Once Upon a time this was written for an audience? Who was expected to cheer? What was going on?

21:50

Nowadays, we look at things differently in can't help but notice that in the process of achieving these glorious and almost impossible military victories.

22:03

Julius Caesar is killing reportedly.

22:07

1,000,000 of the inhabitants of Gaul.

22:12

Enslaving another million.

22:16

As Celtic expert archaeologist Berrichon List says if you take the low numbers of the entire population of Gaul. That means Caesar killed a third of the population enslaved another third.

22:31

Is that genocide?

22:34

In the Americas.

22:36

The disease did most of the damage in terms of the overall death rate.

22:42

Ingall.

22:43

In the 50s BCE.

22:46

Caesar did.

22:50

Even as I say that I can hear it in the back of my head the screaming objections of the ancient Roman lawyers from the grave of the way that I'm framing this whole thing.

23:04

Comparing Roman efforts against the Celtic peoples North of them to the Holocaust in the Second World War would be an insult to Roman honor.

23:14

Although there were some who complained about it cattoi think.

23:19

Nonetheless, they would say that to suggest.

23:21

That doing what Caesar did to the golf is the same as what happened to the Jews in the Gypsies in the Jehovah's witnesses in the gate folks and all the other people persecuted.

23:32

In the Holocaust Roman Catholic priests.

23:36

Holy smokes.

23:38

Those are like a lamb's innocent.

23:41

Led to the slaughter.

23:44

What Caesar did?

23:46

He did to the people that were like Lions dangerous Lions Lions that attack before and might do so again.

23:56

If you were forced as a state or people are what have you to commit genocide in order to protect yourself?

24:04

That's what I get out of jail free card.

24:07

Any soda.

24:08

Genocidal court situation, I mean in the judgment call would you say Willis and you know they had to do with anybody would have done it?

24:17

At the same time of course.

24:18

What season was suggesting we get to the minute with that they needed a pre emptive war because Lions could attack at anytime so it gets murky quickly.

24:28

But there's no denying that these Celtic peoples all over Europe were dangerous.

24:36

They are Vikings 1000 years before there are Vikings and I don't mean in the in the pirate like sense, I mean in the European barbarian stereotype sense.

24:47

The Vikings are like version 3.4, something because that the couch are the Alpha version of the European Northern European barbarian type.

24:57

The exhibit all the typical traits.

25 minutes

25:01

They get crazy and battle, supposedly in the fight with enormous amounts of like ferocity.

25:08

The geographer Streambox said that they are warm add.

25:13

Daingean sources also point out the decals are Headhunterz, which is always a little bit unnerving ancient peoples are always more comfort. A bowl with head shopping, then we are in the modern world. But in the more settled societies when it was done it was sort of.

25:28

Yeah, there was nothing enjoy it. They didn't revel in it. They didn't take pride in. It wasn't something you showed off to visitors. But in the Celtic world, according to the yangshen sources that were not Celtic.

25:38

This was something that was done. Posidonia says he's visiting Celtic homes and they wanna bring out the heads of slain enemies. They know that they've kept in the chest. You know soaked in Cedar oil so everything stays nice and pristine and you can still recognize the features.

25:53

And they have found by the way the archaeology.

25:57

Show that there are these for example, pillars I think that fine with little cubby holes with skulls still in some of them by the way in Little Hangers to do a fix this call to the back of these things I mean, this may be a religious thing, but to the settled people cutting heads off people keeping them in and adorning your temples and Whatnot with headset that's just freaky.

26:18

And was even then by the way Posidonia says he will get used to it after while but never quite got comfortable with people treating human heads the way some people treat you have the antlers of that deer, they shot last fall.

The wall mounted, with the name tag underneath it talk to it, sometimes.

26:36

Always get that great story about how you kill this dude.

26:41

I should also point out that besides the religious significance of the heads. Cesar says that the the golf believe in the theory of reincarnation soda. Maybe you could call it was similar to what major philosophical group in Greece. Always believe that the Gauls kind of believe that when you die in this world. You just born into the other one then when you done the other when you're just.

27:00

Back into this one, I think I just did that correctly.

27:03

Cesar says that this is part of the reason why there so fearless in battle because it being worried about having your existence snuffed out. You just you know in oblivion. You just gonna be born in the next world.

27:15

Just to avoid confusion by the way because it can be very confusing.

27:20

The terms gaulan kelte are used by the ancient sources in a way words and possible not to get everything confused.

27:28

Archaeologist John College has a whole rundown of the various ways. You can interpret this. The most common ways away. We're gonna do it.

27:35

We are going to assume that when we sing kel tween. Celtic people across the width and breadth of areas that have Celtic language and culture. If we saigols we specifically mean the couch in.

27:48

No Angel Golf Modern de France Cedric Cedra.

27:53

They are like all these North Western European barbarian types. White they are strong. They are tall, especially to all the people riding in the Mediterranean. They always looked all they might have only been like 6 feet. If we could go back into time machine.

28:07

But if that's 5 or 6 inches taller than your average Mediterranean type. It still like fighting Giants in battle is net.

28:14

That's what made fighting you killed it peoples. You know scary too. It's not just their enormous numbers, according to the ancient altars. But listen if you're in the 21st Century Army and I tell you listen to go to battle gonna. Find another 21st century old by the way everyone in that army is 6 inches taller than all of us.

28:31

You might think yourself thanks.

28:34

Should I don't like the sound of that at the same time, we don't you realise?

28:38

7 foot tall people are whatever they are go down from bullets in shellfire and bombs. Just like shorter people do so it's not that big of a deal.

28:47

What did the agent world when you say your gonna find an army people that is on average 5 inches taller and proportionately stronger than all the rest of us when you're doing that in the hand hand sense.

28:57

You can make a huge difference.

29:00

Kelly people were scary.

29:02

When they had scared Rome before and all the modern historians point out that this was somehow ace car that ran through the Roman psyche so that even after the couch really weren't that dangerous to the Romans anymore. They still felt the memory of lion attacks along time ago and never quite got over them You know if you look at Roman history. There are a couple of famous dates.

One of the most 410 AD right the famous fall of Rome to the Germanic Barbarians.

29:34

Why do people like to make that the exclamation point at the end of the western Roman empire?

29:40

Always debatable of course.

29:42

But the reason it, such a big deal is basically wrong with being on a huge winning streak. Did Joe DiMaggio, hitting streak of you don't ancient runs in the sense that Rome heading been sacked by 4 and conquer in almost 1000 years right? That's a pretty big deal. Nyange and twirled the last time, though, that they were sacked.

30:02

It was nice Celtic people that did it.

30:05

The Romans never forgot it was a famous phrase that soda.

30:09

Sums up the whole period and I've always wondered if the ancient author writing when the Roman Empire was around kicking. Everybody's butt didn't have a sly reason for putting it in there, pointing out that you can say that back then. We can live by the same rules, the line was.

30:26

5 Victis or why with this.

The translation usually used is.

30:32

Wota the vanquished.

Because that's what happened to the Romans famously.

30:38

Is it day for ever after remember doesn't in auspicious day in Rome?

30:43

July 18th.

30:46

The first celticare me that the Romans had ever encountered supposedly in their history board down on the city itself and were coming at speed tuorum completely unprepared to meet them.

31:01

There are a bunch of different ancient historians have an account of what happened here.

31:06

Livias of course, the most famous most romantic and goes into the most detail about.

31:11

This interesting battle where?

31:14

You are Lovington battles and then you try to recreate what happen, it's kind of impossible me.

People do their best but the physics of the whole thing or just not understood and and ideas and concepts go in and out of fashion as to what really happened.

But there are elements of humanity on an individual level.

31:35

Things like fear and intimidation and very hard to quantify sides of of human beings that are part of when you take those things collectively right? What is fear do when you magnify it, you a whole group of people as opposed to one individual this is the part of human history that make history hard to turn into any kind of hard science? How do you quantify things like that? How do you say that one side in the battle was more scared than other side of the battle in that that's what made the difference.

32:08

Or that one side was tougher and that's what made the difference. 'cause clearly the ancient writers and let's be honest. Historians writing even up 5000 years ago, had no problem, saying this, but when you need evidence to prove it.

32:21

There certain parts of humanity infused into history that you just can't quantify.

32:28

I'm in the most logical way if you wanna follow the sources anyways specially living to view this battle. That's about to happen when the Romans in the Celtic armies first clash supposedly.

32:40

Just say that the Romans were terrified.

32:43

Exit 2300, plus years later. It actually seeps through you Can you imagine that you could walk up to one of them?

32:53

It's rated you are. It'll be it'll be recorded and people thousands of years from now will know how scared you are of this alien people coming down from the North.

33:01

Aliens a key word to see you at the fact that these are.

33:05

Obviously big people, but the entire look and feel of them as an alien quality that just is scary understand Barbarians are always scary.

33:15

2 settled societies, not just scary sometimes a little sexy you can see styles that catch on. Like in Rome. The start wearing those tight. German pants at the barbarians where there's a certain element, then that's a little Clint Eastwood. At times on, but you know, I like to think that there's a barbarian scale.

33:33

One to 101 being most barbaric 10 being one step away from being a Roman with a mustache you know, um.

33:41

It depends on where you are the really cool barbarians. Walking around Roman leather jackets. You know there there more like 9 are 10 on the scale if they get drunk. They get hurt somebody but otherwise doing pretty well behaved you take a one or 2 and put him in there in there gonna be like a bull in a China shop and that in 390 or 387. BCD is with the Romans information on the opposite side of the battlefield and by the time they get there, according to leave the battlefield already swarming with these people. So you don't even have time to get your lines all straightened everything all figured out in OK. Let's brace ourselves.

34:13

You are ascentia, Lee having an encounter bottle with a Celtic Army heading down toroman. It's about 11 miles away from the city.

34:22

In all fairness this is not the Roman Empire or even the Romans of Julius Caesar area that we normally think of those terrible b  is that are absolutely frankh. All this is a militia army and this battle. It's also about half of it is just to the citizens.

34:40

Waiting for you have your militia farmers. You do all your fighting for you, anyway and you had townsfolk and other people.

34:47

But it's an emergency in it happened so quickly. There was no time and so they raise this army hastily romat. This time is merely a city in Italy. Probably the predominant city, but they just had a long conflict with arch enemy of trusting city of that they had just recently defeated and it was only like.

35 minutes

35:06

Yeah, 10 miles from the city of Rome, she could see the small scale their operating on in this era, but this early Roman Army of militia and so have a citizen.

35:16

Contingent as well meet this army of huge tall extremely scary barbarians.

35:25

We are told it takes little time.

35:28

Before they are fleeing.

35:30

In abject terror.

35:34

Leaving seems to say pretty openly that he thinks the commander of the Romans at this battle with incompetent.

35:42

He makes the Celtic commander out to be pretty darn good.

35:48

No one knows how many people died, but this battle. The will be called the Battle of the Alia or the Battle of the River.

35:56

No one knows how many people fought there, either in there are all kinds of different.

36:02

The little ones are probably right, though, because in this time. Period. I know it's hard to imagine this, but Rome is its true city state.

36:09

Probably only controls in maybe 30 miles around the city somewhere in that area means this is a really small scale very early version of Rome. They probably didn't have too many soldiers to defend them. The problem is, is regardless of how many of those soldiers, they were.

36:24

They weren't there anymore. After that battle which means Rome is totally undefended in a panic sets in the city were told.

36:33

People stream out of it in the religious artifacts are evacuated in these terrible choices. We are told her made in this remind you of the list of what you would be prepared to die for we are told by residents in the city where the fighting men are going to be separated from the useless mouths, including women and young people in old people, you know to be the one to defend the Center City.

36:57

This is the story of impending doom.

37:02

My favorite piece of living. Maybe in its entirety that was what happens when the Gauls. The Celtic people, the army. The First Army that the Roman supposedly heading counter. These alien northern shows up outside the gates of Rome.

37:18

And there open.

37:21

He seems both deserted.

37:23

37:27

I'm leaving paints a picture of a scene, it's like something out of the Twilight zone. You have these may be superstitious natives like I said they are often portrayed very similarly to how you would see you know the Native Americans are African tribesmen's somehow extremely superstitious him. Both Savage and skittish and unpredictable and childlike in mean it seems interesting stereo types.

37:53

But here's the story that Livy paints and it involves the great old men of Rome from another time, the ancient ones were still around with would longbeards is he says after the fashion of their day.

38:07

There neither useless mouths nor able to fight in the Citadel, so they decide living says that there going to set an example by simply sacrificing their lives in the hopes that somehow maybe help things with the gods or whatnot. He says they these generals from the past 2 celebrated triumphs along time ago and the senators in August. People who are now the elders in society put on their most elaborate and decorated robes of higher office.

38:36

Went to their homes in the party section of Rome and sat in their shares of high office. Their ivory chairs and waited like silence statues for death to find them.

38:49

You should leave it describes the couch coming into the city of Rome and it's like a ghost town with the gates open and they don't know what to do in. They freak out a little bit and then incident happens, it's while.

39:02

That touches off the forest fire of garlic impetuosity this by the way from the Aubrieta Selincourt translation. Here's what living right quote.

39:12

Me not having passed without action the Gauls found their last for fighting much abated had no time. They met with any serious resistance and there was no need now to take this city by assault with therefore they entered on the following day. It was kulien Kumlien of the Colleen Gate was open and they made their way to the forum looking with Curiosity at the Templeton at the Citadel. The only place to give an impression of the city at war. They left it reasonably strong guard in case of attack from the fortified Heights and then dispersed in search of Plunder. Finding the streets. Empty crowds of the broken to the first house is they came to others went farther afield. Presuming supposedly the buildings more remote from the forum would offer Richard Prizes, but they are very silence and solitude made the money.

40:01

Easy separated as they were from their companions and suggested the possibility of a trap so they soon returned keep in close together to the neighborhood of the 4 AM here they found the humbler house is locked and barred but the mentions of the nobility. Open the former they were ready to break into it was a long time before they could bring himself to enter the latter something akin to all hell. The back at what Mr. Gays. Those figures seated in the open court yards. The roads and decorations. August beyond reckoning. The majesty expressed in those grave com. I like the majesty of God's they might've been statues in some holy place in for awhile. The Garlic Warrior Student Ranst. Then, on impulse one of them touched the beard of a certain markets Papirius.

40:51

It was long as was the fashion of those days and the Roman Struckum on the head with his ivory staff that was the beginning. The Barbarian flamed into anger and killed him in the others were butchered where they sacked from that moment. No mercy wish own houses were ransacked in the empty shells set on fire.

41:10

End quote.

41:13

Weather in at that happen that's a pretty cool and interesting seeing any romantic and Super Roman Patriot like living probably saw that way too.

41:22

Nonetheless, who knows what sources he was working from.

41:26

As the story goes on. Basically, the golf sack, Rome set fire to a bunch of it and start this siejka they can't take the fortify the Citadel in the middle.

41:36

The sources differ on what happens next boat, but the the famous story is that a siege develops the both sides. Wanna call the see Josh to come to an agreement 1000 pounds of gold right at the Romans will pay 1000 pounds of gold. The golf will leave and then is there waiting. The gold out one of the Romans famously complains that the way to the doctor with the golsar falsifying the way to their advantage. And the King of this tribe.

42:05

Walks up to the scale take his big heavy sword throws it on the Gulf side of the scale and says.

42:12

Walter the vanquished.

42:15

Meaning what are you gonna do if the weights are loaded in our favor you last pay up?

42:25

Now is reading a fantastic book on early Rome called Warren Society in early Rome.

42:30

By Jeremy Armstrong.

42:32

When he floats an idea that lot of others and floated to the idea that basically it's this conquering in sacking of the city of Rome in 1000 years, almost before the next time that they will do it.

42:46

That will create the Rome. We all know what's that line from the Batman series with the Joker says to him, you made me it's the same thing. You said with this world to the vanquish line that living throws in right. It's almost like the Romans. Hundreds of years later, saying Hey. You set the rules. So we playing by tomorrow to the bank with this isn't jennicide were doing in Celtic land with Julius Caesar conquers. All these tribes. This is playing by the rules that you set up when you first conquered I you made me.

43:16

I know I'm strong points out that the actual sacking of Rome may not have been too terrible because the archaeological evidence doesn't seem to support some.

43:25

You know terrible Carthaginians solution type.

43:28

Burning to the ground are anything.

43:31

For the Romans that probably wasn't the problem.

43:35

It was probably a lot more with a lot of the writers write about the Romans quite a bit point out that they have this.

43:43

Inability to accept defeat and humiliation and whereas most people probably would write something off and move along with their lives. The Romans faster in focus on things and remember old slice and wounds.

43:57

And the psychological seeds for that, if not planted may have been heavily watered as a result of Roman experience after losing to supposedly this first. Celticare me, they ever fought the Battle of the Iliad and then seeing their cities stacked by them.

44:13

By the way I should point out because I think it's cool that the old idea that this is a tribe of Celtic. People that have shown up the sack Rome is challenged by a lot of historians and there's people on both sides to suggest that the evidence shows that this may have been a group of hired mercenaries instead.

44:31

It's been hired by a ruler on the modern day.

44:35

Island of Sicily to fight with him.

44:38

In that room was just on the way and what the heck will sackett pick up a couple extra bucks to eat on the way you know why we're doing, it, so this idea that what we have here is a tribe may be wrong and its kind of important because when Caesars Congrega. Hundreds of years later don't be talking about. Yeah, that's right over there. Those are the ones that act our country, 340 years.

45 minutes

45:02

What's wrong with have long memories?

45:05

Unfortunately, not just for the couch, but for everyone and it's worth pointing out that you know. In 390 win this battle happens that the Celtic peoples of Europe are very powerful.

45:14

And there, all over the place and who they are is a great question Once Upon a time when it was easy to classify these things in ways that sounded easy to understand but now seem totally ridiculous. They were a race.

45:27

Kelc were a race like Anglo Saxons were race, writing all these you divide the world into the different racial group.

45:34

The people black people and white be having 100 years ago, you open the history book and that's how they do it.

45:41

As the complexities mounted and that whole way of looking at things went out of fashion 50 years ago, 40 years ago. The counter and ethnic group or people.

45:50

That's how I grew up reading Michael grain to like everyone else can see you later. Most of the time it is Celtic. People were probably all related by blood. Those people that sacked Rome and 390 BCE are the ancestors of the people in Ireland in 500 years later or today.

46:09

Nowadays, that's a pretty tough argument to make giving the way it's seen amongst most of the actress and I don't need to speak for them because their mean this calc study stuff is fascinatingly debatable and the passion with which the experts go out of this fun to watch from the sidelines but it would have to be really careful in there are a lot of people out there who are very passionate about their view of who account is and who is not a kilt.

46:35

I love the way I Bury Conliffe. We mentioned earlier. I'll put it because it gets me out of all kinds of trouble to say it the way he said it, he said account is a person who believes him or herself to be Celtic.

46:49

I thought of AT shirt that I should market. I'm gonna make it green of course I'm gonna say.

46:55

Celtic it's not a nationality, it's a way of life.

46:59

What's the point is the same? The modern view of a lot of the experts on this and then there are archaeologist Linguis Historyczny. They all kinda look at this and different it will be looking at here as a culture a shared culture in similar language maybe.

47:13

Like Blue Jeans, you don't rock and roll in beer drinking. I mean, it's something that spread so have been pre history to bunch of different peoples.

47:22

The foundation of which might have been in place since the last Ice Age. If you think about it and then overtime succeeding waves of people and immigrants in Marion. All that adds layers of spice to the original but when they do DNA test. Today it's hard to not find lots of people who have been there since. Lots of DNA strands of them in there for very long time. Much earlier than that Celticare in history. In fact, maybe you could look at the entire Celtic period in ancient history in Europe.

47:51

As a fashion era right there a Bell bottoms in Europe. I mean, this is an area where a certain culture dominated.

47:59

If you go 3000 years before it's not there.

48:03

And after Caesar's Mortale Woon did.

48:07

Truthfully, even if Caesar is the one you could say Mortale Woon's the Celtic culture.

48:12

The wrong sub in like Kryptonite to this culture for a couple 100 years before Caesar.

48:18

Maybe look at a map of where Celtic culture, predominating the time that story happened. We just told you the sack of Rome in 390 BCE, and where it is, after Caesar does with Cesar does.

48:29

48:30

Some kind of terrible ethnic cleansing in the the Celtic culture stretch. All the way from Portugal on one side well. I was gonna say to the to the Balkans. But truthfully there was a try bring group of tribes that that went all the way into modern day Turkey. They were called the Galatians and your they're famous because a couple 100 years after they settle down and go from a one or a 2 on the Dan Carlin tribal scale. There up to 9 are 10 in Saint Paul will be writing his famous letter to the Galatians.

49:02

They have found Celtic cultural remains up as far North as light pole and all around the Hungarian playing southern Germany. Modern Austria, all the way into northern Italy, which is a real Celtic country for awhile and then of course, all of modern de France and whether or not the British Isles in Ireland should fall into this anybody's guess.

49:22

Lot of people argue and let's remember before you send me an angry letter account is a person who believes him. Or herself to be Celtic right, but my get out of jail free card.

49:32

I love the way.

49:34

Media doors, though Diadora Siculus describe the celts by the way most of these accounts come from the same guy supposedly the eyewitness accounts.

49:44

Of a person who is an expert in many different subject. One of the great figures of the ancient world who is raining have not come down to us posted on yes.

49:53

But we don't have his exact work. We have is whatever he wrote down and put into the local libraries. Everybody else used so we have his eyewitness accounts as told through bunch of other different people. For example, Diadora Siculus, who says of these. Celtic people describing an ancient culture, something National Geographic. Today would certainly be cataloguing all the Times that you posted.

50 minutes

50:17

Geographic Explorer of his day and through Budore Siculus. We here supposedly with posted in your son when he visited kelz.

50:25

Do you know it's right quote?

50:28

The goals are tall of body with rippling muscles in white of skin and their hair is blonde and not only naturally so but they also make it there practice by artificial means to increase the distinguishing color, which nature is giving it for their always washing their hair in limewater and they pull it back from the 4 head to the top of the head and back to the nape of the neck with a result of their appearances like that of seders and pans since the treatment of their hair makes it so heavy in course. The difference in no respect from the main of horses, some of them shave their beard. But others let it grow a little and Noble shave their cheeks, but they let the mustache grow until it covers the mouth and quote.

51:12

If you haven't looked at the wonderful art. Pergamene are that includes disfigure called the dying. Gaul go take a look at it coz. It's beautiful, but it describes order may be a stereo type of maybe not. The classic look at these people. The Warriors anyway. It's just described by did Doris.

51:29

They look like.

51:31

Punk rockers, first of all with the haircut and you have to imagine the bleach, blonde hair that he just described there coz that's with the limewater would've done with bleached it like bleach, blonde hair and if you ever had like I have before the bleach blonde hair gets all horsmann like after awhile so this figure in the artist sitting there with my wounds and its side. And remember its statue. Stone colors are you have no college but you can see the blood dripping down. He's holding his wounds, the broken. I think it's broken store by his side and he's also got a mustache, though, that's not very punk in the time with.

52:01

Haircut the mustache in the build is interesting because you know the difference between the modern weight, lifting muscles today and the life natural muscles. But he's muscular, but also sort of seen you in along and there was actually the ancient sources say that at least in the period were talking about the A lot of these Celtic tribes have rules and they would find Warriors if your belly droved over your belt line so they were required to be in shape supposedly.

52:30

This guy is Heroicly Newdes, it's called.

52:34

It's hard to figure out the room is like portraying Barbarians Heroicly, new but they sometimes like to train themselves are ugly nude.

52:41

It's hard to figure out what the convention what's real and this may have had religious overtones are other things going on in the last some historical evidence to back up the heroically new concept.

52:53

But there are multiple incidents that talk about Celtic Warriors, especially select groups of Celtic warrior, stripping off all their clothes and fighting absolutely nude except for a gold torque around the neck, which is just like a giant armlider anklet are something, I guess you would describe it. So he's got no clothes on you get the punk hair cut. He's got the mustache. It looks about 6 foot 5 about 200 pounds of muscle and you know naked with the talk around his neck.

53:22

I'm sorry visually it's striking and cool and if not naked. Then you get those wonderful. Celtic fashions right supposedly the striped clothing that checked clothing. We were called today, the plaid clothing.

53:36

They are wonderfully colorful.

53:38

Interesting cool people add to that the women. See you at the Celtic women once again. We get absolutely shafted by the fact that these keltz did not leave a historical written record that we could get their views on things and then he started this crap and try to find any little piece that might help us to understand the person that would be better in their own words supposed to.

54:00

54:01

Who are often despised am certainly belittle them?

54:05

But I really thought for example, in the Mediterranean, the Celtic women were beautiful.

54:10

But I guess you could say maybe the way that you describe them. Today is their attitudes were that they were also upadhi and someone ferocious memory. I think sometimes in the descriptions. It reminds me of the old stereo type, and it's an old one now. The House wife in the henpecked husband in the house wife was kind of Burlion had a rolling pin in there hand would smack the husband upside the head, sometimes with it, um.

54:33

Among some of the people out there that are so did that the people that think of the couches are the new age kind of thing that there's a of you out there that women were equal to men in the societies berikon live among others, said that thing misperception.

54:47

Because there only more free than women in the Mediterranean are for example, Greek and Roman women by comparison.

54:54

So maybe a bit Uppity by Greek and Roman standards. But as conliffe points out the husband still has the power of life and death overs wife. The law in most of these places allow the wife to be tortured to find out how husband died, so not exactly equal rights, but maybe a bit uppity. Bye.

55 minutes

55:12

Mediterranean standards, I will say that the ancient sources talk about these women is every bit as tall and strong and athletic is the men they talk about a society where there's more sexual freedom and these women have more freedom to be with the Greeks and Romans would consider to be promiscuous.

55:32

Certainly, there are famous Celtic Women Warriors. Maybe the most famous ever. The Warrior Queen build a call from the British tribes.

55:42

Remember, these stories may not be true but they're playing to an audience and they are stereotypes.

55:49

So if I told you this story about a particular Celtic Woman and you heard it and you said something like yeah. That sounds like with these Celtic women are like be careful don't marry account.

56:01

When are you going that's a stereotype one wonders? How much of that is true but that's the image?

56:06

And by the way you think of a fiery Irish redhead today in the stereo types. It mean when I grow up. This is Maureen O'hara in the quiet man just give her a bow and arrow in an axle right maybe rolling pin and stay out of her way.

56:22

Probably kick the hell out of you.

56:24

One of my favourite stories about Celtic women.

56:27

Is the one about?

56:29

She tomorrow Kiumars probably closer to the right way to pronounce it.

56:35

She was a noblewoman not a queen are anything but noblewoman of a glaceon tribe and when her try was conquered by the Roman she became a prisoner and here's the way did Doris tell the story of Kemara and her husband or tired gone.

56:52

And I'm welding, the end message is clear right first of all the audience would listen to this and Go Yep. That sounds like a Celtic Woman. The main the second. One is on they are not to be trifled with obviously.

57:04

Did Doris rights?

57:06

This by the way these CH oldfather translation.

57:10

Quote.

57:11

Kilmar of the wife of work tired gone, with captured along with the other galation women win the Romans under Gonna ask, Manliest conquered the Asiatic Elations. The Centurion responsible for her took advantage of his soldierly power and raped her. This man was an ignorant piece to love. Both pleasure and money, but in the end his love of money. One out with a large ransom, having been agreed upon he let her to a certain River across from agents of her own people. The Galatians crossed over and gave him the money, but after they did so he?

57:46

Egnal dentist right down the Centurion if he was making a friendly farewell. One of her countrymen obeyed and cut off his head. She took the head wrapped it in her cloak and went home when she returned to her husband. She threw the head down at his feet, or Tiagong was amazed and said my wife. It is important to deal on Ribley Yes, she said. But it is more important than only one man who slept with me should remain alive.

58:14

And quote.

58:17

Dang.

58:18

Is Celtic Woman our fears?

58:24

The sack of Rome by the Celtic peoples is 300 more than 300 years before that time period.

58:30

This story is about to take place in a lot has changed.

58:36

Many of the Celtic groups in other parts of Europe been.

58:39

Pacify might be the way Caesar would put it.

58:43

Broader Roman control their ability to break out and cause destruction nearby communities curtailed because if you look at the history of the couch right. After that battle of the Alioua Rhombeus Act that sort of their debut on the historical stage.

59:00

I like the way HG wells, but he says that the northern people came down into the light of history for the first time with the couch.

59:10

Peter Barrasford, Alice, but this week is the couch with the first European people North of the Alps to merge into recorded history, OK, but that emergency comes at the head of armies in those arms broken the various parts of Europe in cause widescale problems for centuries.

In 275, they went down there smashed into Greece and cause all kinds of problems.

The Romans with fight them over and over and over again in various places winning most losing some.

59:42

They would be a big battle that crushed Celtic power whole region called the Battle of Teleman. In 225 BCE and that one. The famous account say that the problem. The couch was that they got trapped between 2 Roman armies. Coming from different directions and the highlight of the battle. If you like these sorts of things is the celticare me supposedly if you believe the ancient sources turning back to back so they could face both armies attacking them at the same time for roeschley falling.

60 minutes

1:00:13

Basically, you know almost wiped out.

1:00:17

Then when Hannibal in his carthaginians happening all these great wars for survival unity, ancient version of World War 2 breaks out.

1:00:25

Of course, being the world Famous Punic Wars of which there were 3.

1:00:30

The Celtic people for the most part, but not exclusively that are anywhere near by side with Hannibal and look at it is a good way to get back at those Romans.

1:00:39

Which just makes them seem more dangerous treacherous and unreliable to the Romans?

1:00:44

After Hannibal's invasion of Italy is beating back you get 100 years of Roman conflict with various Celtic peoples.

1:00:53

They will play the lead role, but not necessarily the only one in eliminate the Galatian Freedom in Asia Minor in that area in the Balkans also.

1:01:06

Although the Galatians, said made a lot of enemies and the Romans had plenty of help.

1:01:11

Most famously from one of the Kings fighting the Galatians where he invited the entire Galatian leadership supposedly anyway. This is the story. Invite the Galatian leadership to dinner and then massacre is the meal while they're eating.

1:01:24

That's a good way to devastate the command and control of your enemies.

1:01:31

The Celtic peoples in northern Italy are defeated in those or by the Romans.

1:01:35

And that every will become so Roman so quickly that start calling back to Gaulish Ingall.

1:01:42

The Romans will be forced basically that's how they would look at it to conquer a nice chunk of the South of France from the Celtic people there.

1:01:52

Because it controls access road access to Spain in the have to get to Spain now because after the Second Punic War, there left there with a lot of really ferocious tribes of several different cultures by the way summer Celtic. But some are some are supposedly a mix and what do you get when you cross a Celt with an Iberian a Celtiberian?

1:02:16

Celtiberian.

1:02:18

Nonetheless.

1:02:19

The Romans will get involved in the war, there that one might compared to a 200 year long Vietnam War.

1:02:27

Rylla fighting atrocities wholesale massacres and the disillusionment are some in Rome to this ongoing.

1:02:37

Commitment that they had signed up for that was just draining them.

1:02:43

In about a year 115 BCE, which is about 15 years before Julius Caesar's birth.

1:02:50

Some tribes appear.

1:02:53

From the North seemingly out of nowhere.

1:02:58

Their origins are not under.

1:03:00

Dude, even today by the way.

1:03:03

But their numbers are reportedly outrageously large.

1:03:08

Once again we could filter out all of the exaggerations of happened at the time and since and still come to what we must respect is a larger than normal numbers and since one of the main things that's pointed out continually.

1:03:23

Arguments persist on whether not these people should be called Germanic or Celtic or a mix of the 2 because.

1:03:32

A lot of times where?

1:03:34

Different early European cultures come together there's like a cultural estuary between them with a mix. We are you talking bout Celtiberians or Celtiberians.

1:03:45

You could have killed or Germans Kaldau Thracians.

1:03:50

Very kind of just one of those people that keeps trying to point out 2 things about talking about Celtic people one.

1:03:55

They are different all over the place Celtic peoples existing in once now. You know the modern day area around the Adriatic or not necessarily going to be very much like the ones.

1:04:06

Near Modern Day, Portugal.

1:04:08

Wake up there all kind of Celtic with local variations and also that time is a lapse in this idea that barbarians so called Barbarians are stuck in neutral in terms of civilizational or political organizational.

1:04:23

Development is wrong to they are all in different spots on the scale and all evolving and changing at different speeds.

1:04:31

Some of it based on how to she watching more sophisticated civilizations.

1:04:36

In this case.

1:04:37

These people that come down about 1:15 BCER always order portrayed as a one on the Dan Carlin tribal scale.

1:04:47

In the most barbarian of the barbarian types and there's hundreds of thousands of them.

1:04:52

Now, if you think about this as a national security problem. The Romans is interesting because even today.

1:04:59

If you could somehow sneak let's just play with 200,000 miles around number 200,000. Hostel people right on the border of United States of that when we wake up one morning there, they are.

65 minutes

1:05:13

Were there there in a very short period of time that would still be a major crisis today?

1:05:20

If that's how many people were talking about in this earlier era.

1:05:24

I don't know how they fed them, but you could certainly see how you would have a situation on your hands with the first thing you thought of is where did these people come from the second thing you thought it was? What are we gonna do about them in the first thing you thought it was? How do we prevent this from happening again if we don't know what to the North of us right with we chongren everything next to us, but we had a buffer zone and then these people from the north and we didn't even know about coming in smash right through our bufferzone and threaten Rome itself.

1:05:54

Between the years 1:15 in about 100 BCE dies.

1:06:00

Teutons.

1:06:01

And Kembri and related tribes is there called?

1:06:06

Destroy Roman Army after Roman army. I think the final grand total something like 4 Roman armies.

1:06:13

They scare the heck out of everybody.

1:06:15

They March around seemingly going with a want to go and doing what they wanna do writing here in there in the Roman territory. Outta room and territory go to Spain for couple years head on back to Italy.

Finally, desperation, the Romans.

1:06:30

Yeah, put this guy in command who just finished mopping up guerrilla warfare problems. In what's now in North Africa. Famous person in the entire Roman story, Namchi is Marius Marijas.

1:06:43

Minus by the way is the uncle by marriage of Julius Caesar. He's a major player in the final stages of the death throes of the Roman Republic that begin to accelerating pick up speed with his appearance on the scene.

1:07:00

One of the things that Marie is famously does before he fights. These people that already destroyed for Roman army is is change the Roman army.

1:07:10

Well, the benchmark in Roman military history, something called the maren reforms.

1:07:14

Not to be fair, I've seen some writings out there and some thinking that.

1:07:18

Other guy gets way too much credit for this for what he did because what he did these people would say.

1:07:24

Was simply katav I informally institutionalise practice? Is the Romans been doing?

1:07:30

On an ad hoc basis improvisationally for decades.

1:07:35

Filling needs they came up any way they could and I'm already so basically saying I get those things were doing that to fill those needs. Let's just make that how we do it.

1:07:45

Nonetheless, I'd say, most people still give guys Marisat end of credit for.

1:07:50

Taking the Roman the late Roman Republican Army and let's be honest and call it what it is turning it in the Roman the first Roman Imperial Army.

1:08:00

Because it has imperial problems.

1:08:02

And trying to deal with imperial problems with the Republican Army has been killing it now for some time and damaging society 2 in spin-off ways.

1:08:13

Mary's opens at the Legion State. Everybody is no longer based on how much land, you own a farm your wealth anything like that, and these people don't go home. They professional's it's a permanent army.

1:08:27

Now, what this does is completely change the institutional memory of the force is this is something most people don't think about what I mean, this thing you lose the most when you send the citizen army back home, coz the war is over is so much of what you learn.

1:08:43

In the cohesion that you gain from training together me how much math is your kid for get over the school summer right that magnifi that.

1:08:51

Times, 1000, I mean?

1:08:52

By keeping an army together all the time building experience as units.

1:08:59

Drilling continually in, not stopping you are building capability and institutional, memory, so that 5 years from now your cohort is going to be that much better.

1:09:12

Is Roman armies are huge leap forward in terms of effectiveness? What they could do in the field and how much they outclassed the competition.

1:09:23

He then took this new Model Army out and preceded to butcher over the course of a couple years.

1:09:31

Both those tribes and their subsidiary friends that they brought with them.

1:09:37

The Butchery is supposed to be intense after all. If you have these massive numbers of people, which made these people so but take your Li dangerous to begin with? What happens to all of them if you don't kill him.

Balum Romanum right or the way the Romans did it against people they considered to be barbarian.

1:09:58

I read one story that said that some of the survivors of one of these battles were more than 100 1000 were supposed to been left it on the battlefield. They ran to a nearby Celtic tribe are sanctuary in the Romans Pursuited told to kill to turn him over when the couch turn them over. They put him on the spot.

70 minutes

1:10:15

After one of these battle supposedly the peace terms for some of the people that were left over with that 300 of their married wives had to be sold. The Romans is slavery in the famous story. The why is reportedly strangled each other to avoid that fate?

1:10:31

Now that I'm the Type Marys, destroying these dramatic or Celtic or Celtic Germanic tribes people.

1:10:39

Caesars being born.

1:10:42

That's the time frame here, so that by the time is Cesar is an adult mature man.

1:10:48

Trying to argue about you know what you do about this problem. We have with barbarians North of us. He's able as are many other generals and politicians to make use of this deep seated fear that the Romans have about a potential vasion from the North one that goes all the way back to the sack of Rome in 390.

1:11:07

Here's the ways to Reineke fields.

1:11:10

Explains what the memory of the Cimbrian. The 2 tone invasioni generation before meant to somebody trying to exploit fears.

1:11:20

In the romov the 50s BCE, he writes quote.

1:11:24

The vivid memory of the near disaster remain, however, and served as a frightening reminder to roam the new northern barbarian threat could suddenly emergente. Anytime barbarian migrations with the stuff of Roman nightmares and Caesar made good use of it by playing up the quote and quote Germanic Menace in his writings more to the point he writes. He also had to wait to revive fears of the Gauls. The dated from the sack of Rome in 390 BCE, and advertise them as a race without civilization who are not above burn.

1:12:00

Live their prisoners of war.

1:12:03

And quote.

1:12:05

Selena fact.

1:12:06

The near disaster against these tribes people that were sprung on the Romans unexpectedly.

1:12:14

Was too deep and wide and and reopen a scar that? Maybe. You could say I've been?

1:12:21

A piece of the Roman psychological reality since at least 390 BCE, and you know as early Roman writers kind of said.

1:12:30

There's a belief that Rome sort of.

1:12:34

Conquered an empire in self defense. I think it was living there recently through the version of that line out there conquering the world in self defense.

1:12:42

What is other just trying to point out that rent one that he got a great line he pointed out that look room is looking for secure borders and security in the problem is that every time they conquer a new unstable region and pacify it thinking that OK now we're safe over there. They ended verton. Lee create a new frontier. Whatever the Kingdom. They just conquered you know, whatever their neighbor was not rooms neighbor and it's another unstable frontier so they keep getting sucked farther away from the center, as they continually try to make sure that there safe.

1:13:14

Not sure I buy that there's a whole lot of wealth and money and all kinds of other things involved here, um that explain things at least as well as the idea that we're just trying to be safe. But if I were a Super Roman Patriot likely V.

1:13:28

Maybe that's how I would defend the conquest of the world by subway just trying to be safe anybody do it.

1:13:35

The biggest threat to Rome.

1:13:37

In the 50s when Cesar is a mature man.

1:13:41

Playing his role in the decline and fall of the Roman Republic.

1:13:45

The biggest danger, Rome is no outside force it's inside.

1:13:51

It's tearing itself apart in reaching the boiling point in the story that is well known.

1:13:57

An impact this story only obliquely.

1:14:02

But if you believe Cesarine by the way there some confirmation from Cicero and some other places.

1:14:07

Romstad the only place reaching the political boiling point with instability looming.

1:14:14

Apparently goals in terrible shape that way as well.

1:14:17

In 6362 or 61 BCE.

1:14:23

A member of one of the more powerful influential Golik Tribsa try which by the way is a friend of the Roman people. That's their diplomatic designations of the kinda like allies shows up to inform the Roman Senate about something that's been going on deeply in the heartland of his territory.

1:14:42

Because the Romans don't know we know they know what's going on nearby golbat. Sometimes you get to the barbarian heartland. They find out when people tell him and that's with this guy is there to do.

1:14:52

His name is Vikas.

1:14:55

Then he is we are told.

1:14:57

About the closest thing I'm ever going to find any historical situation.

75 minutes

1:15:04

2 King Arthur's Merlin.

1:15:08

We are told.

1:15:10

The fictitious is a drew it.

1:15:14

And that he can see the future.

1:15:18

No little side note here.

1:15:21

The Druids are one of the wonderfully famous.

1:15:25

Very compelling sides of the whole Celtic culture.

1:15:30

It's connected to the religious side and they have been called all sorts of things.

1:15:36

Generally thought of to be the priests of the Celtic religion, but so many other titles in.

1:15:43

Positions are mentioned in on the good side, the admiral side, the civilize side you hear them called teachers.

1:15:51

Supposedly were not allowed to write down druidic knowledge and so it was 20 years of study for an acolyte to become a druid.

1:16:01

There, a little.

1:16:02

Like Golf Lasseters 2 and as a matter fact.

1:16:05

Disero.

1:16:06

I think he calls him a philosopher philosophy. There was something is often attributed to that this is Celtic philosophy.

1:16:13

They are also called judges that for example, if you ever murder trial are something going on, you'll take it to draw it for adjudication.

1:16:21

Most of the modern archeologists and people like that that I've read seem to think it's a pretty good bet. The Druids are so did the intellectual class of golf you will.

1:16:32

Study things like astronomy.

1:16:35

Herblore.

1:16:37

They make me the oral traditionalist in historians of their people.

1:16:43

I've heard them called natural scientist before and the magic that there supposed to use if it if indeed magic. It is it's sort of nature magic if you will.

1:16:54

There, like Gandalf.

1:16:56

Or Dumbledore but it's all nature magic.

1:17:02

Caesar in Cicero in the people who do mention Druids seem to have quite a lot of respect for them.

There is of course. Also, the more lurid. Um side of it where it's more akin to Shamana Medicine man in maybe even witchdoctors when you get to that stage.

1:17:19

They are supposedly the kind of people that if not conducting it or supposed to be there for legal reasons.

1:17:26

Human sacrifices that the counter supposed to Pratis Abating or at least once did unclear whether not buy. Caesars time they still do much of that all those teasers. The one that mentions the Wicker man himself.

1:17:39

Even if that would happen to the one where they build the giant hollosi through Wicker figure.

1:17:45

Nothing I just don't like 20 feet, 30 feet tall, wicker, but with holes in it. So you can see inside. They fill it with people. Cesar says they prefer criminals and convict but not picky if they run out of those, and then maybe throw in some other live animals. Somjai another combustibles in like the whole thing on fire.

1:18:04

Supposedly the

1:18:07

Nothing you hear blamed on the druids or the class right below them is a certain form of divination were you stab somebody and then you look at the convulsions is there dying and.

1:18:18

That explains what's going on?

1:18:20

The funny thing about the ancient world.

1:18:23

Is that the Romans considering stuff these barbarian superstitions and all that kinda stuff in this so called superior culture looking down on the child like superstitious natives, but then the same time make sure to point out that listen. If you ever need a flock of birds analyze for what the movements of the flock of birds means and then how that foretell the future. The couch with Mr. the business that.

They were showing you that one person superstitions, another person magic and vice versa.

1:18:53

I remember getting a great piece of advice for my professors once and how to see the ancient world differently.

1:19:00

'cause we were talking about something he said. What about the impact of magic.

1:19:04

And it was long pauses my brain trying to figure out the proper answer that they said. Well, there's no such thing as magic and he says. I know that and you know that, but the people in this story didn't know that and they believed otherwise in because they believe these things to be real and true, it impacts reality coz they act upon those bullies.

1:19:24

Give me a call to the Tinker Bell Affecter, something but the idea was similar that because you believe in this as reality. Ubash your moves and and how you behave on that and if that changes real history.

1:19:38

Nonetheless, this guy did fictitious was there to expand the Romans that a terrible battle have the courage in the deep dark barbarian country.

1:19:48

There must be thousands upon thousands of these battles right history. Don't you think these ones that happened, it worked. Great Deedrah performed an amazing things are kherbet that happened in the deep darkness of pre history. Somewhere between tribal people. You don't know anything about it unless somehow they come to light.

80 minutes

1:20:04

Well, there's this battle that you can look up now that exist. It's real cold. The Battle of Marston over guy.

1:20:10

But you know about it because this guy deustuit showed up to explain the Romans that his people lost that battle.

1:20:17

It was against one of their traditional Celtic enemies in the game with think of Native American tribes were they were just tribes that were longstanding enemies of each other right.

1:20:27

Longstanding Crow and look old as a perfect example. Apache and Comanche mean it didn't matter what you did, they wouldn't live with it outside power to go against them rather than.

1:20:39

Unite with their historic enemies in this case.

1:20:41

It may have been a war that was over trade rights. I could charge tolls on this area, but riveraine something really been all like that. But in this battle, the Celtic tribe fighting. The Druid, who showed up in Rome's people running outside help.

1:20:58

They had solicited.

1:21:00

Assistance of some Germans were told certainly some of these tribes that Cesar called German well. Let's be honest. The Roman ethnographers or little bit, sloppy and sometimes they just Adderall Kelz.

1:21:13

Same as barbarians.

1:21:15

Nonetheless, this is the story right there Germansen, they come in and they tipped the scales in favor of this other tribe leading to Devica Chysis tried getting decimated on the battlefield. And if you believe him. The nobility massacred you lose basically your entire rest of credit.

1:21:32

Class in the stroke of a sword.

1:21:36

Or, a bunch of swords.

1:21:39

Basically, it is pleading for help from his allies. The Romans and pointing out that entire areas destabilize because these Germans came into help this Celtic tribe.

1:21:49

Decided that they don't wanna leave, they like it and go there gonna stay and.

1:21:53

That's causing a domino effect as they become the neighbors of all the Celtic people around them.

1:21:59

All of a sudden.

1:22:01

Call seems extremely destabilised and that could prove to be a very dangerous situation in Rome. It could also prove to be extremely profitable and a potential opportunity in fact.

1:22:13

There's a way of looking at this story in a lot of people do that. This is Julius Caesar's account of what's going on in golf and making it seem like a destabilize national security threat is something that works out in his favor, if he's trying to build a case for why he should go in and fix it all.

1:22:36

And as far as theories about why it's broken in the 1st place? Why are they having all this?

1:22:41

Destabilization will see your has a theory and even though it's impossible to prove.

1:22:47

It's one of those lenses that you can look at this whole thing through that's rather interesting but it brings up other questions.

1:22:54

I'd like to point out that the only reason I'm qualified to discuss this is because I don't have a reputation as a historian to protect every now and then.

1:23:03

Nothing historian works out in my favor does not.

1:23:06

In this case, it allows me to examine.

1:23:09

Things that used to be valid theories. Once Upon a time until they required things like you know supporting evidence for for Valentines Once Upon a time.

1:23:18

That's easier said than done, and without something that makes me think he's a liar. I'm gonna believe it. If you do that. Here's how you can explain the instability in golf, but remember this guy has a vested interest in convincing you.

1:23:33

The gall needs his help.

1:23:37

But the way this story is told by cesarano other earlier historians.

1:23:42

Is that the reason the keltor having some problems in that that whole area vgal most of which is still outside of Roman control is having problems.

1:23:51

Is because slowly but surely do to the infusion of una Roman and Greek and Mediterranean luxuries and culture and whatever these cows are getting for lack of a better word.

1:24:04

Soft.

1:24:07

Caesar by the way points, 2 wine more than once is the leading softening agent involved here and actually says that some tribes. Prohibiti importation of Italian wine for just that reason that is known to take the edge off.

1:24:24

The couch were saddled with the same.

1:24:27

Reputation as drunkards that you often see associated with other tribal peoples. Native Americans for example of had to live with that stereotype forever.

1:24:37

Our friend Diadora Siculus said this about them, this by the way the CH oldfather translation of the work.

1:24:45

Quote.

1:24:47

The girls are crazy for wine and consume unwatered amazing amount imported by merchants. There unrestrained consumption often leads to fall into a drunken stupor or sinking tomorrow. Still fresh and therefore many Italian merchants. Siegall is the land of opportunity for quick riches. These traders bring the wine by boat on the rivers and my wagons through the planes in return, they making amazing profit for they receive, the slave in return for each jar of wine they deliver.

85 minutes

1:25:18

And quote.

1:25:20

When I was growing up there was a widespread belief among Native American groups themselves that the importation of alcohol had done damage to the traditional culture.

1:25:31

It would not be surprising at all of that happened a month ago, as well.

1:25:37

In the case of wine specifically.

1:25:40

It's designed to take the edge off.

1:25:43

People drink it for that reason here's the problem would have that edge.

1:25:47

Is required to survive in the world?

1:25:51

That is.

1:25:52

Basically, Doggy Dogg in geopolitical terms.

1:25:56

If only the strong survives what, if you have your people.

1:26:01

Being impacted by your proximity to A.

1:26:05

Luxury filled culture nearby who is weakening, you in a way that will eventually cause you to lose everything to somebody.

1:26:16

What if you're taking the edge off?

1:26:19

And the ferocious tribes next to you aren't.

1:26:23

In this case, those tribes were called by the Romans that you got money.

1:26:27

Often translated to German today, but whether or not they are related to modern day. Germans is just contentious a discussion is whether not keltor related to modern day peoples in the regions where they used to be.

1:26:42

Do you Germans are portrayed?

1:26:44

As.

1:26:46

Like hyenas.

1:26:48

Ready to pounce on any weekend, Melinda geopolitical heard.

1:26:52

Therefore trade is Roth that tough.

1:26:56

Your nasty and they are interfering in the Celtic World in a way that threatens if you believe Caesars accounting courses were coming to Resar told from the point of view of Darth Vader and this is his excuse for getting involved in this whole thing is that the Germans are destabilizing the whole region. And this is what distro it comes to Rome to say, and he's asking for help in a couple of years.

1:27:21

Caesar comes to help.

1:27:24

And you wanna have that Star Wars music start playing the Allman is kind because.

1:27:30

Caesars going to stop the Warfar in the region.

1:27:34

But he's going to do it anyway that you could easily make it K should be called the Celtic all it cost.

1:27:43

Not the idea of any society, getting soft is impossible to quantify falls into that category. We discussed earlier, but human qualities that historiens have to steer clear of course, you can't make any soda case there's no data.

1:27:55

100 years ago, the wonderful professorial military historian had Stillbrook had no problem. Lang it out to you in a way that he treated this scientific you couldn't say this today, but it sets up this.

1:28:10

Have fun idea wanna throw out there is the full of history.

1:28:14

100 years ago, actually back in 1908. I think it was done. Brook road about this question of civilization versus barbarism in terms of the military pros and cons, he said quote.

When modern peoples, he means the people in his era 1908 coming to conflict with barbarians. The outcome is determined from the start by the differences in weapons technology in antiquity. This relationship is not so simple here. We may wonder he writes. In what manner the Roman military system with really superior to that of the barbarians beside the civilized people. Barbarians have the advantage of having at their disposal. The war like power of unbridled animal instincts of basic toughness civilization refined the human being, he writes, making him more sensitive and in doing so, it decreases his military worth not only his bottle is strength, but also his physical courage. These natural shortcomings must be offsetting some artificial way.

1:29:15

Scharnhorst, he writes was perhaps the first one to state that the main service of the standing army consisted of making civilized people through discipline capable of holding their own against the less civilized. If a given group of Romans, normally living as citizens are peasants had been put up against a group of barbarians of the same number, the former would have undoubtedly have been defeated. In fact, they probably would've taken flight without fighting. It was only the formation of the close knit tactical body of the cohort that equalize this situation.

1:29:48

And quote.

1:29:51

It's an old idea right that civilization allows you to compensate for what you lose when you give up that whole warrior.

90 minutes

1:30:00

Society thing.

1:30:03

Not remember the military trade off for losing this barbarian edge is supposed to be in the ability to control.

1:30:11

Troops with officers and instill drill an organization in the logistical ability to concentrate in a food and supplies and keep armies in the field all those wonderful benefits.

1:30:22

But what if you get hit.

1:30:25

You know when you've lost the Barbarian Edgepark With you haven't quite gain. The benefits of civilization yet? What do you get when you're in transition?

1:30:33

At the vulnerable point between the 2 kinds of approaches me. For example, if you ever heard would've been see is when your ship is being too to the see. It means a ship is getting hit broadside with the way so that's a really dangerous thing that happen. You wanna have your your nose pointed or your stern pointed but you don't wanna be sideways on the big waves. But if you have to turn around in the see the weed at danger .1 first, second your side on the waves. I wonder if one could make a case.

1:31:03

That somebody's Celtic tribes in golf.

1:31:06

Had been contacted by the Romans enough to be semi civilized, which delvar barbarian edge against their less civilized, neighbors.

1:31:17

Without yet providing the benefits that the more centralized urbanise state like systems have.

1:31:25

What's the couch got caught in the beans see?

1:31:30

And to be fair. This is not really my idea. My ideas and knock off of the very one seizures, proposing here too. We talking about the beam see idea in different terms.

1:31:42

The problem is if you're trying to defend this from historical viewpoint? How do you do it?

1:31:48

And there's no doubt it all that historians are 1000% right when they say that these are classic are occurring themes in ancient literature that the audience expected absolutely correct, but does that mean that you can automatically rule out all of them.

1:32:02

Is with Cesar says here so implausible and if so does Caesar know it.

1:32:08

Is he deliberately trying to lie to us or is he just misconstruing things because of his own biases from zonaro?

1:32:16

In any case, the beam see idea may not be quite originally mind. I'm just academically safonoff coz. I don't have any credentials all to be able to suggest that maybe there's more to it.

1:32:30

It is often.

1:32:31

Egg knowledge these days.

1:32:35

Caesarion is war, Commentaries explains several times that certain tribe used to be more firdan more tough now weren't in other words, implying that there is movement on the softness versus toughness scale.

1:32:52

What he doesn't really tell us because maybe it's common knowledge is how advanced some of these Golik tribes were including the one that this druid efficacious came from.

1:33:03

This is the weakest during a drink Goldsworthy explain sort of this system.

1:33:07

Ingall, which is hard to describe because it has so many different tribes and all these tribes are in different states of development. In fact, the most advanced of the maybe shouldn't be called tribes at all. That is gold with the explains what do you call him states or tribes? Neither one of those words is a good translation for the Latin that Caesar uses?

1:33:29

Is the week goes with the put the situation after explains the golf is essentially organized in tribe divided into clans but you could call some states quote.

1:33:39

The basic political unit was the clan and several of these usually made up a tribe and give the Latin word for both of them by the way and then he says that neither English word is entirely appropriate and some scholars would prefer state to tribe. But no one has really come up with anything better than says quote the importance of the tribe seems to have increased markedly in the century before Caesars arrival in golf and some scholars would like to see them is comparatively recent inventions more probably the changing political and economic climate. Ingall it simply giving new important to lose ties of kinship and ritual. They were very long established. Even so, he writes. The degree of unity between the clans of one tribe vary considerably, and they were number of cases during the garlic wars. We need to visual clans at.

1:34:28

Pendant Lee Kings here in some tribes and perhaps also with the clan level, but not in others, and the majority, meaning the majority of these groups seem to have been governed by councils or sentence with day today. Running of affairs being placed in the hands of elected magistrats rooms oldest ally, the do. We just wear this through it was from had a Supreme Magistrate called the burger brat? Who held office for a single year. No man could be elected twice to this post. Norkett any member of his family hold the office during his lifetime. That's preventing any individual or group from monopolizing power.

95 minutes

1:35:06

The similarity of this ideal to the Roman Republic system is striking and in many ways, the tribes of gall resembled the city states of the Mediterranean world. The perhaps an earlier stage of development.

1:35:19

End quote.

1:35:22

That's a really good concise way to explain that situation.

1:35:26

And there are books written about seizures book.

1:35:30

And more on this is second coz that's were gonna follow get into that describes his rationale for arguing about why we have to have this conflict against Aguls now and why it has to be pre emptive as opposed to waiting until they all attack us.

1:35:44

Any says it's because Caesar is making the argument that some of these tribes are becoming more like us.

1:35:51

We have to get him before they do coz they're going to then combined you know they?

1:35:56

War like

1:35:58

Irrationality that they have now in their spirit with greater capability, which by the way is a reason that some historians give for why the Germanic peoples. You know Fast forward to the fall of Rome will eventually be able to defeat the Roman legions that they will learn enough fighting the Romans. Overtime and develop enough of a state like system that they could truly be dangerous.

1:36:22

Android rigsbee his book cesarine golf in Rome. Warren words points out that Caesars argument in his book is it. We have to get the golf now before they do precisely that.

1:36:35

He says that in Caesars work and as part of the propaganda the people. He calls Galzin people. He calls German serve different purposes.

1:36:45

Rigsbee right quote.

1:36:47

In the same way the 2 northern groups are dangerous for complementary reasons. In the case of the Germans. The problem is there fluidity of people who do not recognize boundaries social or geographic cannot be trusted to stay in their own territory into not make war on the Romans with the gals the problem is not randomness. But I'm more specific tendency to wage war. They are prone to fighting both individually and collectively there temerity makes the money able to check violent impulses. Even when that would be the prudent course of action. Whatever the source of danger. The Romans will respond preemptively that Chapter 6 discuss is he writes. This is an important source of justification for military actions. Furthermore, the semi civilized goals provide a special kind of threat their similarity to the Romans.

1:37:36

Bros over the course of the work that they are not conquered now. The threat will only increase hence the pre emptive. Strike is required. Now the characterization of both peoples. He writes legitimises their conquest. The specific nature of the Gauls make him particularly attractive candidates.

1:37:54

And quote.

1:37:57

And why would Caesar want to conquer them. I yes.

1:38:01

That gets us to some of the problems that motivate this story that push it along with add the booster rockets to the whole thing because.

1:38:10

I mean, let's be honest? What's the likelihood that is wrong, becomes more powerful it doesn't absorb these tribal areas to their North?

1:38:18

That's like saying that you could expect somehow vietri dies in good faith and everything else. The 13 US colonies 2 just stayed over where they were on the Eastern Seaboard. In never advancing to the native territory.

1:38:32

That's a Woody if you can hardly even plausibly play with write me what's the likelihood? What's the likelihood that the Romans? Don't absorb betriebs to the north, and conquer that territory because the money that is available.

1:38:47

In land and let's not forget this coz it's huge slaves is so tempting and Caesars need is so great at this time.

1:38:56

But it's impossible to imagine that that giant pot of gold.

1:39:00

Today's goal wouldn't be taken by somebody in the attitude that is Romans had and it's part of something we discussed in another program.

1:39:07

This insane in yet wonderfully merit, based system will you call all your way to the top like it's a mafia crime family and only the strong survive had created by this time in Roman history.

1:39:22

A 3 headed monster that's with the Romans called it. We know what is the first triumvirate today and essentially what it is it's a conspiracy. One of the great conspiracies in all world history. It is Cesar and the other 2 most powerful man in Rome and their allies. Ascentia Lee against the rest of the Roman government and they are so powerful and they control, so many people and one of these guys in this 3 headed monster is the richest man in Roman he sprayed money everywhere in that makes a huge difference that by this time period as long as these 3 men. Caesar pompian crashes agree on something is gonna happen.

But all 3 men, one something so all 3 men support each man getting what they want.

100 minutes

1:40:05

What Cesar wants is a chance to conquer something?

1:40:09

He is the least grand this time, she read of those, 3 people.

1:40:14

He doesn't have a whole lot of military conquest to his record at his name yet and he owes so much money that one point were told he's not even allowed to leave Rome. The credit is basically grab it and it's either. You're paying up or you're not going anywhere in crashes. One of the members of the 3 headed monster. The rich guy comes in and pays off the death of Caesar can go and do what he needs to do.

1:40:34

Would you find away to get the money to pay off the debts?

1:40:38

And also to spread it around in Rome to make more friends. Because these politicians and that's with Cesar is there deadly politicians are politicians generals, but spreading money around Rome, throwing games, all kinds of other things, how you get your name out there and it's a large part of the reason why she's in such great day.

1:40:58

There's 2 ways of looking at the garlic situation at the time wanted to say, Oh, there's all that land and all those lays there for the taking the golf seem vulnerable in the Germans are coming in and doing it.

1:41:12

Any attitude being somebody's gonna get that it's gonna be us. The other way of looking at. It is that this whole idea of a German thread is part of a manufactured.

1:41:21

Plot.

1:41:23

A reason that provide Caesar with an excuse to go in there and scoop up all that wealth himself.

1:41:32

Answer do so right the glory in defense of Rome.

1:41:36

This brings us.

1:41:37

Do the actual war commentaries because we're going to have to rely on these.

1:41:42

And yet

1:41:43

Minutes I'm not sure you could find if you had to be stuck with one main source. I'm not sure you could find a better one.

1:41:50

It is one of the great works of literature of all time.

1:41:53

Any military history, there's very few things like it.

1:41:58

A story Michael Grant says about did quote it was the best account of warfare that it ever been written by Roman and it retain the supremacy for at least another 4 centuries.

1:42:10

And quote.

1:42:11

He also wrote that because of Caesars. I'm Caesar was one of the Great Writers of all time. And so much of the of his other qualities are overshadowed by his military reputation.

1:42:23

But the concise so deeprose that he used in everything made his work, a staple of.

1:42:30

Your first year Latin course is all throughout the western civilized, educational world and everybody needs. Caesars work Once Upon a time.

1:42:38

Michael grand also said quote.

1:42:41

Caesars formidable intellect and lucid concise Latin transforms these ostensibly modest works into masterpieces. He's unique inside knowledge carries extraordinary authority.

1:42:54

End quote.

1:42:57

It's very rare to have Ascentia Lee, the war despatches of one of the great commanders of all time. I mean, you have nothing like this from Alexander the great for example, or most of the other people in where is Genghis Khan's?

1:43:12

One of the ones that you can have fun reading today for example, is if you go read the Second World War series has panned by Winston Churchill. You get a similar sorta feel because instead of having somebody tell you the story. They're basically telling you the story from within the story and there's a lot of I said, and then he said. To me and then I mean, it's a completely different way to view history and you know it's completely by Churchill. Even said, I know history shell treat me kindly coz I should be writing down his street well. That's what she's doing too.

I'm one of the parts that will screw up the most, if you never read it before it refers to himself 99% of the time in the third person Caesar did this, you did that.

1:43:51

It's a little strange, but if you understand an animal read several books. Just on that book is fascinating the way they tear it apart and and look at all. The Engelska Caesars, playing 3 dimensional chess here with this work.

1:44:05

He's writing it for contemporary audience and for the future.

1:44:09

The little intricacies that you would have to actually not just speak Latin, but Archaic Latin have a really good idea contact. These experts will point out that just based on the way. Caesars using the Latin language. He may have been writing there may be a political purpose to it.

1:44:25

Because instead of writing, maybe for the aristocracia roaming the power brokers in the Senate. Caesar was a popular. He was one of these people that made his political name supposedly appealing to the needs of the people as opposed to the wealthy people in Rome and so he may have written this. Maybe not even to be read. Maybe they re read aloud to the crowds in Rome in a language that was straight forward that they would understand and pulling themes in ways of approaching the story out for example, praising the average Roman soldier quite a bit as something to Curry favor with the crowd.

105 minutes

1:45:00

This is a political document. It's a document of personal aggrandizement. It is a piece of propaganda and it is also the best source of military conduct that you were gonna get to the Byzantines maybe the best source. You gonna get in the entire ancient world from an as Michael Grant says who's authority is absolutely unmatched in this mean who would you rather if you could only have one account?

1:45:27

Would you rather have it from an unbiased observer would be nice?

1:45:31

When Caesar tells you about the intricacies of this war, he's telling it to you.

1:45:37

United a man who decided on things.

1:45:40

Please buy as hell, but he's an absolutely.

1:45:44

Unbelievable, source to be able to hear from the first person sense.

1:45:49

Caesar get the command, he wants from the 3 headed monster. He was looking at a place called Asia over near the Adriatic is maybe a place to to involve himself at a good place where I can conquer some people make some names and secure borders.

1:46:02

But trouble brood over Ingall instead.

1:46:07

And it flared up.

1:46:09

In an indirect way you believe the sources because of this new German situation.

1:46:14

A tribe.

1:46:15

That was located his territory, not gonna call that rhymes with some of these places were really proud of state or states. Let's understand Tribsa bad word is Goldsworthy stuck with it. But this tribe located in what's now modern day Switzerland. Cesar says decided they were gonna move.

1:46:33

Bing, like being neighbors of the Germans and they felt too constrained in this land hand by mountains and not in the territory, said they were gonna move and they were gonna move in a way where they were gonna cross Roman territory. This southern France area that the Romans had to take had to take of course to protect this road to Spain. They called it the province province. Today I think um.

1:46:57

Cesar just always called the province and this group of gals from modern day. Switzerland numbering the ancient sources, said in excess of 350,000 people in a migration me know men, women, children, the whole thing bring your possessions. Burnier towns 3 years in the making and leave 350 + 1000 people gonna cross Roman territory.

1:47:19

And Caesar in the Romans basically saying no there not.

1:47:23

No this is where Caesars Narrative begins for he starts explaining another golf course the first thing he does is for a paragraph for 2. He lays out the land for your average woman consumer of his media we would say today.

1:47:37

Because one Caesar gets away from the clothes parts of golf right toga wearing golf.

1:47:42

The next short haired Golf Wenshu, head on into long haired girl. You are continually moving into less and less well known territory, the farther you go.

1:47:52

See you becomes a bit like a Lewis and Clark expedition at some point in this endeavour a very heavily.

1:48:00

Armed one, it must be said, but do you have to lay out initially the lay of the land for the people in Rome? We talked about 3 big cultural groups.

1:48:09

That inhabit this whole area in the differences between them in one of the more famous passages in all ancient literature.

1:48:18

Napoleon all the greats, read that Caesar in the doesn't matter which translation use it. It's suitably all inspiring in my opinion in all of them.

1:48:28

Are you Carolyn? Hammond translation for this? But on?

1:48:31

Harry is laying out the land for you and by the way notice how he's also kind of beginning the transition idea they softening idea that Roman luxury soften these people.

1:48:44

By the way I'm gonna say, Balgay, you can say Belgae some people say belgie.

1:48:50

There's an old saying that there's a right way, and a wrong way to mispronounce Latin. So hopefully will miss pronouncing it the right way in this program, most of the time.

1:48:59

Cesar says.

1:49:01

It's amazing thing about the seizure right, you have seizures writings.

1:49:04

It's crazy to me, Cesar rights quote.

1:49:09

The whole of gold is divided into 3 parts, one of which the bellgate inhabit. The Aquitani, another and the third of people who in their own language are called Keltz, But Ours Gaules. They all differ among themselves in respect to language way of life in laws. The River Gourand divides the golf from the Aquitani in the morning, saying rivers separate them from the Bell gay of these 3 the Bill. Gates are the bravest for they are farthest away from the civilization and culture of the province mean in the Roman province. Merchants rarely travel to them or import such goods as make men's courage week and Womanish. They live more over in close proximity to the Germans, who inhabit the land across the Rhine and they are continually at war with them.

1:49:58

For this reason, the Helviti also exceed the other Galzin Braviary because they are embroiled in almost daily battles with the Germans, either when they are warning them off their own frontiers, or when they themselves take the fighting the enemy territory.

110 minutes

1:50:13

And quote.

1:50:14

Historian Andrew M Rigsby goes to great lengths to point out the Caesar is actually establishing his own boundaries for his own purposes here and that these may not have been boundaries that were recognized in other places necessarium. Cesar is creating boundaries so that he can come to natural extensions of them in stopping it's all very interesting. But the point is is that take what she says with a grain of salt.

1:50:39

As always, but do you basically telling you the lay of the land Ingall and then right after he does that he starts talking about a conspiracy.

1:50:47

Conspiracy that will legitimize actions in Gould beyond stopping the migration of the strib, but according to Caesar. It's behind the migration of the Helvetian. These 350,000 people or more that Cesar says burned their 400 villages and 12 pounds. Maybe some of which may have been proetto cities before setting off that they would know that we're not going home right same thing with the captain of the ship in the shipwreck burn the ships are you don't think I'm going home. We're gonna burn these villages in the be no going back.

1:51:21

N.

1:51:22

Napoleon refer to this part of Caesars being simply incomprehensible Hans Delbruck stuff that there could be all these.

1:51:31

Tribal peoples on the March like this.

1:51:34

It was talking about the logistical disaster will be.

1:51:37

Couple of modern day history in Centerton way of looking at it kind of comparing it to the way you would've compared people who showed up for the wood stock rock concert in the 60s write small groups of people so they're migrating at a time caring most of what they need it on their back or with a single wagon. Having the migration take a longer period of time. So instead of having like one army moving around. You have groups of people migrating in the way Caesar tell the story, it sounds more like that.

1:52:07

Now these R it should be pointed out probably heavily armed migraine so let's not make a bunch of Lions out to be little lambs right.

1:52:18

It's easier claims that the migration is all part of the plan.

1:52:22

In the leader of this try befehl missions is trying to become a King, but the tribe doesn't have Kings anymore. They have magistrats an elected officials and some sort of aristocratic all of Garchik Senate of the sword and the punishment for trying to turn the society back to a kingship is to be burned alive Cesar says.

1:52:47

Now I should point out that this information is delivered to us by Cesar on like the very beginning of his.

1:52:54

Commentaries right after he lays out the way that gaules divided into different groups. He then explains this story. The story involves 3 garlic noblemen. Powerful guys in 3 different powerful Gullock tribes.

1:53:09

Even describe the scenario that a couple historians. You know point out and it's obvious ironic in there, some kind of psychological thing, maybe going on with seizure, but he describes.

1:53:19

A 3 headed Golik First Triumvirate If you will in other words, he's explaining that these garlic noblemen are working together to help each other get with they want in terms of more power the situation. Caesars involved heading back in room with those 2 other guys that make up the first triumvirate right, and he's a lot more critical of their trying Brent, then using his own.

1:53:44

Image it out to be sinister any cities 3. Gollach noblemen are plotting to take over all of golf, which you know, yet if you're looking at it from the point of view of the Gauls.

1:53:54

Isn't that what you want them to be doing?

1:53:58

And by the way did already been done by other Golik tribes. In other areas that the wrong it's already taken over in Spain by the way this comment.

1:54:05

There's a national heroes, Portugal that did it too.

1:54:09

Consolidated the tribes in the locals and forth Romans for long time happened. It happened in the Leisha 2 happened in the Balkans, too, so it's or standard.

1:54:19

The garlic point of view, these 3 guys might national heroes like Winston Churchill types in the Romans are coming. The Romans are coming. We have to combine it in Asheville, security question. It's easier place that has to be at raw grab for power by these 3 guys and one of them is the Helvetian ruler in the reason he's moving his people, is much more sinister than just they need more territory. It's part of the plot.

1:54:40

Either Roman diplomacy with the tribes on people find out that he's involved in this plot.

1:54:45

Help me.

1:54:46

Tried to burn this guy, he shows up with like 10000 of his best friends in his retainers in want not to the court and the court basically had to go.

1:54:55

And let him go and then Caesar says the civil war is about to start and then mysteriously the dude dies. His name was getting raped.

115 minutes

1:55:04

But the tribe still gonna move because it was in the plan. And so that starts this chain of events that will eventually lead to Celtic culture in with now friends being Mortale Woon did.

1:55:14

So what's the cause of all this, if you're in a war crimes trial that thing? How did this after cleansing or whatever I'll come to be well it all starts with the rationale and here's? How Caesar lays it out in my.

1:55:27

SA Handford translation quote.

1:55:30

The foremost man among the heavy she I in Rankin wealth with Orgetorix in the consulship of Marcus Musolla and Marcus be so he was induced by the hope of obtaining royal power to organize a conspiracy of noblemen and persuaded his countrymen to immigrate Annemasse, telling them that they were the best fighters in golf and could very easily conquered the whole country in the world.

1:55:55

Even explain that.

1:55:57

This or get a result of leads the entire movement to get it together to bring the homes. Eventually, in am migrating mass and then as part of the process of negotiating with nearby Tribunaux, that they would have to pass through, he starts making a couple of important friends with each other tribes.

1:56:13

They decide to work together.

1:56:18

Or get it reeks convince them because of the 2 aristocrats that these games were quite easy of achievement by telling them that he intended to usurp the sovereignty of his own state, which is it was beyond question the most powerful than God and then he would use his wealth and military strength to secure them. The position of their Thrones. His arguments proved effective. The 3 men, swore an oath of mutual loyalty, hoping that once they've made themselves Kings. The great power of the war like people they ruled wooden table them to get control of all go and quote.

1:56:53

If you looking at this from a pro Golik perspective, though.

1:56:58

That might be a good idea.

1:57:00

Portrays it is otherwise, but remember in this story gets Darth Vader's account that we get to have.

1:57:08

1:57:11

Offers an idea reweighed look at this, where 1:57:14

The people of.

1:57:16

Gall were unusually threaten during this time period, maybe in a crisis situation if you will in which case the?

1:57:24

Migration of the helvetians might've been much more like A.

1:57:29

Cherokee trail of tears, if you wanna compare it.

1:57:33

Do something from the Native American terminology.

1:57:37

He says that Caesars off quoted rationalization.

1:57:41

The goal would have to be taken over by the Romans if it were not to become germanic. He says quote may have been an unbiased interpretation of the evidence, he had before him and quote.

1:57:53

Cunliffes also points out that invents quite a distance. From here could be having effects ripple effects. For example, he talks about the day. Tiens with her a barbarian people that may or may not be germanic also having huge offensive against another. Celtic people in the Hungarian plain which has a domino effect on accordion affect that in a Caesar ends up being with the end result of you know as hell vision start to move just trying to the East of the helvetians are being displaced.

1:58:23

So the Celtic peoples of Europe Engal, specifically are threatened from multiple.

1:58:28

Directions in different peoples.

1:58:32

Just trying to help me, she's would've been on like the bleeding edge of work. Maybe was starting to look like the sick man of Europe for this time period and they were having pieces of their territory, beating off from every direction. The Germans from the East today shun from the South East and now the Romans from the South.

1:58:53

Darn right, you be talking about consolidating your power to try to resist this, if you could.

1:59:00

Caesars great period in his history begins when he confronts.

1:59:06

This 350,000.

1:59:10

Person column of humanity.

1:59:13

If you believe I have the numbers the way they showed up but Roman doors.

1:59:18

Over River.

1:59:20

With the bridge that Caesar I just destroyed.

1:59:24

Basically.

1:59:26

This group of people, the front end of this tribe is reach Caesar and now they're gonna have to ask him for permission to come into the Babins Caesars Gonna say. Let me think about it.

1:59:38

Go over there camp out while I think about it. Meanwhile, they're doing that, he's organizing the raising of armies far away. He's got the truth within building a giant 16 mile or something long.

1:59:50

Fortification.

1:59:52

With guard towers at regular intervals, no doubt with him Roman Bolt throwers in them.

1:59:58

And when the tribe comes back for their answer. You know after they been how are they eating you know that mean you could have lots of people dying on this little baton death March from the Swiss Alps to wear. Caesar was they say OK come across now and Caesar now with this giant fortification behind him or truth for themselves now.

120 minutes

2:00:16

No, I'm just curious.

2:00:18

If you're in this garlic massive people and you been camping out eating at maybe what little of your food is left.

2:00:28

And you're waiting for Roman decision and more people are showing up as the trailer. The mass of humanity keeps arriving and you're waiting in your waiting in the Romans were building these for vacations in your shopping.

2:00:39

Cross now and then they say know what do you do?

2:00:44

Cesar says that small groups of people in the night in the daytime try to cross over themselves over the River to get on the other side, it doesn't sound like a big armed mass of humanity. It sounds like a bunch of people desperately in like small family groups in but not trying to crossover and overwhelmed defenses or sneak by on any given point in the Romans concentrate missile fired they say, and you'll kill all these people in the water and drive them back.

2:01:10

You should be storing hearing Goldsworthy describe the situation, he says quote.

2:01:15

When healthy, she I return for seizures decision. He bluntly inform them that he's quoting Cesare now, according to the custom and president of the Roman people, he could not permit any one to journey through the province and that he would stop them if they try to force their way through.

2:01:31

Goldsworthy then says the new fortifications were there to demonstrate that he meant what he said. However, it was difficult for such a great mass of people suddenly to change direction and purpose. The period of waiting by the Riverhead also probably been very frustrating and many have the Helvetii were determined to keep going, especially after the years of preparation in the Wheeling destruction of their old homes. Small groups big and across the road you are using the fords or rigging up laugh to carry themselves their animals and vehicles. It is possible that these were delivered protap sent by The Chieftains to test the strength of seizures defense is more likely they reflected the loose Central Authority, an individual independence. It seems to be characteristic of many of the tribes. Agaal they were certainly not full fledged assault on the lines of fortifications most of the crossings took place.

2:02:21

Cover of darkness, but if you parties were bold enough to risk be attempting daylight. None succeeded for seizures men were able to concentrate in each group intern overwhelming many of them with missiles is a struggle to cross and quote.

2:02:35

It seems to be the Goldsworthy 2 it may be leaving open the possibility that this is more of a humanitarian situation.

2:02:42

In Caesar let on.

2:02:45

Eventually the

2:02:47

Celtic tribe will move away. They have a Plan B, which day trying to avoid that much tougher. Ruten have to get the permission of a bunch of different of the tribes, but they start heading away.

2:02:58

Caesar decides.

2:03:00

Maybe he can't let them migrate to the other location that they wanted to even fit on the pastor own territory could be a problem anyway.

2:03:09

Any says that.

2:03:10

One of these conspirators one of the garlic try. Amber 3 headed Golik Monster is working with.

2:03:17

The hell visions to negotiate in you know, Passover all these differences between these tribes right smoothing it out. Maybe so they can work together. More and they were going as a situation with the hell visions. Promise we won't do anything will be very nice if we cross your territory won't do anything bad. And they go through the territory of these tribes that are allies romanae start breaking stuff.

2:03:37

And stealing stuff.

2:03:39

And devastating the territory and so these golik try their allied your own say the Caesar or so Cesar says help us.

2:03:47

How can you let this happen to your allies right when you have an army right here and Cesar says I can't let that happen to my allies. He justifies in the book that way. Then he goes after the hell the shins.

2:04:00

Cesar will go raise some more armys real quickly. He'll catch up to the helvetians is there migrating across another tribes territory.

2:04:08

Cesar will come up on the tribe walk while they are in the process of crossing the River. He said 3/4 of the trimit already crossed season 220 days shows you? How long this mass of humanity is taking to move whatever the real numbers were talking about here might be Caesars must be inflated.

2:04:25

It's a lot of people with my the other end hard to feed and Caesar comes up on, he says this try with recorder that right across the one quarter was still on the other side waiting that was the side. Caesar was on Tuesday, he attacked them.

2:04:40

Kill the bunch.

2:04:42

This is women, children wagons Warriors a bunch of them ran into the forest and now that rhyme comes to Cesar and basically says you know what do you want from us?

2:04:53

Cesar says this that and the other thing reparations in Oh, yeah, bunch of hostages now this.

2:04:58

Is a moment we should just discuss this for second coz it's wild also this practice of hostages for good behavior.

125 minutes

2:05:07

This is very common in the ancient world, but I always.

2:05:11

Think to myself, why did this happen today? That's how we ensure good behavior today? What if we were having problems with I'm saying and you have your first golf or at the end of it. He stays in power, but in order to stop fighting. You demand a couple of his sons, um as hostages.

2:05:26

Would be interesting way to handle modern diplomacy winded. But that's what he says he wants to try. But I want hostage in there always gonna be like the sons and daughters of the nobility. So the people. He's negotiating with the ones with give the sons and daughters and they say Hey, Hey, Hey.

2:05:41

Don't get cocky just got you beat us in a situation where we were in the refugees over River would basically still undefeated. Hecqui beat you a couple generations ago were in the practice of taking hostages not giving them and so the meeting broke up.

2:05:57

Televisions would not provide hostages go.

2:06:00

Along their merry way, continuing their migration, the Romans go back to teiling them.

2:06:06

And Caesar now is looking for a way to strike at them because they haven't excepted his terms.

2:06:11

Before he can manage to do with, though he begins to have severe supply problems more on that in a minute.

2:06:18

It forces him he says to break off the pursuit and going in opposite direction towards a friendly gollach city or he can get supplies and Cesar says when they change course away from the migrants, the migrants turn around and come out to them.

2:06:36

Caesar stops. He puts his entire force on a Hill with covering the Hill with legionaries in the traditional 3 line formation.

2:06:46

He's preparing for the bottle. Caesars says in a very grandiose move for the folks back home, but one that has real world dividends to be paid Cesar will get off his horse and send it to the rear and take his place in the front line with the soldiers.

2:07:00

Sharing their fate.

2:07:02

Encouraging them.

2:07:06

Remember this stage in his career. Caesar's not the great general that we know as Julius Caesar. He's seen a lot of fighting but this is really his first true command.

2:07:16

And this is where he's making his name and part of making his name is showing that he's something special. Napoleon did a bunch of things like this and so did Alexander typical general move.

2:07:27

But you can work wonders over the long haul. Caesar's earning that trust in his army.

2:07:32

I said that these Gaulish troops are ferocious.

2:07:36

Soldiers come charging up Hill at the Romans you're ready since disaster right. It's not a good move.

2:07:43

But the goals are not known for tactical brilliance. In fact, it almost seems like the inevitable trade off in the price. You pay for being these out of control impetuous Warriors that lose your mind in battle lost.

2:07:58

Is that you're inevitably less tactically cohesive and less?

2:08:04

Concerned about things like making sure you save enough energy to be able to fight for awhile. The traditional book, the playbook. The opposition handbook on fighting golf says that the initial charge of these people is ferocious.

2:08:19

Wild and hard to hold but if you can stay strong and hold the initial charge. They begin to get tired and then they begin to get disheartened and then impetuosity. Phaidin then the lack of the armor that they normally have the fact that they totally lost cohesion. After all this stuff against to tell if you can sit through and whether the initial storm. You tend to be OK, charging up a little bunch of Romans, throwing heavy job runs downhill. Not a good start. Caesar says that the Roman Piela got stuck in the Shields of the golf course. It has that little narrow week neck deliberately designed to bend so that all of a sudden it's dragging down the Shields of these golf. Caesar says they shake their arms for long time, then throw their Shields down to take a people already not have.

2:09:09

The Armory and take away the shield and then the Romans charge down at the swords and it begins to be.

2:09:15

You know a typical Roman battle against Galsworthy Gonna get chopped up pretty good.

2:09:20

You said You never see their back. They don't run but they conduct day fighting with drawl up to a nearby Helaman. The Romans pursue them there, hitting the flag by 2 other tribes it when you're by.

2:09:32

No, we should point out Caesar has every interest to exaggerate how dangerous this enemy is and how difficult the conditions. He finished work. Because obviously he prevails in wins well. It's not much greater victory to cite the folks back home nonetheless.

2:09:49

When Caesar's Head in the flying kisses. The people that he was pursuing charges him from the front again. So he's surrounded his flight is he did. This is a Greek Army instead of a Roman army. It's done for this point because the Romans could do with the Romans could do a tactical flexibility that was pretty much unique in the ancient world. Caesars able to take one of the 3 lines of the Roman army. The one that's not yet fighting.

130 minutes

2:10:14

And.

2:10:15

Shift it's facing so it's now facing the enemy that the Romans in the flight. Now they're facing Romans from the front.

2:10:24

Hard fought battle, now Caesars Truth get the upper hand. The Warriors will retreat to a wagon fortress. They taking all the wagons that they're migrating with they put them in a giant circle and it's defended by all the noncombatants and what not and the Romans attack it before the last day of the battle.

2:10:45

And by the time the whole thing is over.

2:10:49

Romans may have killed 200,000 of these people.

2:10:53

My hand.

2:10:55

If you believe those numbers.

2:10:59

Historian Michael Sage says this about the numbers quote.

2:11:05

In the aftermath of the battle, Caesar claims that tablets were found in the Helvetian Camp written in Greek characters containing list of men of military age women boys in the elderly? Who would join did the migration. There were also council. The other tribes with company. They have visions for a grand total of 368,000 people of whom 92,000 were capable of bearing arms. Caesar then record. The senses, taking with the gals returned home, which totaled 110, 1000. It is difficult to assess the accuracy of these figures and this is the only case in the garlic war were cesara first such lists the goals did right, Celtic in Greek letters. Numerous scriptions in Celtic, written in Greek characters in been preserved.

2:11:51

The figure of 92,000 Warriors is possible that the total of 368,000 is accepted in premodern populations about one quarter of the population consisted of males military age. The total number for all those migrating is also in the realm of possibility. The 110 1000. Survivors representing a third of those who said out is more of a problem. The loss of more than 2/3 as possible, but he must've had a number of causes the migration from beginning to end probably consumed about 3 months with the final battle in late May or early June. Many especially the sick in the infirm may have perished along the way another simply settled along the route of migration. Once the battle casualties are included with Caesar just not give the figure for losses still seems too high, but there's no other evidence at least.

2:12:40

In the realm of possibility and quote.

2:12:44

Otherwise, they just broke I enjoyed immensely on this.

2:12:48

But this point is well taken we don't know how many people really were there and you don't know how many people really came back.

2:12:55

Any might've been more of a trail of tears, type situation in baton death March is we said type situation.

2:13:02

Or lot of people died along the way rather than have Caesar snuff out their lives.

2:13:09

But you can be sure that since the Helvetians were one of the Great Tribes of Gaul that were talking about a lot of people here in your not just talking about combatants. It all the end stages of this battle with Caesar have the Roman legionaries assaulting the wagons.

2:13:24

Brought up in doing great fortification with all of the stuff that these people owned in the middle of them. The Gauls the Germans on a bunch of occasions, um were sent by ancient sources to have the women staying back by the wagons yelling in courage meant to their men deriding the behavior of cowards providing first aid in medicine help to those who staggered back from the battle unwounded. So when the Romans. You drive back the fleeing routers after they just decimated their formations in those people run back to the wagons pursued by the Roman army. What he did the Roman Army doesn't get the wagons.

2:14:00

They kill everybody when they try to.

2:14:05

One of the main things that actually protect lives on the battlefield like this is the prospective selling the people that you can capture.

2:14:14

The one thing a person on the battlefield facing the battle last of other people have in their favor, and leave the only thing they can work is I'm I'm worth more alive than dead.

2:14:24

There's no doubt that lots of slaves were sold after this battle and you can hear your mind cash register.

2:14:30

You're doing every time one of those people sold because one of the reasons. Caesar's there if you recall is he has horrible deaths at home.

2:14:38

The ways for great Roman to pay off these dances with a successful profitable campaign and one of the main things you profit off of the people, you sell afterwards.

2:14:48

Nonetheless, the reason Caesar came to this entire area to begin with has just been dealt with.

2:14:56

After the battle the whole visions, essentially what's left of them come to see you and say you know where.

135 minutes

2:15:00

Howard would ever you want to send him home. He sent them back to where they came from any feed them on the way Rangers for food and everything.

2:15:08

Little Caesars I'll take care of you, but the end result is you lose hundreds of thousands of people to return things to the status quo.

2:15:15

So why doesn't Cesar go home now.

2:15:19

Wow, he's notice something he says in his works. That's been brewing for a while. He's been doing some investigation and he's uncovered a bunch of.

2:15:27

Well stuff at the people in Rome should know about stuff, he can't overlook for example, he was already noticing that weird stuff is happening with the garlic troops. The friendly Golik True. She was using his army. The Romans for example, don't produce cavalchini more. During this period. They produce legionaries heavy infantry man armed with a heavy throwing javelin devastatingly nasty sword.

2:15:50

The Cavalry is raised from in a local friendly people in this case, a lot of Celtic peoples with Tribsa lied to Rome, but they're doing things in the battlefield make Caesar suspicious that maybe just maybe.

2:16:03

There not altogether loyal mean one famous things he talked about. He has thousands of these Golik Calvary. They go up against a few 100 of the enemies and then all of a sudden flee in terror.

2:16:14

We got very suspicious, then started doing some enquiries.

2:16:19

Then, while he's pursuing the Helvetian columns. Helvetian columns begin moving away from rivers and stuff with Cesar can get supplies shouldn't matter because all these friendly try. The task easier to come up here and save us from these people that are stealing in despoiling Orlande. They were supposed to provide the food, but the food is not coming. He said he keeps getting these excuses. I should've been here. All were still waiting on the way watching didn't get it. I'm not gonna stop.

2:16:44

So he starts investigating that you calling some of these nobles in his office is staying with health food? What's going on here?

2:16:52

And it all comes to head after this battle with the hell vision because he says that all the other with a few exceptions. Big Golik leaders come to his location to congratulate him on his victory in all these kinds of stuff and then they say to him can, we see you in the backroom.

2:17:07

So I called him in the backroom privately in the instantly off all their feet beseeching him tears in their eyes and they give him he says.

2:17:15

This sob story about please please. Please you have to save us from this German King, who's taking over golf.

2:17:22

We told you about this guy right, he was the guy who was brought in with these 2 tribes agaal that were historic enemies were looking for an edge and so the one trying thought. Let's invite. These Germans over and give us the edge of win the battle which they did. They destroyed the nobility of the other side, but then the Germans didn't leave as we said.

2:17:42

In fact, according to this.

2:17:44

Group of people that comes to Caesar. He's taking all their children hostages in anytime. They move the wrong way, he tortures and does bad things to him.

2:17:52

Caesars now speaking to Roman audience basically saying can you believe this German King is doing to these poor girls who are allies and friends of the Roman people can see your stand for that for that.

2:18:05

What's more?

2:18:07

These chelta been telling Caesar stories that they've got people in their own tribes were disloyal right. You know the tribe their enemies. Rohmer just loyal, but these are people in tribes are nominally friends wrong, but they have huge numbers of fifth columnist that wanna work for the garlic cause. Instead, now again. Caesars portraying this as sinister and bad to Roman audience.

2:18:30

It's hard not to see these troublemakers that Caesar talked about, though, is anything other than Golik Patriots.

2:18:37

If you're looking at it from their point of view. I mean, the people that are here, beseeching Caesar for help like the quislings aren't they the traders of the Golikov. But just like the Native American tribes. Just like the tribes in Africa. These people have historic enemies amongst their own kind with disputes and memories of t for tat.

2:19:02

Revenge cycle killings that go back forever and these were able to be exploited in Africa in the New World by European powers. Ingall by the Romans explicitly I mean, it is the Romans, who invented the phrase that we use today to divide and conquer?

2:19:19

That's what they're doing in Gollan Caesars, using some tribes against the others, and tribal leaders are telling him. We just want you to know we have large factions in our own tribe that are working against you. They're the ones that kept the food from coming to you. They were the ones leading your cavalry win. The thousands of your cowberry turning flittin terraferma. Few 100 of the enemy. In other words, Caesars got them all around him.

2:19:44

And this becomes an excuse to stay.

2:19:47

What's more wednesdays are says this German King is oppressing all these people. He basically says so the girls wanted to stay. I have to stay to defend them any enemy has just shifted from Golik people to in new people. Now let's understand whether or not these new people really were a new people is open for debate. Cesar makes them a new people in his writing because it serves the purpose is it was writing. It outside power. She's going to use it to defend now. These people that are closer to home these people. He just killed 100, 1000 or more people of. He's now the savior of the Gauls and he staying.

140 minutes

2:20:31

Now I should point out that there's no consensus at all.

2:20:35

Over Caesars Decision Making at this point.

2:20:39

Everyone seems to agree that at some point seizure decide he's going to take all of golf over.

2:20:44

But most seem to think that that was not his initial plan once he originally set out to change the course of the Helvetian Migration.

2:20:52

But there's a lot of disagreement over at what point Caesar crystallise this idea that the heck with it. I'm taking it over.

2:21:01

Many historians F spoken about this and Rigsby for example, this tendency in Caesars, writing sometimes.

2:21:10

To give a hint of the idea that Gaules maybe kinda doomed anyway.

2:21:16

And then it's like a vulnerable you animal in the geopolitical firdan. Somebody's going to get it. I'm better off than the Germans.

2:21:26

It's German is that form this new counterpoint in the story when they appear on the scene because up until now. See you there hasn't really had an antagonist.

2:21:35

When you're stopping at migration of the tribal people who is the bad guy in that right even though Caesar had some bad guys involved in the conspiracy initially by the time he's involved their dad.

2:21:45

She's never having any sort of a one to one Darth Vader versus another Sith Lord Comfort Ation.

2:21:55

Shadowy thing going on, you know where it's almost like a guerrilla war, now he can't trust.

2:22:01

Another Celtic people who are his friends don't know your friends are your enemies are they all look the same.

2:22:07

But again not a single opponent for Caesar to really measure himself with until he comes face to face with this German King.

2:22:14

How are you? This this King of this way baby?

2:22:20

Now let's step back a minute for the sake of those were huge Julius Caesar fans because how can we ignore?

2:22:26

How quickly everything here is happened that's a hallmark of Caesar by the way that the moving with speed and determination focusing on.

2:22:34

In the core issues in the most decisive points and whatnot I mean, this is all happening in the year 58 BC.

2:22:41

The dealing with the Helvetian migration is during the same year and let's remember they hardly ever campaign in the winter. So this is really like an 8. Maybe 9 month campaigning season and right after he deals with the Helvetians and has those.

2:22:55

What was huge battle?

2:22:58

You know you know marches to another part of this area where the German King is it begins to deal with him in Caesars Narrative. This guy is sort of the root cause of everything here me. Why is Caesar even having to do all of this in goal because the Germans destabilize the whole situation.

2:23:16

Came in there with their 120 1000 Warriors, or whatever begins settling in Gollan, his head the whole place in motion.

2:23:25

So when Caesar confronts Ariovistus. He's confronting the root of the problem and if she's there were a less ambitious man. This could be the end of his story. This could be the culmination. He goes to the root of the problem and solve it comes home celebrate the triumph and live happily ever after.

2:23:42

I do have to remind myself, though how this has a field of Caesars kind of being at the end of the Earth. We said earlier that he's like I have Lee arm version of the Lewis and Clark Expedition.

2:23:53

He feels the need in the narrative to tell the people back at home know what these Germans. He calls the more like.

2:24:00

What are customs would God do they believe in what they look like? How they fight?

2:24:06

Supposedly, the Romans had dealt with these people militarily before right at the time. Caesars born remember the Cimbrian. The 2 towns invaded from the North unexpectedly a national security crisis.

2:24:16

If you forgotten Cesar will remind you over and over again in his commentaries great way to justify going out for the Germans to remind you that every now and then they come after us.

2:24:29

But other than that, not a lot to go on so she's explained to the folks back home. You know that these Germans are essentially like the galz on steroids.

2:24:38

The golf cart all the Germans are that much taller.

2:24:41

The Golsar Blonde the Germans are blandair. It galls fight in the war. Mad Berserker Crazy Friends E. The Germans do that, more often in their friends is deeper than the girls.

2:24:52

In Caesar Connor says the compared to the golf the Germans are primitive.

2:24:57

So for using our tribal scale in the golfer moving up to like 3 and 4 and 5. The Germans are one just know Cesar would have you believe just graduated from caveman status. It says they don't even really practice agriculture? Which none of the modern history's or in the stuff by archaeologist that I've read. None of them believe that they all think the Germans practice, agriculture, but there you go.

145 minutes

2:25:22

Cesar says that the Gauls used to be able to stand up to the Germans in battle, but they can't anymore.

2:25:30

Essentially, saying that their gun shot that they've lost so many battles that they've lost the psychological edge. If you will. It becomes another one of those on quantifiable things that affect human history?

2:25:41

We talked about intimidation on a personal level, but you know what happens when you get a group of skinit scared unpredictable. Human beings together and then try to quantify the impact of the mass amount of psychological intimidation. If you've lost 3 bottles of the Germans are ready and you're lining up to fight your fourth? How much does the history of how you done against the recently played in the you really need to stand up to them now?

2:26:07

And, of course, if the Celtic people can't stand up to the Germans anymore in a doggy dog world. What does that mean for the long term ability of golf to remain free and independent?

2:26:21

Should be looking at this from the Roman viewpoint you can kinda see how they might come to the conclusion of oh. We're gonna have all these German people right next with some golf soon.

2:26:31

So Caesar goes begins a conversation with this German leader.

2:26:34

Where you sensually tell the German leader OK all the stuff has to stop?

2:26:39

He said he begins of correspondence you sent that message to me says can we please meet halfway between our 2 locations because we are important matters to discuss.

2:26:48

This is all coming by the way.

2:26:51

He says that the German King replied by saying essentially if I have something to say to you, I come to you.

2:26:59

If you have something to say to me, you come to me.

2:27:02

And then begins with a line of discussion. It's hard to understand if you're looking at this from Caesars point of view because the German leader begins to question Caesar.

2:27:12

About maybe you could say the legality as they would understand it in the ancient world for all these things he's doing.

2:27:22

Incites legal arguments that you couldn't use now I mean, you have to be a Nazi to use arguments like right of conquest today.

2:27:30

But that was something that was actually sometimes part of the rules back then. And this German leader will cleverly say over and over again. We not doing anything you don't do.

2:27:42

Yeah, so why are you interfering?

2:27:45

The arguments that are you this, this makes through the pain of Caesar.

2:27:50

Are just as compelling as the ones that the helvetians kinda made? When they were trying to ask the Romans? Can we please come through your territory it's a humanitarian crisis maybe?

2:28:00

Modern readership has a whole different feel for it, maybe then Caesars audience would.

2:28:05

Because Ariovistus looks to the modern reader, maybe to be making some really good points.

2:28:11

When Caesar Telsim in the next letter, which is much more direct, you will do this you will do that. We're gonna have problems. He said your gonna release. The hostages around lies. You gonna stop attacking our allies. You gonna stop bringing more Germans from Over The Rhine River.

2:28:26

And already avest is straight up answers him. Caesar basically says with defiance. But here's the problem. The only information you have about this is from Caesar.

2:28:35

Anyone since he's the best person in the world to give it to you coz he met this guy face to face and talk to him.

2:28:41

On the other hand, is the worst person in the world tell this to you. Because, nobody has more of a vested interest in slanting his way.

2:28:48

Cesar says that the message that came back from this barbarian again did not sounding very much like a barbarian. Maybe barbarian lawyers, helping him out with the legalese, he says to Caesar.

2:28:59

This is from the essay Handford addition of Caesar quote.

2:29:05

In reply, Ariovistus said that it was the recognize custom of war for victors to rule the vanquished anyway. They please and the Romans acted on this principle by governing their conquered subjects not according to the dictates of any third party, but their own discretion since he did not dictate to them how they would exercise their rights. He ought not to be interfered with any exercises. He is it was because the Dweeb.

2:29:30

The tribe that's a lie to Rome. It's because the do. We have tried the fortune of war and where the losers in the fight that they had to pay him tribute and Caesar was doing him a serious wrong and coming to golf and causing a loss of revenue. He would not return. The hostages to eat we but would refrain from making any wanting that aqap on them or their allies if they kept their agreement and pay the tribute regularly every year if they did not the title of brothers of the Roman people would not save them from the consequences. I am not impressed. He concluded by Caesars threat to punish my in quotes oppression of these people. No one has ever f me without bringing destruction upon himself, let him attack whenever he pleases you will discover with German valerijs capable love, we have.

No defeat we've had superb training in arms and for 14 years we have never shelter beneath the roof.

2:30:27

And quote.

2:30:29

If your mind that's basically the equivalent of saying it's on.

2:30:33

He starts to send his army told the German German starts in his army tortfeasor. There's this strategic town ends up between the 2 armies. So Caesar Gonna basically going day and night, pushing is meant to get there first gets there first.

2:30:49

Michael great generals, he understands the value speed.

2:30:54

Celtic town in prepared to defend it, and all looks pretty good for Caesar except the people that are taking over this town. His soldiers start talking to the local Gollach people.

2:31:04

In those people start telling Caesars troops about these Germans and with their like and how they can't even look them in the face without you running away.

2:31:15

In Caesars all their gossip.

2:31:17

Make his army scared in the rumors of with the Germans are like freaking out and he specifically singled out you have to love this. The folks back home in Rome probably did to those young men on the make sure the sons of the rich senators and what not who I need a little military experience on my resume before they start their running for Roman office and nothing too scary. You understand so I may be just a nice idea. We could go out for some migrants with Cesar look good on the resume and all will be well. Cesar says that when they are looking at facing these ferocious scary unknown beast from the edge of the world of the garlic people who normally scare the Romans, a little bit of a scare.

Cesar says young men in the make all of a sudden are finding good reasons why they are urgently needed back in Rome.

2:32:04

He says the fear spread to the rest of the ranks in people start drawing up there will be things. They're breaking into tears. You know it's strange times in there. The moaning their face and all that kinda stuff with your course. Let's be honest now. Caesars built up to send me so that when he comes he'll be that much greater. He's also creating and eat in the Army for him that he's gonna go in there with a combination of shaming people, but also logical arguments or throw in a little bit of.

2:32:32

Theater and you know you can.

2:32:34

Cesar says anyway with the army into shape and let's be honest, we seen this with a great generals also.

2:32:40

Sophina quality the people associate with great generalship right the ability to turn around them around your troops in Raleigh them.

2:32:48

Your sister in as soon as the German approach is the King of the Germans are you. This is OK now that I'm here. We can have this discussion. You want to have an Cesar has this wonderful moment where they meet on like a Hill in the mid.

2:33:00

Giant in a flat area and they weren't allowed to bring their armies close to each other their arms are like in the distance in only 10 guys on horseback are supposed to accompany each leader and were told they have the conversation in garlic.

2:33:13

So this German King supposedly speaks Golik in Caesar probably had a good friend to translate for him. Caesars is basically the same thing. He said in the note to the German rule in the German ruler says something similar to what he said before back.

2:33:26

You're questioning Caesars right to do this morning out that we all live by the same rules. You conquer your people and you did, you decide? What happens to me afterwards that's the road we live by?

2:33:36

And then he says it's a wonderful line, where he questions Caesars motives.

2:33:42

Any says I think all this.

2:33:44

Is just so much pretense for you coming here to crush me?

2:33:51

And then he says in less you take your army out of this country right now. You know, he's gonna finish. Caesar and then he tells him but if you do leave right now. I'll be happy to be your muscle man here in Germany in Gollan. Anytime you need a favor you won't even have to lift a finger. I'll do it for you so it's a little bit of a carrot and stick sort of offer any once again. If you were a neutral arbitrator. You might say something like Hey that's not a bad deal.

2:34:17

So let's stop for a minute and say.

2:34:19

You're really dying at this point in the story for an outsider's viewpoint anyone else. Besides Caesar, here coz. He's really tough to read this point? Why is he putting these sorts of you know KUSA Tori good arguments into the mouth of one of his characters that he wants you to want him to conquer.

2:34:38

Mentioned earlier a couple of Roman writers that came after Caesar. I'll see Tony's one that's not very long after Caesar about a century after 2 centuries. Afterwards is a guy named cash deal.

2:34:48

Adèle has a much more gritty viewer, Caesar and his motivations. Inessentials one of those guys that falls in the campus. CCS are doing this for the most base reasons. You can think of. He's involved in this Manyu Mentale Gamble.

In the politics of Rome, where his involvement in this region risking his life and end of voting, entire existence year after year to this cause. Ingol is only because of what benefits he can glean from it in the politics of Rome.

2:35:20

And he's desperately in need of things like money and conquest and.

2:35:25

Owners and he's got to keep this military command going because that the moment that his term in office is over. He's prosecutable by his enemies in there, licking their chops back in room waiting to get him.

2:35:39

At the same time.

2:35:41

You know at least at this point in history. He has to assume that this is not a permanent command. So he's a bit of a time clock is Cesar really wants to do these great things. He's gonna end up doing in golf. He's got a limited amount of time to do it and cash deals. One of the people that says that everything. Caesars doing here is the equivalent of poking the Germans with a stick.

2:36:02

Trying to get them all round up so you have an excuse to go in there and kill a bunch of AM.

2:36:09

Do you know by the way confuses us entirely by saying that I already have this? This isn't a King of the Germans. He's a King of the couch.

2:36:18

That means one of 2 things either.

2:36:20

Cash is DO is a lazy Roman ethnographer and there were plenty.

2:36:25

Mine doesn't really draw distinction.

2:36:28

But if he's accurate.

2:36:30

Then you have to say why did Cesar called him a German? What's the point of Caesar doing that? What does he gain by creating this new group of people that may have been a generic name that Once Upon a time only apply to OneDrive in modern day Germany.

2:36:47

This from my Herbert Baldwin Foster addition by the way.

2:36:51

She point out the deals pronouns, and use your pronouns is sometimes confusing. So I'm gonna insert. The name of the person. He's talking about in place of the pronoun so it makes more sense.

2:37:02

Do you write quote?

2:37:05

No Realistas was the ruler of those celtes, he's Dominion have been ratified by actions of the Romans and have been registered among their friends and allies buy Caesar himself in his consulship.

2:37:16

In comparison, however, with the glory to be derived from the war in the power which that glory would bring the Roman general. Cesar he did. None of those considerations, except insofar as you wish to get some excuse for the coral from the barbarian so that should not be thought there was any grievance against him at the start.

2:37:38

Therefore, he sent for are you mystus pretending that he wanted to hold some conversation with him already have is this instead of a Bing replied in this is close to Caesars on description by the way.

2:37:50

It's easier wishes to tell me anything let him come himself to me. I am not in any way inferior to him in a man who has need of any one must always go to that person.

2:38:01

At this Caesar showed anger on the grounds that Ariovistus heading salted all the Romans and Caesar immediately demanded aware of this diss. The hostages of the allies and forbade him, either to set foot on their land order bring against them any other Zillia Reforce from home this. Caesar did not do with the idea scaring him, but because he hope she makes him furious and by that means to gain a great in fitting pretext for the war. What was expected to place the Barbarian. Enraged, the injunctions. Maydolong outrageous reply so that Caesar no longer bandied words with him.

2:38:38

End quote.

2:38:40

That's a completely different view isn't it?

2:38:44

Cash deal also gives am very different account of Caesar, rallying his terrified Romans in the Golik town that we just discussed.

2:38:54

Rather than being one of the few non terrified people who can then spread his lack of firdos entire army.

2:39:02

Do you know basically has?

2:39:04

The troops looking at what they're up against and thinking. Maybe that they shouldn't even be up against them. Then I'm so mad at the Germans. There mad at the guy who put in a situation where they should be fighting the Germans.

2:39:16

According to deal they are very aware.

2:39:19

Of what role they play in this whole thing you're the Pansin Caesars game to further Caesars career.

2:39:28

And they also seem to realise politically speaking.

2:39:32

This is outside the boundaries, maybe with the Romans themselves would consider a legal military venture cash. It still says that when these Romans or scared.

2:39:45

Goodnight garlic town is scared coz they keep hearing about the Germans in the Germans are coming soon as it leaves them deeply dejected and then he says quote alarmed by the statue of their enemies by their numbers their boldness and consequent ready threats. They were in such a mood to feel that they were going to contend not against men, but against uncanny in ferocious beasts, and talk with that. They were under taking a war which is none of their business and had not been decreed merely an account of Caesars. Personal ambition and they threatened also to leave them in the lurch if he should not change its course and quote.

160 minutes

2:40:24

That's not a bunch of scared soldiers who get their fear rallied out of them by acousmatic leader. This is a bunch of troops to fully realize what's going on. Here are angry at their leader for putting him in this position and I threatening meeting. If he doesn't change the course. He's on I mean that's a very different story right there isn't it.

2:40:48

I'm not sure it really matters, though in terms of how it reflects on Caesars reputation because either way.

2:40:55

It really says something about the guy that he was able to rally those troops.

2:41:00

And put them in a position in the state of mind with a good face. This German leader you are a King.

2:41:06

Or maybe are you missed it was elected warleader for a Confederation of tribes. It's argued about.

2:41:13

But that's a guy are you b who has the entire the central part in infection could save most of golf cowed by his power and authority and see your turn please.

2:41:23

Either Mutinus or petrified with fear or some combination of the 2 troops and get them out in the field against this guy.

2:41:32

Now the way the bottle shapes up supposedly is it starts with a bunch of maneuvering. This is the very unsexy side of military history.

2:41:41

People like yours, truly like to cut right to the Chase. We like our nice. You know well organized and set up field battles in a nice level Valley, where you had a lot of time for both sides to set up and then you have your super big and counter.

2:41:56

But truthfully in real history of one of the generals done his job.

2:42:00

Good job, um you should have the other side, beaten by the time you get to that point and it sometimes the big maneuvering on the strategic level. That does that, but sometimes it's just the little shading here and the slight advantage there and they all add up.

2:42:17

General throughout history been almost neurotic about figuring out the little elements go to gain advantage.

2:42:25

And there are quite a few different periods in history, where because of the military technology in the limitations.

2:42:32

If both sides didn't actively want to fight a battle. Sometimes it didn't happen if one side wanted to avoid. It often times it was easy to do.

2:42:40

The 17th and 18th century probably like the high watermark about a few 100 years ago, where because of the way things were you know once I didn't wanna fight a battle it. Almost never happened. So this period, Caesar and the German commander are both have jockeying for position in maneuvering.

2:42:58

And one of the things about the Romans that makes them so they don't get another unsexy sign of military history. But the Roman soldiers are about half devastating soldier in about half construction worker.

2:43:11

And these people could set up for Deficit Ations.

2:43:15

In real time in a way that actually affected the battles in a day. Today situation in the case with this is the new bring actually takes the form of both sides trying to March around the other in camp on their lines of supplies to cut them off.

2:43:32

When the Germans did it, they would take wagons and Whatnot supposedly with them. And so did you put them in a circle like pioneers in the Old West used to do or say had a lot more wagons were talking about a lot bigger structures. But when the Romans would build a camp even a small subcamp, they would build it like an old Fort.

2:43:52

In the old americanwest you know, we were talking about with Kimber and guard towers and maybe even artillery in the guard towers in the Romans were so good at this and off and it every night when they were out in the field that they had this down to a science. Everybody knew exactly where to go and how to do it was gonna look at the layout was always the same.

2:44:12

So when the Romans Campden your line of supply. You wake up the next morning and there would be a Fort there were there was open country, the day before.

2:44:22

So then after the initial maneuverings once the Romans had this 14, too good of a position the Germans are launching attacks against the Ford and those are beating off and there's a bunch of this kind of preliminary but still pretty large scale skirmishing.

2:44:35

Before Caesar maybe some historians think it's beginning to have supply problems himself. There's a lot more of the natives around him here and he seems to be in danger and needing to fight a battle or get out.

2:44:49

I'm so he says he draws the army up in battle formation in March. Is it out or the Germans on several occasions by the way.

2:44:57

By this time period, the Roman battle formation by the way is 3 big lines. Deep usually in Cesar says that's the way. He lives up in just so you know that means a different thing from ranks ranks of the number of troops that are lined up in the one behind the other and often times each of these lines is between and. This is not just for Romans for any 14 to like 16 ranks deposit formation, maybe 12 or 16 ranks. The Romans more 48.

165 minutes

2:45:25

But then they'll be a dead zone of maybe 50 yards, 30 yards, 100 yards and it'll be another line of men lined up in ranks. This would be the Roman second line in the Romans would often have a third line.

2:45:38

This seems like common sense when you think about it today, but mention world. This is very unusual. The Romans have reserves in time and again. It will save them in these battles because they will find out of something going wrong someplace in all. Guess what we have about 20 to 25% of our total 4. Sungay just sitting back there, throw them into the troubled area and time again, it saves them.

2:46:02

In this battle, Cesar is very cut and dried remember this is not a true history. He's writing. This is supposed to be sort of in the format of you know dispatches from the front and sometimes he'll talk about it. What's going on in the battle, Atlanta but you would think with a really important. One like this when he going to great detail and he doesn't.

2:46:22

He basically says when the real clash of arms comes this battle is supposed to have been fought. Most historians thinking? What's now Alsace but no one sure.

2:46:31

Probably on the West Bank of the Rhine somewhere.

2:46:35

The Romans probably had in the neighborhood of 30,000 men. The Germans, who knows.

2:46:41

You really see from 5200, 1000, although you get the occasional outlier.

2:46:46

I love him, still broke as you know when he's usually a great neutral arbitrator in less. There's Germans involved in which case he's got his homework glasses on and he doesn't see things quite as unbiased and he thinks the Romans outnumber the Germans. But he's in usual so will send him aside there in just assume the Romans were probably somewhat out number, perhaps to the one in the worst case scenario.

2:47:10

Cesar says that the battle takes place so quickly. There's no time for the usual exchange of missiles. The Romans love to throw those heavy javelins. They do a lot of damage when you throw them in all at once. Hundreds of thousands of men throwing heavy jobs all at once. But the Germans in the Romans and charging each other, too quickly for that gets right to the source log right away.

2:47:31

Cesar says that the Flying Keys on begins to push the German flag opposite damn back.

2:47:38

But that the other Roman flag on the far side of the battlefield is being overwhelmed by the German numbers. He then says that a Roman officer that he names by name because he's on horseback can see the problem from a distance and realize oh somebody better order. The third line. That's not doing anything right now in to fix this situation and he does so he save the bottle.

2:48:03

See your mother way name is this person as.

2:48:06

The sign of the richest guy in Rome crafts with you recall is one of the members of the first try and Brit. Along with Caesar and Pompey. So you see in away. Caesars still doesn't forget you know where his bread is buttered and how to play the wonderful game of politics and you scratch my back. I scratch yours. Remember Caesar was allegedly not able to leave Rome. At one point because its creditors would let him out of the city.

2:48:34

Until crashes paid the bill will now all the sudden here in this battle with Cesar doesn't going to death about much of anything.

2:48:42

He goes out of his way to mention a single individual the son of the guy who paid the debts formano by the way he's basically saying without that guy. We lost that battle against the Germans. That's a little bit of a on her to the family's net.

2:48:57

So maybe paying back a favor or maybe.

2:49:00

Pudding crashes in debt for the future one nonetheless. Caesars never far from playing the game.

2:49:07

In this case, the game is deadly as you might imagine.

2:49:11

These Germans once again or supposed to come with the wagons in the families in the women on the wagons. You know with the disheveled hair screaming at the men. Please don't let us fall into slavery. The problem with having all these women wagons on the battlefield is obviously that it some point, the battle move from where it started.

2:49:31

Do the wagons in the people in the wagon then once again we have a battle where.

2:49:37

It's implied more than laid out for you, but the Romans Kill a lot of civilians, including I'm some of the relatives of Ariovistus, who somehow gets away, but we don't hear anymore from him.

2:49:48

The Germans will run miles to the Ryan Cesar says there will be more Germans are just about to come over and helping soon as they hear about the big defeat of Ariovistus to turn around and go home.

170 minutes

2:50:00

What Caesars doing here from the macro perspective, though if you think about it isn't there were a bunch of powers that were the power brokers in this region before Caesar intervened in that would've been last year, so think about how quickly everything's happening. Cesar has ascentia Lee nude one of them. The hell vision. One of most powerful tribes of the couches now shadow of what it was just months before she did do it and now this.

2:50:26

Player from outside the stratix go or risk map board to come in and intervened and garlic. Politics is smashed and sent packing back Over The Rhine. This thing that Caesar put rasesa bored.

2:50:41

What's crazy to think about is that all of this is happened in the year 58 BCE.

2:50:47

Because when you think about the ancient world, you think about a world that in many cases move much more slowly than the modern one.

2:50:53

And yet Cesar has a blitzkrieg going on in golf.

2:50:58

He says in some.

2:51:00

Will double date 3 battle some some welding 2 battles depending on whether you consider that first. A lot of the Helvetians. When a quarter of their number work on on the far side of the River to be a battle or not, but nonetheless in that one really 6 to 8 months because they don't campaign. Most of the time in the winter, Caesar done. All this damage and changed the power structure of this region if he thought it was destabilized before we got involved in that was nice good for getting involved. He's totally destabilized now.

2:51:30

But winters coming So what is Cesar do?

2:51:33

Will you put his army in winter quarters and it goes back to the area just North of Rome to keep an eye on Roman politics or think about his next move now here's the thing.

2:51:43

You could make a case if you wanted to win some have that everything. Cesar just accomplish was done. You know in a crisis situation in hot pursuit.

2:51:53

Whether it was the migration of the helvetians which is you know as we said earlier. It's like if you woke up this morning and found 200,000 people. You know on your border just unexpectedly be some sort of crisis so that's the way she is.

2:52:05

To give him the benefit of the doubt. You say we could go back to romaneasca votes and authority? Just thought about you? Do is that had the promise you go in there and you. You roll with the punches so she had to do that and then the Germans in their involvement. I mean that was also the same thing. They were coming over the border with getting worse you had it was a critical situation.

2:52:25

But now your taking the winter off we go from a hot blood situation to cold blood will you can think about what you wanna do now?

2:52:33

I love the way Tom Holland is an offer his grade building the sense of suspension and he portrays the golf this point in his book Rubikon as sort of waking up together to the fact that there in the process of being conquered. It's a strange thing, but it's happening so quickly and because the garlic tribes are.

2:52:52

In a separate from each other if they conquered the tribe next to you does that mean you're being conquered will not necessarily in you might not be too panicked. But if enough of the big tribe near your being conquered and if you happen to know just a little of the history of Roman behavior. In other Celtic Areas, Spain. For example, or northern Italy or watch now southern France. You understand that these Romans have a track record. They come in the defeat the Celtic people that begin to settle in the generation or 2. The Celtic people become short haired galzin a couple generations. After that, they become to go where Ingalls.

2:53:32

And Tom Holland presents this case, where one Caesar put his troops in winter quarters in the middle of golf. It sends a signal to everyone that Hey wait a minute.

2:53:44

He's here to stay.

2:53:46

Any were going to prevent a complete takeover as has happened to other Celtic peoples.

2:53:52

It's time to get serious about finding this place Tom Holland right quote.

2:53:57

That winter a 5857 BC rather than withdrawing his legions back into his province. Caesar left the ability to 100 miles North of the frontier deep in the territory of a supposedly independent tribe once again and it legal measure was justified by the proconsul as an active forward defense. This was an argument that may have satisfied public opinion back in Rome, but it did nothing to eat some mounting sense of outrage, Ingall itself. The full implications of Caesars, new policy were by now starting to hit home. What precisely would satisfy the Romans desire for a defensible frontier if the Ryan to the East, then why not? The channel to the North or the Atlantic coast to the West across frozen forest and field from village to village.

2:54:46

From Chieftains Halta Chieftains haul the same rumor was born. The Romans were aiming to pacify, although that in quotation marks as Warriors burnished their glittering. Jewel Rock Shield and strip. Lings eager to prove themselves ready for battle for did. I sheeted streams with full armor on their backs, so rival tribes autopatch up their differences freegold prepared itself for war.

175 minutes

2:55:14

End quote.

2:55:17

I think a sure sign of the way Caesar was thinking during this time period.

2:55:23

Is his excuse for going back into gollen continuing to fight even though these things in this crisis moment that had forced him to respond are done with.

2:55:34

He says the very act of these people deciding to work together.

2:55:39

Against him.

2:55:41

Justified him going after them.

2:55:46

This is from my Carolyn Hammond translation when Caesar refers to Caesar. He's talking to himself in the third person and we talked about the Bellgate. He's talking about this kind of Celtic. People is he describes it to the North of the area. He's been campaigning, the people that actually make up.

2:56:03

What was the population of modern day Belgium part of the Netherlands a part of Germany on part of northeastern France much larger area than modern day Belgium in some of the May have migrated across the channel to southeastern Britain 2.

2:56:19

What is these tribes of Bel gay that are?

2:56:22

Uniting against Caesar so he points out that well, obviously it's a conspiracy.

2:56:29

Ham and translation says quote.

2:56:31

As we mentioned above, Caesar wasn't near a goal where he heard a host of rumors confirmed by a letter from lady in is that all the bill gay who make up one third of golf as we said before were hatching. A plot against the Roman people and exchanging hostage is the reason for this plot were as follows. First they were afraid that our army would March against them. Now that all the rest of golf been subdued secondly, they were being stood up by a number of the Gauls. Some of whom have been unwilling to the Germans to have any further involvement in golf.

2:57:04

And we're equally reluctant for the army of the Roman people to overwinter and become established there. Others were a volatile and unstable disposition. The sort of man who delight in changes the rules.

2:57:16

Yet another group inside the bellgate to conspire because it was common in golfer man who possessed some degree of power in the means to hire support to see is regal power something which would be more difficult to achieve under our rules.

2:57:29

And quote.

2:57:32

Now we look at this is a neutral arbitrator here once again. Cesar is essentially inditing. These people for doing exactly what they should be doing if you think about this logically because she's there's just smashed.

2:57:44

One of the most powerful tribes in goal. He's got the support of another who are Roman allies. He just kicked the dreaded Germans out if you believe that is really were Germans.

2:57:54

And he's taking the surrender and submission of a bunch of other Golik tribes who are ACOD now by what he's accomplished.

2:58:03

And these people to the North all these tribes that Caesar Cezzar. He kind of implies that there Park Celtic in part German.

2:58:11

But this is freegal at this point. These are the tribes that have the ability to raise a lot of troops and still fight. Caesar and Cesar says it's not hard to believe that these fifth columnists from friendly tribes. In setting tried that already submitted are secretly whispering in my ear. The Bellgate 2 in other words, there is an anti Roman.

2:58:33

Insurgency Ingaltan Caesars talking about it here and once again, the simple fact that it exists.

2:58:40

Legitimizes his involvement in the region to stop it.

2:58:44

Allegedly this tribal Confederation in the Northeast.

2:58:48

Bellgate riebess will be able to put together almost 300,000 Warriors.

2:58:53

Not women, children old people and all that, but Warriors.

2:58:58

But again, you can't help but contrast that with with the Native Americans are trying to resist.

2:59:04

2:59:21

Even if the numbers hi what's 200,000.

2:59:25

One of my favorite stories, which kind of in my mind shows how you know you can do things in different ways, and accomplish the same goals when you think of the really bureaucratic ancient states, when you think it in Egypt are at China or Siri or iroam even.

2:59:39

Are you think, OK, when they need to get our me? How did they mustard? How did they put it together? How did they raise it you think of a really bureaucratic affair the only thing missing are the iPads for these people in the paper records of you all kinds of stuff. It's a modern you know, organizational situation where you raise army so how did tribes do it?

2:59:57

Especially Tribsa had lots of people while there.

180 minutes

3:00:00

Source that says that the Celtic method for this was a variation if you will on the idea.

3:00:06

That last one is a rotten egg.

3:00:09

It's last one who arrives to the mustard gets tortured to death in front of the army.

3:00:15

Isn't that wickedly efficient and yet in a decentralized sooner tribal way we're not gonna get to?

When I get to get your specific about it.

3:00:26

The last guy who shows up to the mustard. We kill him by slow torture in front of the whole army just so you know, see you soon.

3:00:32

I love that I hope that's true just 'cause that's

3:00:35

That's wonderfully colorful.

3:00:38

I need the problems with these tribes have is that they need all these people to resist Roman encroachment. But the larger these so called Barbarian Army's get.

3:00:48

The harder they are to feed.

3:00:50

Just imagine if the 300,000 will play with a nice smaller number 200,000.

3:00:55

Well, that's what 23.

3:00:58

Modern football stadiums.

3:01:01

How long can you feed that with barbarian logistics?

3:01:05

I'm still broke we know I'd love to quote Kassi so materialistic and down to Earth and stops at every he points out that this is where the unsexy advantage of the of the so called civilized. Bureaucratic states really is. The ability to feed people in the field so that they are there to fight.

3:01:23

Does it matter? How many people your opponent? Has it there starving and I could be that good or the army has to break up. They can't find food, we're not really an army of 300,000 people, then are you. You're a bunch of smaller armies spread out over a wider area trying to find enough stuff to keep your troops am starving to death and that means the enemy can defeat you bit by bit. We just want Caesar dies.

3:01:45

Cesar will also have his Golik allies attack individual tribes are part of this bellgate Confederation keep them busy while he concentrates other ones.

3:01:57

Once again Cesar says that these people are particularly ferocious and once again. He blames it on the fact that they are not corrupted by Roman luxuries that they are a long way from Rome with keep some somewhat insulated.

3:02:08

Never in archaeological works that do say that the farther North. You go from Rome. The smaller the towns get the less urbanise sort of I'm Corey you have the more the governments begin to resemble government going out of fashion in the parts of golf closer to Rome like aristocracies in Kings.

3:02:28

So maybe there's some truth to it.

3:02:31

It's hard to explain why the Bell gay people were so much tougher than the surrounding gaules if indeed they were they don't seem to have been more numerous.

3:02:42

Or better lead they don't have better equipment or training they don't have more money than me. None of none of the things were you might be able to say, well. There's a legitimate reason why these people lorded over the gollach neighbors.

3:02:57

Cesar says it's basically cut their tougher and more ferocious.

3:03:00

You don't accept that because that's a stereotypical retorica troping it is.

3:03:07

How do you explain it?

3:03:10

Friend of mine.

3:03:12

The military history major I went to college with um. He had the best answer I've ever heard to this, his answer? Was he just wasn't buying any of it.

3:03:21

You believing any of this stuff Cesar said in his mind any question about how tough this try was worse is how tough that try was is all stuff. Caesar throws in there to make Caesar look better.

3:03:35

Because you never know about that kind of stuff, he's going to use the only in a fact that you have out there on the table to form a most likely scenario, he said. The one fact on the table. Hear that is clear from everything and it's ringing through the sources is this Roman army was in comparably better.

3:03:54

Then the photos that they faced.

3:03:57

It's not a very good story, though, if you talk about how.

3:04:00

Yeah, you paid in the Roman army may be the best of the Roman army is arguably the best of the Roman army that was ever fielded.

3:04:08

If you say that yes or army came it cut through the barbarians like butter. It was no competition. A child could come and the Romans and destroy the Barbarian That's not a very good way to frame your self promotional piece, but you're sending back to Rome is it?

3:04:25

My friend just doesn't buy any of that in his mind. The only thing you know for sure, is that these battles sound like slaughters.

3:04:33

And even though Caesar usually tries to throw in a near run moment, yes, it was touch and go for awhile, but then we crush them. It doesn't really seem that way in the Roman advantages are hard for most modern people certainly for me to really understand because there's something about the way we were raised in this technological area that we live in.

3:04:52

It whenever you talk about vast differences between military capabilities. We assume it's gotta be mostly technological and that's easy for us to conceptualize.

185 minutes

3:05:02

If you say one side in this battle had machine guns in the other hand bows and arrows are modern brain goes all well. That's a slaughter right. The technological difference is going to equal a certain outcome.

3:05:13

What do you tell us the 2 armies in a 2000 years ago were really different in terms of what they could do each other and how nasty they were. But they are very similar in terms of actual weapons technology. It's hard for us to understand what it is that makes up the difference is that could account for that.

3:05:33

Of course, all the extra to really understand and there are few experts on real ancient warfare. But they'll tell you this is what drill and discipline does this is what equipping basically most of your troops with armor and metal helmets does and we used for 17. Magiun 2 NFL teams decided to have a football game. At one teams not allowed any pads or helmets or anything.

3:05:56

Now imagine that both sides are actually playing with edged weapons and it's a lot more nasty. Even Pro Football. You can see where that might be a big advantage also so you throw that in with the drill with I mean, it there's a lot, that goes into it.

3:06:11

But it's not as I said Very good story. If you say the Romans came and destroyed the barbarian it was no trouble at all?

3:06:19

And my friends mind that's why you need to keep pumping up this next drive is he's gonna face and you thought that was bad. This one is even worse because if you get to get a little monotonous not losing any of these battles and he's not even coming close really until.

3:06:34

You end up with one of these tribes doing.

3:06:37

What common sense would dictate a certain point you should do which is if Caesars got this in comparably fantastical me?

3:06:47

And if it's eating you alive on the battlefield stop facing it.

3:06:52

You don't have to write it's not prescribed and it's hard for certain culture, sometimes because when you get to these warrior cultures that have their heroic souldavar personal. Ethos where how you doing battle and bravery inconspicuous bravery right out in front of other people in fair fights in tools and all that is part of your make up to talk about subterfuge and ambushing and stuff like that.

3:07:16

Well, it doesn't always mesh so well with the new warrior spirit, but believe me necessity is the mother of invention.

3:07:24

And when Caesar goes to take on the various tribes of the Belgae by the way is another way to pronounce it on the first thing that happens is they get these large numbers of people together, which they can't feed. Caesar apparently way to them out.

3:07:39

The business card machine a little bit of this little bit of that, but it looks like. Caesar's plan is to just sit there and absorb all the food, he can buy his own logistical services, while he watch is the enemy around him, supposedly in the 300,000 numerical range begin to start.

3:07:56

So course I have to call him, still broke here coz he's the logistical guy.

3:08:00

Delbruck explain Caesar's Foray into northern Gaul the Belgae are bellgate people live in says quote.

3:08:09

The Bell gate also Belgae had a premonition of their impending danger United. Their forces and when Caesar crossed the border is moved out against him with a large allied army that civilization has means of warfare that are lacking to Barbarian's. The Bell Gates were no doubt capable of assembling a large army but not holding it together and feeding it justice. The Cimbrian Teutones. Those barbarians from Caesar's birth period had to split up on their campaign into Italy and were defeated individually by Marius Caesar instead of moving immediately into decisive battle against an army of the same size is his or perhaps considerably larger found the means of splitting up the Allied Army so that he could then deal with only individual tribes in the mean time don't broke right Caesar had organized.

3:08:58

New legions.

3:09:00

Know how to total of 8 with his legions. Elly troops of Numidians. Cretans boat lyrics and gallic cavalry. His army may have well number 50,000 combatants in a grand total of 80,200, 1000 souls in order to feed such a Mass in one place for a rather long time. One must have a very strong and reliable organization transport suppliers in finance system. The Romans had such means where is the bellgate did not.

3:09:26

Any points out that.

3:09:29

Wicked ability of the Romans to sort of make stationary field fortifications a battlefield weapon.

3:09:37

Brooke says quote but Caesar had still other means at his disposal. He set up a camp on the North Bank of the Rhine in River and his army was so well equipped with tools and it sold your soul well disciplined and so well trained in their techniques that would, in the shortest possible time and impregnable fortress 2 there.

3:09:56

And quote.

3:09:59

To give you an idea of size and sizes vary, depending on how large the Roman fortress that needed to be in the camp happen to be, but some of these camps could be well over 100 acres in size.

190 minutes

3:10:11

I always had a date and they always had a ram part of the Roman soldiers carry sharpened stakes with a sharp point so that night to get stick those stakes into the earth and ramparts of became a pincushion around the camp.

3:10:23

Guard towers in walled everyday the camp stayed in the same spot and didn't move it became more sophisticated deeper more defensible more finished.

3:10:34

Can you be there long enough room and 10th? Which were laid out on the prescribed Roman road grid system? Which included on Main Street. Inside this little Roman towns. When I'm not into these tend to turn into cabins at that camper there long enough.

3:10:49

Debbie artillery.

3:10:51

And they could put it up so fast in as we said earlier. I believe the Roman soldiers about half soldier might have construction worker.

3:10:58

Any construction worker side.

3:11:00

What's more important than you might think.

3:11:03

You found the Romans know already that was something that they brought to the table, which is unusual. There were other armies. It could create a camp Sinwar obsessive about creating kamptu to protect themselves for example, when on campaign. But the Romans almost used their construction ability in an offensive way it's fabulous unless of course, you're a garlic opponent in which case.

3:11:24

You know how.

3:11:25

Disheartening is it to think you can, we got a nice relatively open battlefield here. We're gonna fight these Romans tomorrow and wake up in the morning to find fortifications on that battlefield.

3:11:35

And artillery.

3:11:40

How did we say artillery we obviously mean Roman and Greek style artillery nothing gunpowder E?

3:11:46

In this case, a lot of it was once called torsion devices and I've seen these things and I still don't understand the principle, but it involves twisted sinews and it stores up a lot of energy when it's released you can fling stones or projectiles it look like being heavy axes or Spears from these weapons and by the way. These weapons come in all shapes and sizes in the very largest of the more rather enormous.

3:12:14

But in this case, most of the ones were talking about it lighter weapons. Caesar specifically in one of my translations refers to one of the artillery pieces involved is a one pounder and had to go look that up 1 pound or means the stone itself this weapon.

3:12:29

Long wait 1 pound, but I read another source that talked about the fear that these stones flying through the air at high speed in the sound. They made the fear that that generated sometimes if you were on the receiving end of those.

3:12:44

Maybe this is how you outclassing opponent.

3:12:48

When your weapons systems are not all that dissimilar. I mean, they are both using edged weapons that are metal. They both got Spears. They both wanna use human senior power for your tactical battlefield stuff with the Roman artilleries pretty awesome.

3:13:03

I'm having the logistical in organizational capability to build a fortress overnight, it's pretty important and effective too.

3:13:12

Add to that will we been talking about the ability to feed. You want me on campaign and easily explains how Caesars campaign against these tribes bellgate actually workout.

3:13:24

As we said he may be facing 300,000 of these Warriors up in the North here near the English Channel. But how do you feed a barbarian army that large the answer is apparently you don't see your sister tribes come together and have a meeting and say, um. We gotta go home. Everybody gotta go back to their own homes. We know we can feed ourselves, so will all go back to run home. So we get there. If Caesar attacks any of us. Everybody will come to the aid of the impact right.

3:13:50

Is the rings are divided as to whether not? That is a realistic defense strategy some soda packed or whether it is a cop out shamita cover up.

3:14:00

A every man for himself for every tribe from self sort of attitude.

3:14:05

Curious head Stone Brook falls into the latter category.

3:14:09

What is tribe decide to break up and go home will let's pretend it is 300,000 people when they decide to go home and they've been facing Caesar.

3:14:19

How did they even go about this mean? Is it like did we compare things to wood stock the wood stock roccon sorlier? What happens with wood stock breaks up.

3:14:27

Well, Lotsa people in large mass is just so to go streaming in the opposite direction.

3:14:33

So what do you do if your cesariny opportunist? Well, you attack don't you?

3:14:38

Please send this calvery running through these crowds of people spearing them shooting them just running them dead killed untold numbers.

3:14:48

Not all of these Belgic tribes ran back to wherever their tribal Homeland was they seem to have decided that they were gonna hold up most of the time in these hillforts of there's which by the way you never seen one go look at any real photo they are awesome.

195 minutes

3:15:04

Basically, with these peoples did was find you know nature's fortification where nature had crafted a wonderful area to defend and then added in human touch is September. Hear some stone work there and what have you. But if you have a nice flat giant Hill?

3:15:20

Can you have maybe a nice River that curves around the whole side of it for me to defensive optical I mean, your gonna pretty good started a lot of these tribes. Maybe thought that they can hold out in these locations and they were wrong.

3:15:32

Apparently all Caesar had to do was show up to some of these nasty scary try. But he talked about and the second. They saw him. They gave up one tribe big nasty tribe. Tens of thousands of Warriors. Cesar says they saw the Roman siege weapons in when I'm out if you're gonna use those I'm out.

3:15:50

So overawed by Roman technology. There is another one of those big nasty tribes. He didn't even get within 5 miles of their hillfort and they were coming out to say we're done.

3:16:00

This is the last of the big tribes that was opposing him with this tribe called the Nervii or the Nervii I.

3:16:07

Way up in the North right the scary northeast today.

3:16:12

Take their people their wives and children in their elderly their animals in their baggage and possessions and they took him into the deep dark swamped with the Romans couldn't get him.

3:16:23

I'm gonna resist so of course, Caesar take the army into the land of the Nervii I.

3:16:29

Nice is one day you know they're deciding whether gonna camp for the night coz. We talked about that right thing little obsessive about the camps. But if you're as bad at Scouting and reconnaissance is the Romans are always joked about being as one of my friends also said if you was bad. It's gotten the Romans are you better. Have a good camp with big walls and towers.

3:16:51

Cesar has his army arriving along column down the road because we like to talk about field battles. All the time. Let's understand most of the time. These arms are on the move in with their on the move. Their stretched out in a long line like a snake all the way into the distance very vulnerable position to be in.

3:17:09

And when the head of the snake arrives at the campsite for the night. Caesar tells those legiones that are there first start building the camp. The legions of the fairy tale of the snake won't be arriving for sometime?

3:17:23

Caesar choose another one of these Hills that if you been paying attention. He likes all throughout his writings. You like some nice Hill that could put most of his army on it size. Wise, he likes it. Nice gentle slope on one side. He loves it. If you can have it rain feature to Garner Flanken. In this case. There's a River at the bottom of the softly, Sloping Hill. He says about 3 feet deep, but it's there.

3:17:45

Any says on the opposite side of the River is a mirror image of his Hill. It slopes up from the River gently. He says there's about 200 paces to think about a couple of football fields of some sort of open country and then there's a wood on the top of the Hill.

3:18:01

So Cesar has the lead legiones put down there packs in a put their military stuff aside. Get there hammers their nails. The timber the shoveling begin making the camp and transform themselves into these amazing construction workers.

3:18:14

Meanwhile, he says, and this could be open to question by the way for what's about to happen. Here will earn Caesar. Some criticism during his own lifetime and from military experts ever sense, but he says. I put out my Kalbarri in my light troops and have them screening. This whole operation right to protect the vulnerable legiones that work.

3:18:36

You know under construction at the moment as more and more of my troops arrived from the column.

3:18:42

Eventually, Cesar will have 6 legiones there building a Fort with more on the way.

3:18:48

Any says my Kalvariija skirmishing with some of the Bellgate Calvary and he says. And then my baggage comes interview in the distance of the Roman Baggages in the middle of this long column and it comes over the horizon and everyone can see it and he says. When that happens that's the signal for the ambush to start.

3:19:07

He says that there's an army of Nervia, I in the Woods on the opposite Hill from Caesars, an army.

3:19:17

As my friend, said right if you're gonna be so bad. It's scouting. You miss the army of Barbarians in the Woods across from your building a camp you better have a strong camp.

3:19:28

In this case.

3:19:29

Right around the time Caesars Calvary get close enough to the Woods, maybe to figure out what's in there? What's in their charges out of the Woods. Cesar says it is starting speed. That's why Caroline Ham Carolyn having a great line is starting speed.

3:19:46

See you then goes on to say that they brush aside his cavalry and light infantry screen like an insect basically and they come screaming down the Hill.

3:19:55

Now we have no idea.

3:19:58

How big does Hill is?

200 minutes

3:20:01

All we can say is that they scream down that Hill, they crossed the 3 Foot River. They start up the next Hill and that's The Hill Season 6 legions are on not ready for this.

3:20:13

Now we talked earlier, about why we chose this is a subject and I said, I was fascinated with the tribal people in this situation that we seen all throughout history, trying to resist the encroachment of them more technologically organizationally superior or more efficient culture and I chose this one because I'm like the Native American example of the African example. These people had a chance to win.

3:20:38

Now they were never the bedding favourites and the way that they perform so far in battles against the Roman army demonstrates that.

3:20:47

The numbers are so much larger than with the North American Native Americans. For example, could put together that you can see why. You gotta give these people in a quart of boxing line the punchers chance.

3:21:00

Good luck figuring out how many people. There are here. If you're gonna believe Caesar you're gonna get up to number there like 75,000.

3:21:09

Don't seem absurd, but there's a lot of Romans, there in that's pretty confirmable. So it's not gonna be too low if you said 20,000.

3:21:17

That's going to be 4 times the largest Native American force. I've ever heard of 4 times and were talking about it charging out of the Woods all at once.

3:21:28

20,000 would also be about how many Zulus were at that famous battle in the Lady 18. Hundreds where they wiped out a fourth of 13 or 1400, um soldiers from Britain.

3:21:42

But the truth is, it's probably larger than that, so if you said 35,000.

3:21:46

35,000 men charging out of the Woods.

3:21:50

Within running distance from you and that's how long you have to get your act together before they hit you.

3:21:56

I'm trying to blow you away like a wave blowing through a few batherson the beach.

3:22:04

Caesar goes into overdrive.

3:22:06

At this point.

3:22:08

And you begin to see.

3:22:11

You know what makes the guy so special, he's not Alexander, the great grabbing speiran leading the Calvary and the charge. Caesar does Grabich Shield. He says, but he begins to go and demonstrate leadership.

3:22:24

He also says that these veteran troops do a lot for themselves and Caesar had left their officers with him and so all of them with simply throw down there work tools grab weapon that they could find

Cesar says their Shields were still in the leather cases. Their helmets worn off and around and they just ran to the nearest standard. They forgot anything about going to the wrong unit. They just trying to form a block of human beings that can resist this onrush that's coming toward the full running speed.

3:22:51

Understand tribesmen here are participating in a huge gamble because they certainly know that they are going to be like blowing horses by the time they reach the Roman lines. They are taking this gamble that there won't be any Roman lines when they get there yet. And if they're going to be able to attach these Romans. While they're still divided and small clumps to run connected to each other in which case they should be able to just blow them away.

3:23:18

But the Gamble is if they don't, they're not going to have a whole lot left. If this turns into any kind of a long term slaughter there, dude.

3:23:26

Cesar said he grabs a flag. He says a couple of words of encouragement to the unit that he's with before going to the next unit to talk to them, but by the time we get to the next unit they're already engaged.

3:23:39

This is a moment here with these lesions in Caesar with the could easily be overrun.

3:23:46

And it allows us to play with some counterfactuals. We haven't really been able to discuss you the first counterfactually is what is Caesar loses here?

3:23:55

The second counterfactually is what is Caesar dies here?

3:24:00

In the first case you know, we had said earlier that the Roman expansion into the tribal territories. Rich tribal territory to the North of them seemed inevitable just like Manifest Destiny seem to have it.

3:24:12

Maybe the question to ask is how many.

3:24:15

Gas would it take to make something that seemed inevitable not inevitable anymore.

3:24:22

Because we can see that only about 65 years after this battle.

3:24:27

Will be able to buy another try. But people were tribes of people this time in Germany. Modern day Germany in there probably we could call Germans.

3:24:36

They will destroy this Roman army of famous battle call the tutor. Berggrav old in 980. I believe it is the Roman commander will commit suicide on the battlefield to avoid falling into the hands of his barbarian opponents, which if you believe the hype top Roman sources is a good thing to do because the Romans conducted his legendary would be a good way to put the legendary mission. A couple years after the defeat and tobacco to recover. What's left of their dead comrades and it going to the deep dark forest and supposedly the little details of Roman skeletons in stapled to the trees in piles of skulls and religious.

205 minutes

3:25:21

Altres with your dead romanzen blood everywhere. I mean, just this horrible tribal nightmarish Visitation of all shall we say the native frustration of the situation.

3:25:34

Can you have the famous story of the Roman emperor the time will be his head against the wall and supposedly all the name of the general who killed himself veresen say there is give me back my legions.

3:25:45

That wasn't me about 15,000 dead Romans.

3:25:49

And whatever happened there was one of the main component supposedly that made the Romans decide you know what we don't need to advance further in Germany anymore. That's a good place to just set the border, it will expand elsewhere.

3:26:02

If that, really played that large of a role in the Romans decided not to go into Germany any farther.

3:26:08

What is Cesar lost twice that many men at this battle?

3:26:13

And what is twice that many men in the larger scheme of things with you say she could the natives have ever done anything to short circuit manifest. Destiny will I don't know what? If they killed 30,000 American soldiers in an afternoon.

3:26:27

I want did the math.

3:26:29

And you know, these numbers are.

3:26:31

Debatable 2 but I went to some common sources and I added up all of the combat deaths of the United States has suffered from the Wars of independence when we got our independence in this country up until the First World War started and I subtracted the civil war because those are crazy, dancing, everybody on both sides dying in American casualty so totally West combat deaths.

Excluding the civil war up 21917 and it's almost certainly under 30,000.

3:27:00

If you lost all the people, you lost from independence to the First World War minus the civil war in an afternoon.

3:27:08

Would that is slow down manifest destiny at all? How much?

3:27:12

United States ran into a Gawlik Kingdom on the other side, the western side of the Mississippi early on, and they inflicted a 30,000 death afternoon on the United States.

3:27:23

What's the ramifications of that? Who knows?

3:27:27

But remember the Romans have no guns. They have no Canon there on this Hill trying to deal with these people that are going to smash into them.

3:27:36

In Caesars running from unity unit trying to help it's the most critical point of his career. So far if he dies here, which is very, very possible.

3:27:46

Does the Roman Republic fall of the empire ever start in the Domino's start tumbling if there is no seas? Are you know the end of this afternoon.

3:27:58

Remember Caesars going to maximize his chances of becoming a casualty by continually you know running over to whichever part of his battleline. If you can even call it something is organized is that whichever part is the most threatened right where the 911 call is he's gonna go there.

3:28:18

When the Bell Gawyn, the nervia I managed to hit his troops.

3:28:24

Is troops on the left are able to get off? He says they throw up there pileta heavy javelin and then charge down the Hill.

3:28:31

At this one group of Keltor Bellgate, they will beat them chase them down the Hill. Chase them over the River.

3:28:40

The Warriors will then regroup in charge, the Romans again only to be beaten by the left wing of the Romans again and that left wing will started dancing up the Hill towards where the Celtic Campiz.

3:28:54

Caesars center will also weather, the storm.

3:28:58

And manage to do something similar by beating in hand to hand combat. The Warriors that they running to to their front and will also advance. Now the problem is with the left in the center advancing you end up with an open space. The Roman right wing no longer has any protection there uncovered on the flank you might say.

3:29:19

Cesar says a giant group of these nervia. I trybesmen with the commander in like a giant hammerhead column push through this gap.

3:29:31

And then once their past the centerpoint some of them turn around and begin to smash into the flank of Caesars right hand units.

3:29:40

Some of them go straight on a head tour, the Roman camp with thoughts of looting and burning and pillaging.

3:29:48

So Caesars right hand legiones are now in trouble.

3:29:52

He runs over to them to try to help. Meanwhile, when the Celtic forces that Bellgate forces break into Caesar's camp and start loading the people that see that think the battles over.

210 minutes

3:30:05

Scissor Sisters cowberry in and light troops in the been brushed aside like insects and beaten so badly when it first starts or just now we really struggling into camp. They look up and they see the very people who just beat the hell out of them running rampant through Caesar's camp and they go that's that they run away.

3:30:24

All of the civilian an average Joe Cam followers run in fear were told even that. Caesars very tough supposedly Celtic Allied cavalries seas.

3:30:37

These bellgate running rampant through the Roman camp and figures there done, too, so they turn around and go home in other words.

3:30:44

Yes, Caesars bad situation is getting worse by the moment, so he runs over to the right flank with these units are in desperate trouble and basically portrays the situation as dire and collapse of the right flank is imminent.

3:31:01

You wasted your scribe the difficulties on the right flank. This from my essay Handford translation. And remember when Caesar Right Sezary's talking about himself in the third person quote.

3:31:13

After addressing the 10th Legion Cesara, going to the right wing where you found the troops in difficulties. The cohorts of the 12 Legion were packed together so closely at the men were in one anothers way, and could not fight properly all the Centurions of the fourth cohort as well as the standard bearer were killed in the standard was lost. Nearly all the Centurions of the other cohorts were either killed or wounded, including the chief Centurione Publius Sextius Baculus, Amanda very great courage? Who is so disabled by a number of severe wounds that he could no longer stand. The men's movements were slow and some in the rear feeling themselves abandoned were retiring from the fight in trying to get out of range. Meanwhile, the enemy maintained unceasing pressure up the Hill in front and were also closing in on both flanks the situation.

3:32:02

Critical and no reserves were available. Caesars Nachta Shield from a soldier in the rear. He had not his own shield with him made his way into the front line address each century in by name and shouted encouragement to the rest of the troops ordering them to push forward and open out their rank so that they could use their swords more easily. He's coming gave them fresh heart and help each man wanted to do was best under the eyes of his commander in chief. However, desperate apparel and the enemies assault with slow down a little.

3:32:34

And quote.

3:32:36

But the Legion next door, that was having even worse trouble so Cesare ran over there.

3:32:41

You are the commanders of that forced to.

3:32:44

Put his soldiers into a square so that they couldn't be outflanked an attack from the rear anymore and that stabilize that situation.

3:32:53

Is there any drink Goldsworthy writes about this moment saying that Caesar had stabilize the situation in the right flank but the collapse was still imminent was just a matter of time.

3:33:03

The.

3:33:04

Celtic for switch batteries romanized down.

3:33:09

2 things happened that ended up having the same effect on this battle, as the Romans having a third reserve line has done in the previous battle. Remember they don't have a reserve line here coz they don't have a line there, not deployed.

3:33:23

What is happening in those Romans that had been victorious initially on the left it going captain the barbarian camp on the opposite Hill or now able to look down and see the problem is, she's are facing so they begin to come down the Hill to renew the fight them cells. Plus, the legions in the very end of the column. The detail of the snake have finally gotten to the top of the Hill and look down and see what's going on and they now into the fray, so even though Caesar wasn't able to create the traditional Roman third line reserve line to throw in you know when everything was going to hell in a handbasket. The circumstances had an effect created one in the Legion. They came down after capturing the Celtic camp and the ones that came up with the rear of the baggage train turn the tide of the battle and.

3:34:12

Remember, these Bell Gatis, Nervni, I and related tribes had sold their soul for that initial charge. They were like blowing horses. We said the arrival of fresh troops is the worst thing that could have happened to them.

3:34:27

It's easier since they were they were ferocious they would not give in, even when he had them. Basically, you know compressed into a disordered mob and he was. He was killing the mob with missile weapons that you didn't even have to risk his troops. He said the warrior stood on top of the corpses of their friends pulled the Spears of the enemy out of their Shields or caught them in the air and turned around and threw them back in a yelling defiantly to the Romans even as they know how the afternoon is gonna turn out.

215 minutes

3:35:00

Hey for Roshes Warrior Anemi, allowing themselves to be absolutely decimated rather than running away once again. Let's remember Cesar has every interest in portraying them to be as incredibly nasty in brave as possible. Nonetheless, maybe they were.

3:35:19

Cesar says that after the battle.

3:35:22

The families that is taking shelter in the deep dark, Woods or swamps came out to begging.

3:35:28

His clemency with Cesar gives and was known for giving plenty of times it's point that out to be fair to him. It was part of his act a little bit part of the stick part of.

3:35:38

Goodnight Jenn Issaquah, sometimes I'll let you live on buddy did. He also says no they gave him a rundown of what they suffered in the battle and he says that they told him out of 60,000. Fighting men they only had 500 left, you could carry arms now that doesn't tell you.

3:35:56

If those people are all dead.

3:35:59

Or if there.

3:36:00

Positive for moons likely a combination of both we have no idea with the breakdown is.

3:36:06

They also point out that Cesar has destroyed their leadership in this bottle. They say out of 600 and the different translations. A different things. 16 senators in the counselors in this is magistrates, but out of 600 of these leading figures in the tribe.

3:36:23

The survivors tell Cesar only 3 or alive.

3:36:27

So for all intensive purposes, he has destroyed this tribe.

3:36:32

No, I didn't battle.

3:36:35

And it's going to make a crucial difference soon. There's one little bit of leftover business of the season. Complices right at the end of this battle, one of the tribes. It was coming to help the Nervii. I never made it to the battlefield.

3:36:45

Found out the results turned around and went home, but that doesn't get you out of trouble with Caesar, who follows them back home.

3:36:53

He is very confusing incident involving you know the deals of the surrender that maybe were misinterpreted. Nonetheless, bad things happen so. Caesar eventually had to storm the town kill a lot of people. He said he sold 53,000 people from the population into slavery and points out that he sold them all in one lot.

3:37:14

Roman version of storage wars or something and how much for this entire city of slaves at you got 53,000. A bargain price.

3:37:22

In the slaves now let's recall something.

3:37:25

This is money.

3:37:27

Change you sell the slaves you make money. It's one of the.

3:37:32

Things that comprise booty.

3:37:35

Money stuff you know, whatever you can take and sell or whenever you can take for yourself, sometimes Caesar would gift slaves. You weren't slaves 5 minutes ago this point that out to his soldiers. You get this life that is a nice little Christmas bonus if you were Roman soldier or any soldier.

3:37:57

And a couple of historians, um.

3:38:00

Say it but no one knows because it's not like we have a financial statement on how Caesars doing this year, um, but you stop hearing about Caesars Terrible Financial. Crunches now and he's he's seen distributing Moneymore. He's allegedly paying his troops more than the going rate, and he sharing the winnings with them, which is pretty normal. But if you doing, really well, the winnings can be really good.

3:38:24

And as a side note on that you know the Roman story understand that is. There is a process underway here that will play. You know mitalee into the destruction of the Roman Republic very soon. And that's the allegiance of this army not necessarily being 100% entirely to the Senate and people of Rome, but increasingly more and more to this man Julius Caesar.

3:38:51

He's far from the only Roman general. This is happening to his fellow members of the triumvirate are getting into similar situations.

3:39:01

When you legions of the truth because you know how they're doing in life is so dependent on that single figure out the head of their particular army when they are. Legion shift from the state to a single individual, you can see how the recipe for disaster is just.

3:39:14

Well, the chain reaction is already started right rooms problems go deep into the distance, but that's a key component that has to happen and.

3:39:21

But I will tell people that think they see parallels with United States today and the Roman Republic is yes. There's there are some.

3:39:29

But you're missing that key component and it's important, we don't have our mussetter behold. The single in military individuals. More than they are the state increasingly is this army in Caesar Bond together and share the fruits of their labors, they are.

3:39:45

So the question of whether Caesars in dead anymore seems to be that he probably isn't in fact, this little business venture.

3:39:53

Ingalls working out pretty well, indeed so Cesar says after this little battle with the Bell gay. He sends a message to Roman. He says, and let me point out not for the last time in his commentary.

220 minutes

3:40:07

Gaules Pass Ified.

3:40:11

Now let me stop for minute because if you say not for the last time Ysgol really passafire because again you have to wonder what she's doing here, he may have had a whole. Lotta reasons for going back to Rome at this time period and tell him Hey, the war is over and we won.

3:40:27

You can see some advisor gonna listen to you have no idea what it's like on the ground in Rome. Right now, we're trying to get these people elected to the Senate. It would really help if the timing were going. You said we won Ingall writing.

3:40:38

I guess what I'm saying is I trust. These are in his intelligence both his mental intelligence in his reconnaissance enough to think.

3:40:46

That I doubt whether he thought, Gawl really was pacifi because let's look at what just happened here in 2 campaign season, so less than 2 years.

3:40:54

Caesar concreta place, the size of Texas.

3:40:58

Plutarch says.

3:41:00

300 tribes.

3:41:03

Really and you expected to stay subdued.

3:41:08

Well, if he did expect that he was wrong and he didn't want that Musta been another reason for telling the people back in Rome that the war was over.

3:41:17

Cesarina rare obvious brag in the commentaries points out that when the Romans heard that Caesar had just wanting goldye proclaimed 15 days of Thanksgiving in the capital with your points out is a longer amount of time than anyone before him ever had a Thanksgiving declared in their honor.

3:41:37

So maybe that accounts for it right there.

3:41:41

Let's remember why Caesars Ingall doing all this to begin with because of how it's looking back home, 15 days of Thanksgiving and unprecedented amount.

3:41:54

That makes it all worth it right there doesn't depends on what your goals are of course.

3:42:00

Now the other thing that needs before you got here is how the victory hasn't way.

3:42:05

Oh, for giving everything.

3:42:08

Because there is an undercurrent in Rome on most prominent individuals admittedly prominent individuals that don't like Caesar anyway, I would find something to get him with if they could anywhere.

3:42:19

What Caesars doing is grossly illegal on many fronts?

3:42:24

He's raised legions.

3:42:27

Autozone pocketbook in without permission.

3:42:31

His opponents in Rome at point out things that he's done during this campaign that are violations of Roman Onaran. One are 2 of them will suggest maybe he should be handed over to the former Roman enemies as a um.

3:42:46

Well, look for this way, the Romans have done that before we are some Roman general in the ground made a deal with another city came back the Roman Senate repeated the deal since the general back to the former opponent in chains left amounts of in front of the front gate and said sorry could make a deal, like that. That's against Roman on her. But since he did hear you can have him do with him what you want.

3:43:08

Never people, you know of the key to camper. Maybe suggesting seizure deserve treatment like that, but very few people were listening. You know why.

3:43:16

The guy just conquered an area larger than all of Italy itself into campaign seasons.

3:43:24

You can hear the crowd going Rome, Rome, Rome, where number one, I mean come on when human history of the populace. Not celebrated unbelievable victory. It's almost weird to imagine the general public ever doing the opposite.

3:43:41

So what it took for Caesar to get these victories legal or illegal are totally overshadowed by the result.

3:43:49

The result may be an illusion that Cesar says that after he's done here. He goes and starts to look at the next big adventure. He's going to do with these finally gonna go into ilirija round. We are you know the modern Adriatic is gonna start conquering centrides that would have been the plan of his all along. But now they got his pacifier. He can you put some time into it, he says while he's there gotl it waps back into war?

3:44:14

It happened so fast. You can't help but wonder if it was ever pass if I did all.

3:44:19

In there been some theories floated in a bunch of books. I've read lately, which I think is fascinating. I'm gonna run it past you coz it would make a lot of sense. When did and it's the idea that maybe the reason golp almost immediately rupchand trouble after Cesar says it specified is that maybe they didn't fully understand what they were agreeing to win. They said that they were gonna submit to Rome in other words, wrong with treating them as though they have signed a contract.

3:44:43

Can you break the contract the ramifications? Are you know Mafia style in natures? Don't break the contract and maybe like a bunch of Native Americans who are expected to read like a lawyer. This treaty and yet they can hardly write their names in the white man's language.

225 minutes

3:45:00

Maybe these kalvig leaders were essentially taken for a ride there. Barbarian lawyers, not as good as the Roman ones.

3:45:07

And maybe as soon as they started living under the real terms of the deal, maybe with a little different than I thought it would be greatly tribes were accustomed to making themselves clients of other barbarine peoples.

3:45:19

Very well may have treated them in much more laissez Faire hands off kind of fashion that might've been there. I do have a client in their world, but now the Romans were coming in these are gonna send it to your property. Let's see with the property line is you're gonna settle some former soldier veterans and party your property gonna take your son to the army and Oh, yeah taxes are going up this year. We need extra week as the army starving whatever it might be the garlic. People are chafing at what it's like to be Roman.

3:45:49

But now I think we get to the crux question that we started this talk out with you know what would you be willing to sacrifice everything for if your chafing is not the word I just use your chafing from Roman domination.

3:46:02

At what point is the chafing bad enough for you to risk having the Romans come back.

3:46:08

Beach you in some sort of field battle.

3:46:11

Kill you know, we said before kill you kill your son's rape your wife send your daughters off to slavery. Destroy me at what point is chafing bad enough to earn that you begin to get into this question human motivations.

3:46:24

What is it that worth risking that kind of?

3:46:27

Terrible outcome for.

3:46:31

Cesar says its Liberty.

3:46:34

And freedom and independence and that's weird not because those are weird motivations, but because Caesars that guy.

3:46:42

Who's going to stamp out these people?

3:46:45

And once again, he's giving them aspirations.

3:46:49

That we can sort of relate to that make them sympathetic characters to us in the same way he's put.

3:46:55

You have the voice of an almost war crimes prosecutor in the mouth of his German opponent Ariovistus.

3:47:01

He's going to put.

3:47:03

In the words of people like Patrick Henry. Give me Liberty or give me death and all those kinda people into the mouths of these Golik Opponents, who's Liberty, he is smashing.

3:47:15

It's fascinating again. It's very complicated. I don't fully understand it. I enjoyed Andrew and Riggsby's book. As I said on the whole analysis, but no consensus exist. They just analyze the 3 dimensional chess game, Caesars playing.

3:47:30

And, of course, the first question, we all ask Brian is if Cesar says that these people are fighting for Liberty and freedom. And when he puts words into their speeches, and they talk about Liberty and freedom what the heck do people barbarian people.

3:47:43

2000 years ago mean when they say that Orange Caesars, putting those words into their mouth and there's Caesars words. What does Caesar mean for it to mean?

3:47:53

According to Andrew Riggsbee, it's just what you think it means maybe only more so he writes. The word, and then gives you the Latin word. She's are actually use, he says quote.

3:48:03

Freedom Libertus wasn't even more politically charged term for the Romans that it is generally today. Pretty is deeply rooted in the pervasive social institution of slavery. Despite the many and varied situations to which was applied. Libertes remained a powerful slogan because it's unambiguous. Lee positive primary sense Conversely slavery service test recalled the degradation of slaves seen daily in a society which as we have already noted personal dignity was a fighting matter.

3:48:36

End quote.

3:48:38

In other words, you know, Caesars basically giving an excuse for these rebellions to the Gauls that he says right away. Right is a question Freedom versus slavery, implying Romans understand that it would never settle to be slaves. And that we today look at and go well. I can fully see with the golsar about because I be on their side 2.

3:48:59

It's a very interesting document and it says a lot about the tenor of the Times in the audience. He was writing for that he could position the whole story this way, and still expect you to cheer on his victories when he crushes these freedom. Love Ingalls right if it's really what they were.

3:49:17

And just with every story of Revolution by the way for every account. You hear of the golf trying to preserve their own Liberty and freedom in a very high minded Patrick Henry sense, you will read the account to get much more greedy and describe much more base values to the people who are doing you think you know this particular group run by this aristokrat once more power within his try, but Roman domination in a 4 cheese ambitions, so he's wanting revolution.

3:49:44

What does other tribe who is to collect all the tolls on this River before the Romans took over but now they favor the rival tribe and so receipts are down from the River tolls were Gonna Ravel.

3:49:56

The ones were just playing ficolin, tired of living under the same set of rules for significant free time. Caesars is that the Gauls all have a bunch of men who just a light in the change of government and I get bored easily and so they are easily roused to some sort of change just for a change is sick. So who knows with the actual reasons are the bottom line, though, is Cesar barely gets to enjoy.

230 minutes

3:50:18

The winter off before he's back in go. Alright recently passed if I'd go explode into problems 3 or 4 months after Caesar declares mission accomplished.

3:50:29

There's a strain of historian to think this is all part of the plan.

3:50:32

She just wanna give up his command. Remember, he be vulnerable in Rome. Plus, there still places to conquer money to be made reasons to stay armies to keep assembled in your hands.

3:50:46

The patterns going to emerge for the next couple years and it's a pattern actually it's not that dissimilar from other Roman.

3:50:53

Conquest of Celtic peoples in other parts of Europe before this time.

3:50:57

The pattern is Corris Matic leaders emerge who can manage to unite at least local groupings of tribes until larger confederacies. You then challenge the Romans by rebelling against them.

3:51:12

When the Romans will respond with extreme violence.

3:51:17

It's actually very interesting case study for modern people in if you're interested in military affairs in gorilla warfare and civil wars and things like that to watch how Caesar approaches in the rooms during this period approach how you kwel domestic resistance. You know by the population because when I was growing up.

3:51:37

In the wake of the Vietnam War that was so much talk about if you'd only fight the Vietnam War. You know with the gloves off with the phrase used to take away. These modern cultural inhibitions to tell you, you know you can't do this. You can't do that. You you go in there and you really just are ruthless and you'll change the battlefield seen overnight so the Romans are an example of that.

3:51:59

In later Roman history, they will be very good. You know if the game of the carrot and the stick in the learn how to bribe tribes and when it's better to spend money to beat people over the head with a stick in the Caesar period. They are much more in the beat the other people over the head with a stick mode.

3:52:15

When Cesar will go back to go and spend the next several years truly pacifying it.

3:52:24

The methods of Caesar will use that to quell this resistance are rough.

3:52:29

The first people, he'll deal with it. It's a Confederacy of peoples on the Atlantic Seaboard and 56 BCE, he will defeat yesterday build a fleet to do it. The Romans are crazy good that way to feed. This seafaring people on in because in Caesars mind all of this area is already been passed. If I were now dealing with rebellions. This isn't a contest of you know virtues on the battlefield. May the best man win. Then you'll probably get clemency after words. This is you were rebelling against the authority of the state. You are setting a bad example for other people. We need to keep down so we have to make an example of you.

3:53:04

In the mean tribe called Venetie or sometimes need to eat Caesar killed their entire leadership be headed them sold the population into slavery.

3:53:15

He will deal with in German incursion again.

3:53:22

Or so he says in 55 BCE.

3:53:26

Also, he launches what you might call a forrai a raid a punitive expedition into Germany.

3:53:36

Meanwhile manages to have another battle against the German tribe. This is the incident by the way that some of the katok round back in Rome suggested the Caesar maybe should be handed over to his German enemies in chains.

3:53:50

Because what do you did, he admit it freely in his commentaries? Is this leadership of this German tribe sounds like a large number of people.

3:54:00

Showed up to Ceaser maybe to negotiate with a thought was a surrender and instead. Caesar grab them and hold them and sends his army out to attack the now leader Lysane Unexpected, German tribe.

3:54:15

And the numbers that died here are crazy unbelievable and crazy. I mean, Plutark says wait for it.

3:54:23

400,000 German tribes people died.

3:54:27

And Caesar himself in the writing talks about a moment in the fighting where there's just crowds of women and children and what does he do, he sends his cowberry too? And this is a quote from the?

3:54:43

Hammond translation hunt them down.

3:54:48

So perhaps we're moving from.

3:54:51

01 potential un war crimes tribunal set of charges were talking about free and understood warfare.

235 minutes

3:55:01

And a contest of arms.

3:55:04

In something like this.

3:55:06

The most amazing things he does we have to point out the wow. Factor don't we is that he will build a bridge Over The Rhine River right now small River that.

3:55:16

He will do it in 10 days and I mean, it involves cranes and pylons and Rams to put pillars into the River banks. It's incredible tribes coming submit to him simply because they've seen him build this.

3:55:33

He said he had to build it because both did not seem like a good way to cross the River and he wasn't sure it was in keeping with Roman dignity. He said, so you spend 10 days and you build a trestle bridge.

3:55:45

The Romans cross the bridge burned lots of villages in a killed quite a bit of people in these rainstick 18 days comes back Over The Rhine on the bridge, they build and then they destroyed the bridge.

3:55:59

It's generally assume that Caesar was trying to send a message. The messages at least one is clear and that's that we can come over. This River anytime. We wanted to know Berry radol don't pretend like you're safe.

3:56:11

The other one which is what's up, Mr. and also said it was also Caesars way of saying and by the way this is the border, you come over here expect a response not from these Golik Peoples, whom you come to expect you can beat in battle, but against us, but you just lost yet another battle too.

3:56:30

How many dead 400,000 Caesars? Is there were 430,000 people there any talked about great numbers of them dying?

3:56:39

Even Michael Grant says the numbers may be exaggerated. But maybe not, that much. What do you do with Caesars Death Ledger there? It just went up by a lot didn't it and if you believe Caido and that segment of the Romans. It wasn't something that had to happen.

3:56:55

Caesar prompted it.

3:56:57

Maybe wanted it.

3:57:00

After this defeat the Germans late in the campaign season ready should probably pack it in after that big German thing. Now he takes a fleet and crosses the English Channel. In goes werno Mediterranean. Army has ever gone before the foggy Misty almost legendary in Mediterranean Circles Island, Britain.

3:57:22

Lands their talks about the natives being in chariots and painting them sells blue and Caesar hasn't battle. Of course, it's not near run things of all kinds of problems, but of course, she wins all the fleet almost gets destroyed by a storm. There are how old are protests about his contemporary political opponents and let's be honest arm chair generals ever since going what the heck are you doing?

3:57:45

What does this have to do with anything? How do you justify this and get the publicity is outrageously good?

3:57:52

Earlier, we said he's leading this expedition like a heavily armed, Lewis and Clark exploration team will GE just landed in Britain in the people back home can't stop talking about it all those people to keep talking about him exceeding his wartime authority. In what have you. You know I can hardly make themselves heard.

3:58:13

3:58:15

The positive comments.

3:58:17

By the way little side note, hear the debate is on going whether not these people in the British Isles. During this period should be classified as Celtic or not, and we're not talking in terms of ethnicity is much is in culture?

3:58:33

It's a little confusing to Cesar says one of these tribes that lived on the now French side of the English Channel did some migrating over so when Caesar goes to Britain describes people that sure sound Celtic. They sound a lot like the people we been talking about in terms of their address in their styles in their their attitudes in their religion, and what not.

3:58:52

You don't know whether not he's running into that one tribe or whether not the people off for the rest of that. I need they all have Celtic names. I'm done again. I'm not qualified the way into this on going to bed apparently Caesar doesn't refer to them specifically is kelly and the ancient world that used a different name for them and I'm gonna use my Berry conliffe get outta jail free card and say that account is anyone who considers themselves.

3:59:15

I don't know.

3:59:18

No seizures, obviously created the problem, not a hard one to imagine happening, either when he takes a big chunk of his army from which now modern de France and take it over to bring because that means it's no longer in what's now modern day friends.

3:59:34

You can already feel you have 2000, plus years later. So did the rumblings going on right if Caesars not actively hear you know that called and starts bubbling again. The next year, 54 BCE seizure watch is a much better prepared and significant um at the raid was with the earlier expeditions. Britain probably was this is more like an 8 a reconnaissance enforce reminder invasion. Yllanes their defeat. Some major British tribe and here's sort of I mean, if you're following Caesars store in Caesars near Dave.

240 minutes

4:00:08

We said there's been this fifth column entity Ingall itself.

4:00:13

People who are in these tribes certainly in the less friendly transmit even in Rome's greatest allies. You don't like the Romans.

4:00:22

I'm so Caesar when he's gonna go back to Britain for the second time realizes that you know, he's leaving all these troublemakers back in golf, so in a very ancient typical Roman thing. He asks for them to come to hitting on her guest would probably be the way the invitation, said that hostages is the way you could call it today has just for good behavior gonna take the troublemakers with us.

4:00:45

There's a whole bunch of famous troublemakers in the Roman Celtic history these people don't like the jeronimos of Celtic resistance in this case, one of them.

4:00:56

Everyone to remember you know that magician Gandolf Dumbledore religious leader Druit guy. We talked about earlier. He was sort of the reason this whole thing happen, though, if you believe the official narrative to pick Asia's.

4:01:09

By the way you will also see Divich Ayakas And if she occas but we're gonna go with the fictitious.

4:01:16

Defic ations is sort of a Roman friend, but do you gotta brother think it's like 2 heads of the same coin and his brother in this try but are romes greatest friends in the region is anti Roman.

4:01:29

When is drew it brothers been covering for him all this time is Cesar says he's been nice about the whole thing because he he appreciates this drawing guy in like someone needs his supporting his tribe is very important. But this is one of the guys is name is do norrix. One of the guys. Cesar wants to take with him to the British Isles. He's not causing trouble when she's away.

4:01:49

In this to Norrix character decides that this at least once again for going from.

4:01:54

This is June or extince. Caesars gonna take he and all the other troublemakers across the English Channel, and kill them there.

4:02:03

Away from the prying eyes of his own people able to come back and make up any old excuse why there not with him anymore.

4:02:11

And if you know, Rick doesn't believe this himself. Caesars he's going to all these other you know tribal leaders and saying, you don't go with your day to brittanys gonna kill us there.

4:02:22

Season talks about you know, many excuses that this to Noric, making out of this sort that you know, I get sea sick and I can't go with you for all these other reason Cesar says finally when you know, Cesar corner gym.

4:02:32

The guy bolts.

4:02:34

Basically showing his true colors, Caesar would basically have you understand. He just uncovered and unmask this conspiracy. He sends his men to go bring? This guy back dead or alive, they bring him back dead.

4:02:45

This guy becomes just one of many troublemakers that Caesar begins.

4:02:50

To go after now is his way of shutting down this. Golik resistance right get rid of the leaders of the resistance.

4:02:59

Because you

4:03:00

How many stripes have large numbers of people that are of a different political opinion then with the majority eventually get some in one of these battles that Caesars facing he'll face atrib that has reportedly killed all their senators who disagreed with the idea of rebellions woman were saying. What are you willing to die for? What do you willing to lose everything for there might be disagreement in your community about that?

4:03:25

Caesars is one of these drives killed all the senators that had a no vote on rebellion and went unified to go meet their fate against the Romans.

4:03:36

The troublemaker did Caesar had instructed be brought back to him dead or alive that do norrix guy. He represents an example of a counter. Factioning opposition party if you will in his own tribe.

4:03:49

He musta been karismatik and he musta been dangerous in the Romanise.

4:03:54

And he just becomes the latest victim in the Roman standard policy of how you deal with these troublemakers everywhere you encounter them.

4:04:04

It's so if you will, it very mafia like approach to the situation, but it's hard argue about it's aplicaci?

4:04:13

When faced with

4:04:14

Yeah, careers matic tribal gorilla leaders if you will kill them when you can.

4:04:21

Romansa done this many times you directly or indirectly.

4:04:25

Leave earlier we mentioned Wednesday.

4:04:27

National.

4:04:28

Heroes of.

4:04:30

The people of Portugal now when they were in their ancient version and he's one of these people that you know, let a position to Roman they manage to get him assassinated. I believe by his own people would leave it, there was a briva paid assassination.

4:04:44

In another case, the Romans ran into one of these leaders in this is in this conflict that was Karismatik. They wanted to get and during a cavalry battle the Roman this is from Caesar by the way the Roman leader on this site had instructed his Calvary. Remember this is at least hundreds of men against hundreds of men in maybe thousands of men against thousands of men that when you go out there on the field for this large cowboy battle don't pay any attention to any of the other people.

245 minutes

4:05:12

In front of you go right after that one guy.

4:05:15

Hello I could think about was imagine being you know that guy you're on the field with your hundreds and hundreds of cohort thinking. We're gonna take on their big formation and everyone in their formation is after you personally.

4:05:27

Needless to say.

4:05:29

They brought his head back to the Roman commander mission accomplished. They are another influential may be irreplaceable leader of the Celtic opposition is no more.

4:05:44

Right out of the Roman playbook.

4:05:50

I'm in 54 BCE.

4:05:52

You get one of the pretty good troublemakers right at these are all spark. This is a pretty good. Spark is name is Ambiorix. He was one of several important people in a revolt. He's a national hero of Belgium now.

4:06:05

Any fit this template of a of a karismatik. Celtic figure who could United Bunch of tribe together to oppose the Romans.

4:06:14

Is it particularly successful one of these rebels in the team manages by hook or by Crook to kill a bunch of Romans. They have like 15 cohorts like the Legion in 5. Cohort something like that, he gets out there and convinces them to leave the safety of their Fort and then ambush them with their marching through some deep dark, Woods no doubt.

4:06:35

When the Romans would be in trouble all the time during the winter, when they would break up to the various areas. They had to patrol and keep safe in these 4 to become like Fort Apache and anytime rebellion happens you know, these this isolated. Legionar 2 aromas will find themselves deep in Indian country surrounded by angry natives and time again this becomes part of the narrative.

4:06:56

Wednesdays are will go back and rescue all these people or avenge them a lot more of the garlic folks die.

4:07:03

Are you again have to ask yourself?

4:07:06

You know what's going on here in and then what do you form in terms of an opinion of whether or not? It is a good idea with you are a follower of Ambiorix for example.

4:07:18

To rebel against the Romans goes on one hand? How could anybody.

4:07:23

Say you didn't have a good enough cause when you're talking about your freedom and your independence right your Liberty your political Liberty. The sovereignty of your own people, whatever it is those are pretty high minded causes. But if you're in the meeting amongst your peers and your countrymen. You're having this discussion of do we remember don't we?

4:07:41

I mean are you a coward if you stand up and say listen.

4:07:44

We have very little chance of actually succeeding here.

4:07:49

And if we fail, there's 100% chance. We're gonna lose everything that matters to us, including the Liberty that you're worried about now maybe we shouldn't do this.

4:08:00

Those are the kind of choices as the old saying goes that try men's souls right.

4:08:06

Just to get an example of what it might mean in practice take a look at what happened to this ambiorix character right this latest park.

4:08:14

A guy when he destroyed these Roman legions in the deep dark, Woods on the March.

4:08:19

Caesar made it out to be like a Custer's last stand situation with the officers in the man who are leftover commit suicide because they just they're trapped by the native surrounded I mean, it's it's a heroin terrible story in Caesar launches recriminations in certain commanders. I mean, it's a stain and so the bad guy, well probably hero in the garlic eyes with the bad guy, the Roman story. Ambiorix is going to be pursued is it to the ends of the earth and Cesar has this ongoing you know what time to track him down. He finally hasn't getting away and riding off into the sunset would like only 4. Bodyguardz is the only amount of people who would trust his life too.

4:08:59

Of course, it's a good and the movie is not mean that the Geronimo figure hear from the Roman point. If you get away lives to ride another day off into the sunset whatever.

4:09:10

But Unfortunately his whole tribe can't do that.

4:09:13

And Cesar will.

4:09:15

Wipe them out of existence.

4:09:18

Well, that's the way he frames anyway, I historians are not sure if that was really what happened. It's pretty fair to say, though, that Caesar treats. This tribe, the tribe. The damn your ex was a leading figure in.

4:09:30

As harshly or more harshly than any other entity Caesar punished in his career.

4:09:39

So you might think yourself, OK now that these people have seen.

4:09:43

What almost everything is the Romans after this period will start going after Celtic cultural things that they think are inciting revolt or bringing tribe together, we mentioned Druids earlier. There's a pan tribal nature to these druids, maybe where they come together from multiple tribes. In meetings to debate things in it at certain points. After this period. The Romans will think that the druids are so did the hotbed of resistance and target. Then the Romans could be very accommodating to your local traditions. As long as you didn't mess with them. If you cause trouble and they decided that these local traditions had something to do with it goodbye local traditions. So this is where some who will say that maybe we're not talking about an actual jennicide Here as much as we're talking about a cultural genocide may have a point there.

250 minutes

4:10:33

As we said before this jency question is somewhat clouded by the fact that the people in this story have a choice. Unlike those involved in the Second World War Holocaust right the choices submit and stay quiet or Die.

4:10:50

How does having a choice like that make this sort of a Holocaust if indeed that's the proper term for the Celtic August? How does having a choice make it different? But it obviously does from something like with the victims of the Second World War Holocaust went through.

4:11:07

I would also be remiss if I didn't at least point out.

4:11:10

Did this idea of choice may have been in illusion for most of the people in this story?

4:11:17

Caesar himself settle I don't know how well we can believe him that they will really only 3 classes to use a modern term in the garlic society. You had the Knights Inn. Basically, the stock receipt in the nobility. You had the Druids and then you had everyone else, said everyone else is basically a slave.

4:11:36

This is probably Roman hyperbole in and misinformation whatnot archaeologist like Berikon Live.

4:11:42

When John Collins will point out that there's a lot more a new wants to something like that. The Caesar points out, but he's point might be well taken? How many people if you give the choice of you know if you just acquiesce to Roman conquest and submit everything will be fine. But if you don't you all.

4:12:00

Dude, I'm be sold into slavery? How many people get to make that choice in that garlic society. How many people are in that decision. I would submit that it's probably likely in common sense that most of the people in this situation or simply caught up in the gears of history. Like most people in any other period.

4:12:19

Sometimes it seems like we're all just along for the historical ride doesn't it.

4:12:25

In this case, Cesar will spend the entire campaign season of 53 BCE, essentially punishing.

4:12:34

Punitive expeditions, finishing off battles small things as Adrian Goldsworthy said he campaigns. The entire campaign season. Galbally doesn't find a major battle what you doing, pacifying.

4:12:47

And it's ugly.

4:12:49

Brutal business on the ground and we don't have details but Goldsworthy has a interesting line, where he says.

4:12:55

That's the archaeological record has shown.

4:12:59

The quantities of gold another precious materials found in sites in this area after Caesar's time, Ingall plummet.

4:13:08

He says quote.

4:13:10

Overall, the archaeological record shows in market decline in the quality and quantity of material culture and suggested the region did not recover for at least a generation.

4:13:20

And quote.

4:13:22

So quelling the spirit of the population to resist that's an age old counterinsurgency strategy.

4:13:30

You don't just go out to the rank and file the people, you go after their leadership as we said it's easier to turn this one. Um it seems highly respected figure. It's hard to draw any other conclusion considering what his demise created in terms of resentment procedure to terms with this. Golik leader Namako or a CO is in part responsible. There was somehow involved in this resistance. Maybe secretly supplying them with something we're having Caesar just die.

4:13:59

So he has him flogged to death.

4:14:02

With the death of the you think of a bullwhip an electrical cord hitting you until you die and then Caesar had his head cut off with just an extra twisted. The knife giving the religious reverence. The garlic people in the Celtic people have for the head.

4:14:19

And then

4:14:20

Caesar get swept back into the maelstrom of Roman politics because all of a sudden you know if the Roman ship of state has been found a ring for a long time, and taking on water all of a sudden this year, the ship just.

4:14:36

Go straight down in the bow that the Stern of it sticks straight up in the air and all of a sudden its Teteringen Caesar. Of course, because this entire life of his revolves around Roman politics and how he's doing it gets drawn back in the situation. There is right, there is killing the Senate, house is burned down.

4:14:55

And the garlic Celtic people here of this.

4:14:59

And they think maybe Caesars not coming back with the same time, they're upset about this nobleman being whipped to death. They are upset about the pacification. There's a whole bunch of tribes Adrian Goldsworthy reminds me.

255 minutes

4:15:14

That are some of the most powerful tribes. In all some of the most sophisticated to the ones who have the most contact with Rome, which is why most of the my room and friends, which is why up until this time they haven't really participated in the defensive golf course they run the Roman side.

4:15:31

There starting to realize.

4:15:33

That the Roman side is going to control all of them at some point you may be a more favorite try. But the Roman domination. But you're still under Roman domination. Goldsworthy does a great job explaining the situation he writes quote?

4:15:47

Caesars understanding and manipulation of tribal politics was generally good, but over the winter a 5352 BC. His policy failed badly. There were a number of reasons for this failure, but it's route with a growing sense of the extent to which his presence and change things.

4:16:03

This is especially true of the Celtic Golik peoples of central and southern golf. One of the 3 broad groups into which Caesars Commentaries divided quote and quote the whole of golf. These tribes have not yet filed against Caesar to any meaningful degree. Although it was in their lands at the campaigns against Helviti and Ariovistus had been waged dominating the trade routes with the Roman World tribes like to eat are we so kwani and Arverni. We're wealthier and more politically sophisticated than the people to the North. They had a did Cesar and he in turn, his favorite the tribes. In leaders most sympathetic to him and he had thought or at least so he claimed on their behalf against the hell vidiian already own business now. Over the course of the next year. Virtually all of them would turn against him this was not.

4:16:53

Do your question of rebellion by those who did not receive the proconsuls favor and had watched his rivals were elevated above them, the rebels eventually included many Chiefs into it done rather well under Roman domination. That was at the heart of this new mood. The realization that Caesar and his legions were In all to stay. It would not be returning to the confines of the Tranzalpine province after a few swift campaigns room now expected or power to be IG knowledge don't a permanent basis throughout golf the ally had become a Conqueror without ever facing serious resistance from the Celtic peoples.

4:17:28

End quote.

4:17:30

Well, of course, they hadn't face series resistance customiser have been practicing. The divide and conquer strategy on that he been using these powerful tribe that were friendly derome against the powerful tribe that weren't and now the ones that are friendly. Derome realize that it doesn't matter. You know which side you alive with your going to be living under Roman control, either way.

4:17:52

And it makes them.

4:17:54

Receptive.

4:17:56

Did the ideas that come forward once it's clear that the political problems in Rome make trap? Caesar there while his legions are wintering In all.

4:18:06

What do you?

4:18:08

Argue all could unite against easier, especially while he was away.

4:18:15

Think of how crazy the movie idea would be.

4:18:18

Is some screenwriter developed a treatment based on the idea that all the North American tribes unite together in a common?

4:18:28

Afort militarily speaking to defeat the European colonists on the Eastern Seaboard. In I don't know 1650 will say.

4:18:40

They would of course I do it conducted their own Native American version of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. So the eastern tribes could track of across North American find out there's a West Coast and native living there rope them into the defense arrangement and then it some point.

4:18:54

You have this big face off between all the native tribes in North America against the relative newcomer Europeans.

4:19:03

It's too crazy to imagine that was not you would be able to suspend disbelief the premises, too far fetched.

4:19:11

That's what happens in golf.

4:19:14

That's why it's such a rare moment.

4:19:17

The divide and conquer strategy.

4:19:20

All of a sudden fails, all at once.

4:19:24

Andes tribal people realize their predicament at the same time, and are able to drop their age old animosities.

4:19:34

And decide together that it's now or never.

4:19:37

We're gonna maintain our freedom, even our freedom to fight each other for tribal supremacy down the road going to have to unite now and if eat this thread before its too late and it might already be too late.

4:19:52

Caesar getting rolled back into the politics of room opens up the door, Cesar says that.

4:19:58

Yeah, there's a lot of other grievance is there coming to a head all at the same time, including Caesars execution of that nobleman. Acha Reiko that he had whipped to death and he says that these Golik tribes come together to make some sound like the leaderships come together in the deep dark Woods.

260 minutes

4:20:13

Archaeologist very kind of suggested would not be strange to think of the druids being the ones who sort of officiated an event like this bill for sacred reasons, but also because there's of the diplomats in the Penn National.

4:20:27

Thank the fires of these tribes. I mean, they would've been respected people to act as the referees in judges and arbitrators in a case like this. There are stories by the way I'm druids, stopping the marching to the middle of a battlefield between the lines of 2 arms about the clash and stopping the conflict of these are people with huge amounts of moral authority in Cutler suggestion for such a sacred important situation is this conspiracy in the Groves Caesar portrays it would not be.

4:20:56

Beyond the pale.

4:20:58

In fact consider.

4:21:00

What is tribes are pledging to do you would wanna have a signed contract in blood you wanna have the druids officiating. You wanna have a lot of witnesses in a few notary publics because that the challenge here.

4:21:12

Is that now everyone is aware with the steaks are?

4:21:15

Everyone knows now that if they Wrabel there gonna get the treatment that these tribes have had everybody wiped out have faced everyone understands the to fight back now is to wager everything.

4:21:31

Once again the Genesis of the story ground zero is Caesar himself.

4:21:36

I would love to know if it's even true how he found out about it.

4:21:40

What do you give an account of this tribal meeting in the deep dark Woods?

4:21:45

My Thomas homes translation of Cesarewitch dates back to the early 19 hundreds in his a and fabulous different words, I in it than most of the more modern ones instead of saying Gaules Pass. A fight over and over, he uses that word tranquilised, which gives a difference with the field.

4:22:02

He picks up the story where Caesars back in Rome dealing with all the political trouble and the Celtic people. Ingall hear about that political trouble with stand prompt this meeting in the Woods, here's how my homes translation of Cesar has it.

4:22:17

Picking up right after Caesar talked about all those problems in Rome, keeping him there quote the news of these events. Speedily made its way to Tranzalpine Gualle. The Gauls amplified embellish the story is the fact seem to warrant spreading rumors that Caesar was detained by the disturbances in the capital and that's why these fears conflict were raging. He could not rejoin his army, the opportunity stimulated the golf stimulated. I love that stimulated the golf they were already smarting.

4:22:46

Another good one they were already smarting under their subjugation to the Roman people and they now began unreservedly and boldly to form projects for war the leading men of golf mutually arrange meetings in secluded Woodland spots. They spoke bitterly of the death of vakko that was a man who is whipped to death by the way.

4:23:06

Telling their heroes that the same fate might be before them and deploring the fortune. They press the whole country. They made promises and offered rewards of every kind to induce volunteers to strike the first blow and risk their lives to restore the Liberty of Gaul.

4:23:22

And quote.

4:23:24

There he goes again, Caesar making these people in there sound like the one you want to get behind right Gaul Liberty.

4:23:32

Would oppose that right to be Darth Vader to oppose that? What Caesar doing?

4:23:38

Yes, we said earlier the experts disagree Caesars right now on multiple planes here on, there's lots of speculation. Some of it's fun. I'll just give you one of the ideas out there that might be again speculation.

4:23:50

Might help explain the what do you been doing this whole time we've been making the Celtic side out to be somewhat abnormal?

4:23:58

There's an idea out there, the solar setting the stage.

4:24:01

For what happens a generation or 2, down the Rd after they conquered all these people.

4:24:08

I mean, you have to come to sell the idea back in Rome, a little bit don't. You don't listen don't worry will incorporate Gaul into wrong, but there is Similitude Bull.

4:24:18

You know for sure, there on Tractebel in the not house broken in their culture is substandard by Roman um.

4:24:24

Measure out, but we can fix that, you know couple generations will turn them into good Romans. The way you can tell is because look at how they have our same values, I mean, if you put these?

4:24:36

Phrases and concepts in the mouth of a Roman character in a Roman stage play the Roman audience is gonna cheer.

4:24:46

In other words, you soon of making the case, according to one of these theories. I read where the Gauls are Trainable. But the Germans are never going to be house broken. Therefore we can incorporate the Gauls down the road you know after we break into the yoke of Empire.

265 minutes

4:25:03

Can teach him up right look at how well those goals in short haired gollobin doing now for 5060 70 years you know, we could we could make these people into good romanzen you can tell just look at how there spouting phrases that would make them good Romans today.

4:25:17

It's an interesting idea and it would explain.

4:25:20

I'm why Cesar makes their cause sympathetic as he's crushing it.

4:25:25

It does sound a little bit like he misjudged how serious it was.

4:25:30

When he got word of it back in Rome. This situation is starting to mellow out a little bit back there, he says.

4:25:36

And here's about these problems, but is one historien pointed out you know, he conquered this area. What 456 years ago. Initially and he's had problems with it every year headaches. Right sparks, the way we describe the movies are in headaches and he doesn't know it. Yet this is more like a stroke.

4:25:53

And all the sparks, we talked about earlier finally fan into a general forest fire.

4:26:00

As all of golf will go up basically in rebellion, including the great friendly tribes of Rome.

4:26:08

And it starts with one of those moves, the tribe does as a way of soda dipping their dagger in the assassination victimis, saying OK. I'm in it involves tried that's always been hostile to the Romans that is the one that steps forward allegedly at this Woodland conspiracy. It says will strike the first blow and go after this hillfort town.

4:26:29

Of a Celtic tribe that's full of Roman traders and businessman and after they take the town, they massacre all the Romans.

4:26:39

So essentially saying the rest the tribes OK. We agreed to do this we're all in there's no going back for us who's next.

4:26:46

And the rhythm of the story is interesting because you will have the tribes join the rebellion.

4:26:54

You know usually in big chunks, but even been all along the way some big tribal at the last moment change sides and and so slowly but surely the rebellion gains steam.

4:27:06

The massacre that kicks it off the we mentioned earlier, the news about spreads like wildfire in the central Golik tribes go up in flames, except for the ones most loyal around the evening. We are the are the big try that matter here, there the ones who initially went to Roman said. We need help with this Germans been brought it. I mean, this is D Alliah Vallies for the Romans in this region, so they're the ones that they worry bout. That's where the Romans get all their supply help the grand that's where they store their hostages when they take them from other Golik Tribbitt sort of their administrative center and all these are good allisson we can trust them.

4:27:44

Well.

4:27:45

On paper, it may look that way. But remember we said earlier. These Golik tribes are not United and even Cesar says there splittin rifled factions so think Democrats and Republicans Tories and Labour me. Whenever you wanna say right here. Your 2 sides of the coin in maybe just because of tribe is taking a particular course of action. It may be like 51% of the tribe wants to do it and 49% doesn't.

4:28:11

So, sometimes it doesn't take a whole lot of change.

4:28:14

To sort of make the scales tip the other way, and when the first big tribe of gaules commit this massacre of Romans. It's all in the number of these tribes start to get up and eat 'cause. Its Cesar says that's kind of the garlic character anyway right so exciting happening in wanna get on board.

4:28:33

By the time he realizes how bad things are.

4:28:36

He's in trouble because he's a long way from the action and he's got enemies between him.

4:28:42

In Roman, northern Italy now.

4:28:45

Angawi armies are so the first chapter of this story has Caesar doing amazing things. Let's be honest. He's an amazing guy in the speed of movement that he employees for example, is crazy, and his audacity. Take the great calculated risk. Alexander would have jumped off the Cliff in darkness and whatever happens, happens. I'm a God right see your t calculated risk. But his audacity in his speed is continually on display in so he manages to get back to his armies is always manage to break out of a of an ambush with more these try to start going the other way.

4:29:23

Well, this is going on.

4:29:26

8 figure emerges on the scene that we only really know of because of Caesar, but he's.

4:29:34

Fascinating anyway could be an example of that Beam see idea. We talked about earlier. You know how the celts might of been caught in the BMC because they were in transition from a more ferocious barbarian way of life to use it turn from 100 years ago.

4:29:51

Anymore Romans existence in the day they had sent may be lost in my court. Jester silly theory. The ferociousness of the more barbarian try.

270 minutes

4:30:00

Not yet ganvie advantages that comes with being able to handle logistics and supply and then finance an organization all these Roman things.

4:30:09

This person that will crop up at the last available moment.

4:30:14

Will try to turn the Celtic armies into something that can fight the Romans.

4:30:21

Because just because you can make a lot of garlic tribe decide to join the rebellion and maybe grab hold of more Warriors than they've ever been able to put together in one place in golf. You still can't feed them right. We learn that earlier and seizures. Konquest these arms can't just get bigger they have to get better.

4:30:42

I may have to be able to support bigger, better armies. So how do you do that will enter?

4:30:49

This amazing character.

4:30:52

You can pronounce his way several different ways. You could have fights over it. I've always gone. With their can get her ex, but there soon generates is also popular.

4:31:01

He is the great unifier of the garlic people in the last possible moment.

4:31:09

You know when resistance is possible.

4:31:13

He appears in the scene.

4:31:15

As a King by the time, Caesar runs into him.

4:31:20

He came from a tribe that was pretty out of this hole, Celtic Golik war thing at this point.

4:31:27

Name.

4:31:29

That's a try by the way that's one of those developed one that has more of a send it to more than all of Garchik sort of Roman system. I'm and werkin get her ex is dad had apparently been executed for trying to become King of these people taking him back to his old ways government by the way.

4:31:45

Only in Roman history with their Republic was new in that they had to the monarchy. The crime of trying to reinstall the monarchy was was equally harshly punished for this case. Remember you're supposed to be burned alive. If you try to do that. So I guess without really saying so, maybe there can get his dad was burned alive for trying to become a King.

4:32:06

When is whole rebellion takes place as the story goes that I can get her ex and his family members including uncle will be so to fight over what to do their can get her ex will apparently be wanting to become a King and maybe take on the Romans do you uncle opposes them so they can get thrown out of his city. Cesar said he goes out and using garlic Liberty and Freedom S is as he is rallying cry rally. All these Caesars is Desperados and Anders but you could really see them is may be patriotic. Young garlic Warriors. Finally, ready to rise up. I mean, it depends on the way your viewing this they musta been pretty.

4:32:49

Decently intimidating because their can get her ex will come back to his home city, with all these desperados and Edinger's around him. Ascentia Lee launch a cool if you will against his home city become the King of those people and then begin to rally tribes together.

4:33:09

These trials begin to see da Thor Iti to him as a war leader, which is very unusual in the Celtic world.

4:33:17

Historian Classicist Myglam sage.

4:33:20

Points out that very can get her ex didn't start this rebellion against the Romans. But he quickly came in and so did took it over.

4:33:30

He sent embassies everywhere informed alliances. Sage says many names all these big important tribes that you can get a response to communicate with and say listen. The time is now remember it's only been a few years since Caesar Conquer. This place so these are all recently subdued peoples.

4:33:50

And they sort of understand that this is how it's going to be in less they move at some point in their can get her to sending embassy to all these tribes, saying that point is now.

4:34:02

Michael am stage right there can get her ex was chosen the warleader of these tribes and began implementing policies.

4:34:12

That were very on garlic in nature.

4:34:15

But the Roman like Caesar could appreciate because they're more like Roman standard sage right quote their can get wrecked was chosen as commander and quickly said about organizing the rebel army in accordance with standard garlic procedure. He demanded and received hostages from each of his allies is pledges of good faith and issued orders to them to provide a specific number of soldiers. The Allied Army, he enforces orders with for roshes punishments that included execution and torture. This is it extraordinary development during his campaigns in golf. Caesar had faced individual tribes or coalitions on the battlefield. Perhaps the largest was that of the Bell Game 57 BC. However, it needs conflux. There is no hint of any central organization among allied tribes after Caesar's initial refusal to.

275 minutes

4:35:05

The Belgic Army, the tribe simply returned home to face Caesar individually. There can get her ex represent an entirely new direction in Golik resistance to the Romans for the first time their opponent was a centralni organized and directed army that represented in alliance of a number of different tribes. Its creation was in part due to the extraordinary personality of your can get her ex and also to the effects of the Roman conquest, the goals repeated failures against Caesar had led to the realization that their traditional military methods were no longer adequate. The Roman army. Ingall was too large to be dealt with without a collective effort. Importantly, it provided a model of a highly organized and centralized army that they can get it correctly saw was the only possibility of defeating the Romans.

4:35:54

End quote.

4:35:56

Change goes on to point out that there can get it is try was friends with the Romans and that it was not unusual for garlic noblemen. A friendly tried to serve with the Romans on campaign is Allied Kaverin. It's possible although he points out, we have no evidence when we the other than very can get everything done this. Once Upon a time, too, and maybe was quite familiar with the way the Romans fought.

4:36:20

Adrian Goldsworthy even suggests the possibility that Caesar and werkin gatherings knew each other personally.

4:36:28

From years before this period, which would add it completely new layer dip things wouldn't it.

4:36:34

Nonetheless, there are some things that they can get. Erection now as the Supreme commander of the warlord of all these tribes in golf with the exception of a few who are slowly but surely gonna come on board. They can control some things. Now, with greater authority than any garlic ruler since Cesar first arrived on the scene, but there's other things. You can't change. He can start ordering tribes around now, so instead of having to beg atrib you normally are enemies with her temporarily fighting with her supplies and and and troops in what you can order it.

4:37:05

So you can begin to.

4:37:07

Mimic in a maybe less efficient way things like Roman supply and.

4:37:14

Working together and telling OneDrive to go over here in another tried to go over. There is part of a larger strategy, which is a huge improvement, but you're not changing the reality in the tactical level on the ground. You're not turning your Gawlik Warriors with their swords in their Shields in the Roman legionaries. You're not inventing centuriones you're not getting battlefield disciplining drill an organization at that level.

4:37:38

So you still can't face the legions in the field.

4:37:42

Enterkin gallery seems to know this because he's going to be famous for telling the rest of the golf that they have to do something that runs against their nature in terms of this heroici thoz. He tells them they're essentially going to have.

4:37:57

Hey gorilla, Warinner going to have to adopt a scorched earth strategy and are going to have to destroy.

4:38:04

Their stuff and where they live and everything in order to defeat these Romans. Now we talked earlier, about some of the greatest tragedies in human history being.

4:38:14

Win some of the things on the list that you're willing to die for become the cost of other things on the list that you're willing to die for?

4:38:21

And this is the greatest test in the history of any Golik leader that we seen.

4:38:27

Well, maybe anywhere in the history books, where you are going to have members of rival tribes, making decisions that tell you, you have to burn down your homes in your city and leave.

4:38:40

The fact that these tribes listen.

4:38:44

And agree to adopt estrategia werkin get directions is a sign one of the desperate times and 2 of his unrivalled authority for the first time in history, golf or most of it anyway is acting under the control of soda.

4:39:00

Remind one will not have said.

4:39:04

But it create a situation where.

4:39:07

The goals are now at least on par with Caesar in the ability to have a United strategy in this is never before been the case.

4:39:18

Just because you have more power than any garlic warlord. You can find in the previous history. Book doesn't mean you're the one who always gets to decide what to do.

4:39:28

We all know right wars a game of season initiative and sometimes responding to the other person doing that, sometimes you get to play offense, but sometimes the other guy has the ball right.

4:39:38

In this case, there will be games that both Caesar and veresen get. It will play with the cities and so does ironic that one of the things.

4:39:47

Don't force telling the Celtic people have to burn all these cities. Where do all the major encounters happen outside these Golik towns or cities?

4:39:55

Much of the counter involve siege is in the attempt to release he just varies political reasons. Cesar will show up on the scene, it go. Bam bam and take a couple of town's real fast, reminding the Celtic people that they cannot stand up to Roman siege is very well. Then they will defeat. Some garlic Calvary in a skirmish order for minding the golf. They can't face it, Jerome and field tactics and field armies very well, either So what do you do then?

280 minutes

4:40:22

This is with the strategy comes into play of.

4:40:26

It was scorched earth type deal so very can get rich, according, according to Caesar. We should emphasize that gives this big speech for you. Tell him you gonna have to destroy everything. It's great. It's worth quoting in full and notice at the end by the way.

4:40:39

Free throws up one of those.

4:40:42

You are you lose everything kinds of pictures to these people right. I realize I'm asking you to do a lot and it's a bunch of things you be willing to die for maybe but it's there to preserve other things, you be willing to die for remember the Steaks.

4:40:55

This from the essay Handford Addition in this is Cesar, putting this into their can get it reaches mouth remember.

4:41:02

Do you think you will mention these other cities that he's now taking already on the way to dealing with this rebellion and they sound like names of the Lord of the Rings don't, they quote.

4:41:13

After this series ever versus at Villanow Doonholm and send a bum and novillo doing them. There can get. Eric some in his followers to a council of war and told them that their plan of campaign must be completely changed. This is there can get a restocking, according to Caesar quote. We must strive by every means he said to prevent the Romans from obtaining fourrag and supplies. This will be easy. Since we are strong and cowberry in the season is in our favor. There is no grass to cut so the enemy will be forced to send out party to get Hey from the Barnes and are cavalry can go out everyday and see that not a single one of the returns alive? What is more when our lives are at stake. We must be prepared to sacrifice our private positions along the enemies line of March. We must burn all of the villages.

4:42:02

Farms within the radius of the foragers can cover we ourselves have plenty of supplies because we can rely upon the resources of the people in his territory. The campaign is conducted but the Romans will either succumb to starvation or have to expose themselves to serious risk by going far from their camp in search of food. We can either kill them or strip them of their baggage, which will be equally effective since without it. They cannot keep the field. We should also burn all the towns except those that are rendered impregnable by natural and artificial defense is otherwise. They may service refuges for sure. Coz I'm on our own number is giving me the chance of looting the stores are provisions another property that they contain.

4:42:44

You may think these measures harsh and cruel. But you must admit that it would be a still harsh your fate to have your wives and children carried off into slavery be killed, yourselves, which is what will inevitably before you if you were conquered and quote.

4:43:01

That is by the ways we have Caesar, pointing out, I guess you could read it did. This yes that's true that is what I'll do to them.

4:43:09

Cesar says that most of these tribes that were working with their can get rich complied. He says one of the burned 20 of their town simultaneously and you can see the smoke in the skies.

4:43:21

OneDrive big the other Golik tried not to make them burn their city down with the Special City. They said they were wrapped up in. It was one of the finest in all the golf. Please don't make them do that.

It's like. Please don't make me choose between one thing on my list that I'd be willing to die for and some other things on the list.

4:43:39

So you can get rich is softer than he seems another part of the story. Or maybe he didn't have as much authority as is suggested by Cesar but nonetheless. These people are able to get there city spared. This Hill top town of there's supposedly one of the arguments they made his listen. It's impregnable don't worry and then Ceasar took it.

4:44:01

This is the city of Avaricum.

4:44:04

And traditionally it's considered to be one of the 3 main encounters.

4:44:10

That form the military side of this garlic rebellion.

4:44:14

It's worth pointing out that in in the same way that the word pacification covers a ton of low level violence that doesn't quite reach the standards of making it into the history books talking about this. Golik rebellion and boiling it down to 3 sieges in the violence associated with that.

4:44:33

Is a?

4:44:34

Minimiser also of all the things that were going on so have under the radar under the historical radar so to speak.

4:44:42

Archaeologist Berikon Liftpoint, an interesting so ironic fact first of all you have your can get here, saying they're gonna have to bring the cities of the Romans have no high value targets. And yet here they are going after high value target anyway. All of the major encounters in this rebellion will happen around cities. So what happened there and they should be burned down should be able to each one has an excuse for why it still there.

285 minutes

4:45:05

I'm very kind of points out that what's up?

4:45:09

It's only in the parts of golf.

4:45:12

They have had significant contact with the Romans and become more Roman like that. You had these sorts of cities. For the Romans in Julius Caesar to target to begin with right if you go to the less civilized. I'm using air quotes with my hands are the less civilized, tribal North up with the Nervii. I in the Bell Gaarn, everything they don't even have cities like this, they are much more decentralized. You gonna have to change that tribal people out of their little you know, Hudson into the Woods. But here you can almost treat these gallex states remember. That's the way some translators translate. It now not tribes, but states you can almost treat them the way you treat the states in the eastern Greece with the Romans go there. They just go to the major population centers in Tekum Wars over.

4:45:57

Some garlic Tribsa, becoming more like the Romans of the Romans can fight the more like their traditional enemies. They can go after basically the Capitals of the states be administrative center, the tribal heart if you will.

4:46:11

Come with fries quote.

4:46:13

In dealing with the more urbanized tribes of central golf. Caesars tactic was simply to pick off the population centers, one by one. Such an approach would have been impossible. Among the tribes of Moruka and Beljica with this degree of centralization have not yet developed and quote.

4:46:32

No, it's funny, the knock on the golf is always been that they weren't able to work together.

4:46:36

And to take things to the next level developmentally speaking inform free example more organize states.

4:46:45

John Heywood I think with the author that I read that that went to complete 180 degrees on that theory and said that.

4:46:52

What would have kept the Kelsay for longer wish to be even more decentralized in his theory if I remember correctly was that it when the Romans faced other urbanized centers in other places Egypt. Greece any place like that, they would destroy those states in one are 2 battles because the other, centralized state brought all of its assets to one place in the Romans destroyed them there, but look how long again. If I'm remembering correctly. He said it took to defeat the celts and various other peoples of the Spanish and Portuguese area right of lusitanian all there, because those tribes were so divided and so decentralized you always have to keep going after another tribe. It's an interesting theory.

4:47:34

When this case, the fact that they were even cities at all for Caesar to target is a facet of the Gauls becoming more and more like the Romans and by the way this is something Caesar now portrays in his writings and it becomes a feature of what's going on in the longer the Romans around here now fighting the golf. Cesar says the more than golsar imitating the Romans in becoming even more dangerous so there's this now.

4:48:00

Undercurrent of need hear that not only have the golf, perhaps worthy of becoming Romans. We just trying to mop a little bit, but the more the contact, they have with us, the more like.

4:48:11

Romans there be coming here in battle, so we better hurry.

4:48:15

Add Avaricum Caesar in the Romans will be unable because of the fact that this hillfort. This city on a giant. Mesa is a good way to put it that's what these hillforts that become hilltowns that eventually morph into Hills cities in these more sophisticated garlic states are like right. It's it's not a man made feature. It's something with the lines in the Lord of the rings. It is still here. Since the dawn of time and then man put some fortifications on top of it of Eric Um has Marsh is all around it. So the Romans can't do their normal practice of building a giant wall around the whole place because we're gonna build in the middle of a swamp.

4:48:59

There's only one entrance to the place so it looks like if this were a gawlik besieging army they would be stymied, but of course, this is the Romans.

4:49:09

And over course of almost 30 days, they build a counter mountain. Maybe you could say it's hard to understand some of the sources talk about a ramp. Others talk about a mound, but essentially Caesar build something on one part of one side of the fortification to equalize the height.

4:49:28

And it takes the legionaries almost a month and it's like 400 feet long, about 80 feet high and you just Marvel at what the Romans are capable of doing and listen to a lot of other Angel armies could too. When you have that many people involved in labouring for 10 hours a day 7 days a week, you can get a lot done.

4:49:50

Number Romans Wolther building this are under pressure because they're can get her exit strategy of scorched earth is working. He's brought his armenische, keeping it 15 or 16 miles away from the Romans were building. Their siege engines and creating this giant mounder ramp and they're picking off Roman stragglers. The rooms look for food in there looking for food.

290 minutes

4:50:11

Already this strategy is starting to bite is one of the historians. Red Footed, you know that the scorched earth strategy is starting to bite.

4:50:20

What does she just working 2 in one point Cesar says the man in the Garrison decided gonna try to slip out and get the beer can get wrecked his army live to fight another day. The problem is, is that that count contains not just those Warriors, but their families 2.

4:50:35

And Cesar says their attempt to sneak out you know without alerting the Romans was foiled when the women started screaming and crying. You know when they realize the men were leaving begging and besieging them not to leave them to the fate of falling into the hands of the Romans.

4:50:52

So have screwed up their planet of the enemy because they were so loud in the.

4:50:57

Warriors had to give up their idea slipping away.

4:51:00

But it's an emotional reminder isn't it of the Steaks. You can get caught up in the that this happened, and then this happened.

4:51:07

This happen to forget that know we have women and children, screaming because they think their men are leaving because it's better to save at least the Warriors than to have everyone die right.

4:51:19

Because that's what's going to happen when less than a month after the siege started.

4:51:23

After a rainstorm begins in the Gauls so they lose their focus on one part of the wall for a second. The Romans take over the wall.

4:51:33

Close off the city Indiana that kinda point out of you ever been to like one of the old towns in some of these European cities on stock home for examples got one or when you walk through it, you realize how really narrow and then small all these old fashion medieval an ancient streets were in all the little side street and how clogged they could be if you like crowds of people trying to oh I don't know.

4:51:57

Get away from pursuers the same time, Caesar points out that every place gets choked with people trying to get away.

4:52:05

And out of a population of 40,000, Cesar says about 800 survived.

4:52:12

The Romans killed every one man, woman child old infirmed everything.

4:52:18

And Goldsworthy in others point out that this might not have been part of Caesars Plan. He will be very strategic is he should've put down this rebellion who gets clemency and who gets absolutely decimated be important tribes that used to be friendly to the Roman. Caesars tend to be kind of light handed with right over sorry you left, you should come back to the Romans right. But the people that have been nasty. The whole time of the Romans had nothing to politically game with oftener use examples.

4:52:48

In this case, Tho Cesar is giving up a lot of money when these people are being killed in the streets of America.

4:52:55

And even these soldiers who stood to get a card right they might've gotten their own slave. But they are busy killing the booty in these narrow streets of this golik town.

4:53:06

And some of the stories goesworthy I think made the suggestion that this might have been an army that was just so angry for all sorts of reasons, including the killing of that. The Roman businessmen. Traders to kick off this rebellion that they couldn't be controlled or were mad enough to think the hell with the money to help with the slave to help with the booty. I'm killing these people.

4:53:26

When I did.

4:53:27

It's another one of those tragedies that goes into stomping down Golik Resistance.

4:53:35

Normally a disaster like Avaricum would've heard a war leaders reputation. But Caesar suggestion. It's not hard to believe that it actually helped American get her ex is.

4:53:45

Because he's been one of the people that said, we should be burning this town down.

4:53:51

And then when his advice wasn't chosen because he's not an absolute ruler in any sense of the word. He would've chosen almost like an outside contractor. If you wanna look at it. This way by these trying to they don't like his leadership, thinking Volt single earring groups.

4:54:05

In this case, he looks like he was in the right all along. So after Avaricum. The Golik Army continues to harass and shadow. Caesars Romans remember, she's Romans are the only Roman army here, so there's no other pincer. They can come around and do stuff if Cesar wants to do something in 2 places at the same time, he has to split the Army, he's got which means that the golf keep Caesar's army so the pod somewhere. They are free to move around and do things in every other area of the theater for example. There can get it reaches continually sending his emissaries to all these other tribes have enjoyed it.

4:54:41

There's one in particular that would transform that situation if they're can get it could flip them.

4:54:48

It's this try, but so close to the Romans, the easy way.

4:54:52

The ones who got us involved in this story to begin with that, so called ruined if Acacius is a member of the do, we try bright?

295 minutes

4:55:00

The reason that they are so important is because that's who is providing Caesar's food right now.

4:55:06

In there guarding his food supply lines also with their Warriors what would happen if they flipped.

4:55:14

So Fast forward to what's going on Cesar and this Golik Army or sooner, shadow each other if they can get her to take his army up into some Hills around this.

4:55:25

Let's call it a very large Hill or a Mini Mountain.

4:55:30

It's very odd tops. It's 2400 plus feet above the ground level and this is another garlic. Hill city or hilltown or 4 defied town or whatever definition you wanna use and once again. There's no excuse. White escape the burning. This is very can get. Areces tribal capital. This is his home basically so maybe it's a do as I say not as I do situation you all burn down your town, but I'm not burning down mine.

4:55:59

Or maybe this place was so easily defended and so hard to take that their can get a refund was a place. I could pin Caesar down while he destroyed his supply and buy getting this friendly tribe that was providing seizures food to flip.

4:56:16

Caesars in terrible trouble camped out in front of this City College or go be out in Gergovia is normally considered the second big encounter one of the Big 3 as part of these Golik Wars.

4:56:30

It's also one will you have to take Cesar and even less face value because this is not the high watermark of Caesars generalship?

4:56:39

And so for a piece of propaganda like these were commentaries if you're ever gonna shave. The truth and try to make yourself look better and spend things. This is gonna be the place where you do it.

4:56:50

Normally Caesar would look at a place like this and think let starve it out. But given the supplies situation, he be more like that with his army to starve before the people injured.

4:57:00

If you did.

4:57:02

What's more Caesars a little light on troops at this point. This is one of the movies that some have criticized over the areas. But we told you earlier. Cesar needs 2 things done simultaneously in different places. He doesn't have another I mean, Romy can call on his display his own and before this battle. This siege Gergovia. He does and sends out about 40% of his forces to go handle something involving a couple of other tribes it need a good thrashing.

4:57:30

But it means that you're gonna be there, not there, so when you start considering oh maybe in closing an entire Mini Mountain with walls and fences and things to cut it off the outside world and you look at your 6 liegende you may be thinking to yourself. I really don't have enough people for that kind of strategy right now.

4:57:51

Not describing siege is always difficult so I'll just use. These these rough ideas, but basically when Caesar gets there and sees what he's up against he starts nibbling. It rain features nearby that will help in freezer. There's a little Hill nearby where he takes that Little Hill. The golf haven't really defended it'll be harder for the golf to get water. So it becomes this little game of nibbling on terrain features.

4:58:12

Building campsen doing all this other stuff and then why he's doing it, he gets word.

4:58:18

That the EG we have slipped and hit the baggage in his rear is compromised and the food may not be arriving so he takes a large portion of the Legion. He's working with your gold yet and goes down to deal with the problem with the supply lines in while he's gone.

4:58:35

Supposedly, there can get it reeks in the Warriors come out of the the Heights down the Hill in attack this Roman camp.

4:58:42

Roman camp built for like 6 legiones, but now only defended by 2 would you can see would make it difficult?

4:58:50

Cesar gets word of this when he's on his way back from dealing with the supply line problems with like 4 Legiones and when he gets to the Campisi's that they have managed to beat off the assault with artillery and all kinds of things, but there in there in a bad way.

4:59:06

Devices strategy where he's going to faint an attack on one side get all the Celtic Warrior to go to that side of the top of the Mesa of the hillfort and then Cesar will attack on the on the far side. That's now abandon with some more troops so he set this up eventually get to the point where the golf take the bait. They all come to the one side of the Mesa to deal with seizures paint. Caesar's legions around the supposedly now undefended other side. They start doing really well. They get through the the main wall there starting to cut up some of the camp in the women in the children and I mean, maybe this is gonna win and then the Celtic Warriors. It been drawn off to the other side of the Mason by the faint.

4:59:45

Come back in Mass.

4:59:50

There can get directions self might have led the cavalry charge.

4:59:54

That sent the Romans careening.

4:59:57

Back down the Hill.

300 minutes

5:00:00

Cesar will get together a bunch of legions that are not involved. At the bottom somewhere near the bottom of the Hill, so that his own troops can then hide behind them and his new troops to run involved in the combat can Ward off the pursuing kelz.

5:00:13

Cesar says will admit to.

5:00:15

Like 700 dead legionaries between 40 and 50. These people are some Tyrians.

5:00:21

There's been an interesting debate, you can read on whether or not. This is the Roman habit of encouraging.

5:00:28

Well, Conspicuous Braviary would be one way of putting it if you wanted to spend it one way, reckless endangerment for personal gain might be another.

5:00:37

Caesar kinda blames of that a little bit at the same time.

5:00:41

Caesars in ink, urging this kind of audacity forever. You know where these legionary in there soon. Tyrians are rewarded for throwing themselves into the breach of being extra tough an extra aggressive in this case. Cesar says that one point, these gals will be throwing Bezdead Romans over the walls head first, and Cesar will name at least one of these dead Romans being thrown over the wall by the Celtic warrior who killed him by name. So you know the guy who you're seeing thrown over the walls dad. I mean, it, it sounds like it was a nasty situation. Some historians had suggested the casualties could be a great deal higher than Caesar was admitting to.

5:01:22

The military sent back that Caesar suffers Gergovia.

5:01:27

Combined with the losing.

5:01:30

Ovidie we tried to the rebellion.

5:01:33

Begins to flip yet more tried to emphasize how quickly this is happening. Everything were talking about here is happening in 52 BCE.

5:01:42

Normally, when you thinking, this period, you think of an era of almost glacial like operations with were talking about arms advancing or seijas or anything. Just could take years. All of this is happening in 52, which shows you how quickly events are unfolding.

5:01:59

And by the way Caesar was not giving conventional dates, so you can say that all this stuff happened in this one year, but you don't know when sometimes he'll give you an inkling of the season right. You can say with this happened, in the winter this happened in the spring or what have you.

5:02:13

But most armies I can think of from the ancient period well up until almost the modern era.

5:02:20

Would have a hard time dealing with the speed of something going this fast. I keep trying to imagine you know European Army from the Middle Ages trying to crush this revolt this quickly.

5:02:29

Part of it. Of course, is wrong, but the other party is and what sort of bad Karma Kuluk to the golf have that this happened that they get one of the great generals in all of human history. And I got the top of his resume when he's bragging about his God given qualities is going to put speed indecisiveness of movement.

5:02:49

Is it the couch already didn't have enough?

5:02:52

Going against them in this deal between the technology and the lack of centralization. All the things we've been talking about they gotta get this guy at this time, too.

5:03:02

In fact, it's worse than just that. Caesars political Internet as you might imagine from a guy holding his skills in the romov the late Republic are exquisite in his ability to read the proper way to respond to these tribes. In order to play them as much as he can you like it musical instrument is crazy?

5:03:23

Yes, I'm trying to get clemency. Others get wiped out and you gotta know how to play this game to keep most of them in your camper at least the 49% of the try. Maybe that wishes they were in your camp. But I'm currently in the mind already you think about guys. Coming from the era. Caesar was born in Marius and Sulla they might have been equally successful with, destroying these garlic armies.

5:03:45

But I imagine Caesars going to look like a great big softie when it comes to the genocide of the Holocaust were talking about it. It's Mary is Orsola dishing out the punishment.

5:03:57

Maybe everything will we talk about these historical genocides and crimes against humanity. All these modern terms. Maybe they all need to be graded on a curve em.

5:04:09

Melissa this point in the story. This is about the low watermark it. Caesars entire career in most other generals would be toasted this point.

5:04:20

Remember now this is an army. Caesars that was already feeling the bite of the scorched earth policy. So he he was not doing all that great to begin with the military said packager go be is not huge in the military since the Romans can suck up those casualties, but in a political since it's big.

5:04:37

Several stories will point out that this chapter is the Roman invincibility more tribes join the rebellion.
But bigger than that is the flipping of the tribe for all sorts of reasons, but just look at one of them.

5:04:50

The do, we control romnes administrative base in Goldar storage locker. If you will where they put all their stuff. While there traipsing around golf this city called know if you doing?

305 minutes

5:05:01

And when he do we flip they take novillo doing them with them.

5:05:06

Then they suck it almost as if they were conquering their own city, so that they can keep it out of the Romans hands? What did it have in it.

5:05:14

Here's historian Nick Fields, talking about neovia doing them and it's important to Caesar.

5:05:21

Quote.

5:05:22

Here, where to be found all his gaulish hostages. His grain reserves. His warchest remounts raise cowberry in the best part of the Army Baggage Department. Dorex there in the Morris, too young. Chieftains of the evening. We turned on the Roman Garrison at Novillo, doing them and slaughtered them together with that. Raiders got their release. The hostages divided. The money and carry this much Granas. They could transport and dump. The remainder in the River and torch the town and quote.

5:05:52

Feels actually set up a dumb which is the word for Golik Town.

5:05:56

The point is think about this from the Golik perspective.

5:06:00

This is in Apache raid the successful and it takes an enemy who is already reeling from Gergovia and stab them. In the back of this is a huge moment from a native perspective here.

5:06:13

And the potential ramifications that become possible now. Caesars defeat in the distance.

5:06:19

Well, that's a chance that the Native American tribes never had mean even if they had gone after the in very early settlements. In Virginia in places like that could they have wiped about forever could they have had the Europeans draw a line and say we're not crossing the ocean anymore because you can't live on the other side, the natives are kill. You same thing with Africa. It was just too late and technology since the odds with 21 sided but look at this here.

5:06:44

This is opportunity for the tribal people to win Caesars in trouble.

5:06:50

Think about just having the hostages does for a change in power, and authority here, Caesar had been keeping the sons and daughters of the powerful and important people of all these Golik tried hope to keep under his thumb and now all of a sudden they fall into the hands of the rebels enforce the rules can do any number of things with the right. They could be magnanimous give the back to these other goalie Tribsa say, Siegall stick together and by the way you want me a favor.

5:07:15

They can also, if they wanted to play Hardball say something like um. He doesn't have your children anymore. We do so you're joining the rebellion right.

5:07:25

The last now that the do, we are on board. We are told that their can get directions now a big tribal meeting.

5:07:32

In this meeting BED. We are apart of it actually make a play for the leadership there smack down.

5:07:38

And almost all the other tribes in golf. Plutark says that there were like 300 tribes or states that Caesar some. Dude, I can't believe it anywhere near that many somebody's may have been really, really small but let's just say it's a 120 150. Cesar says he's got like 2 that still support him. So we can get this big meeting with all these are trying to giant Pangala Council and you do wonder if say the Native Americans or some other people who are victims of colonial conquest ever were able to get all of their people together in one place with the representatives of them and also try to United speak with one voice.

5:08:15

This is an amazing thing when you think about it all of golf with the exception of a couple of tribes are United against Cesarine Caesars in trouble.

5:08:23

This historic moment.

5:08:26

He's basically cut off from getting new troops in Italy at this point. And remember, the Romans don't use their own Calvary anymore? What did they use well local allied troops?

5:08:37

Who is allied to the Romans now so she's got an issue? Where did he get his cowboy from? Well, this is where we find out.

5:08:45

I don't know those who enjoy little Teeny tactical things on the battlefield end up having perhaps huge effect on history. Love this part of the story with this is we find out that she's been making friends on the other side of the Rhine. With those German people that you can house break. You can't you can incorporate you can't assimilate but if you need to cavale bad enough you can maybe workout a deal.

5:09:11

Start bringing this.

5:09:13

Friendly German cowberry from some of these tribes. Maybe that were the enemies of the people. Caesar was beating up on in Germany and we have their appearance and it's

5:09:23

Did deviled will take wargaming for instance, most wargaming rulesets when talking about this? German Calvary in this period gave it special powers.

5:09:34

Especially special powers over Celtic troops, you know why? Because the Celtic Truth or scared of them.

5:09:43

These are the same kinds of forces remember that, Caesar had noticed had driven off, many more times their number and garlic calvelli earlier.

5:09:52

So what's going on, you know, we talk about toughness or intimidation or all these qualities that are hard to quantify? What do you get when you take 400 German Calvary? Which is not enough to make a big difference anywhere in the size battles and they dominate.

310 minutes

5:10:09

What kind of Superman? Are we talking about here and people have wondered ever since now we can go into the young quantifiable things but they are of course on quantifiable.

5:10:18

You could talk about the fact that these Germans had a way of utilizing um infantry with the cowboy reason they have one light infantrymen to go with one. Cavalry men and they were supposed to operate together in the light infantrymen supposedly would hold on to the reins of these horses. They rolled into battle and it would almost act like a knight with his Squire and this combined arms mobile infantry formation was unique and deadly.

5:10:45

There are also some theories that these Germans weren't just your average German warrior. But this is more like you know a bunch of German adventures and it's like the Magnificent 7 or something but it's the Magnificent 400 or later, maybe 600 and they're all these you know b German.

5:11:02

Germans you make other German scared right so it might be that kind of a deal that explains why there so dominating on the battlefield once again. It's kind of confusing isn't it? Why Caesar, who's writing this propaganda piece to please. Roman audience blah blah blah? Why is he saying such nice things about the Germans and giving them so much credit.

5:11:21

Are you figure out especially for in an expert like yours? Truly all I can say is that in a number of different encounters. These Germans are gonna make all the difference in the world. In fact, the reason that we're going to have the climactic battle. This great in the SharePoint right? That's with the German general say this. This this climactic intense decide the whole war in a situation in this one city.

5:11:44

Is maybe because this German Cavalry turn the tide at the battle with their can get wrecked his symbols all the damn. Cavalry can get his hands on practically.

5:11:55

Tell the other tribes eating want any infantry, he already had 80,000.

5:11:59

This many historians will point out 80,000 is a lot to feed already at this point in the story and again, you gotta love the way these things work.

5:12:08

There could get erc may want that infantry more as a way to hold some of these tribes hostage. We got your Warriors be good right? Don't slip back to the Romans.

5:12:17

But at this late stage in the game in the military development. It's their cavalry that everything.

5:12:24

In Caesar will end up re hooking up with those forces that he did send a way to do. Other things before Gergovia. They will start to March in a direction that looks like maybe there, leaving.

5:12:36

And this is where may be very can get hurts gets confused lot of different histories portray this as an attempt to attack the Romans as the Romans March away. But there can get directions put 15,000 Cavalry Rotol together. All of whom have pledge to not go home to their wives and children or anything in less they have reading twice through the Roman column.

5:13:01

Attack these Romans on the March.

5:13:04

And the German Kalbarri, working in conjunction with the legionaries once again saves the day.

5:13:11

And.

5:13:12

Sends their can get erection his counselor reeling back towards the 1st place to rally which is this Golik City once again remarkably untouched by flames.

5:13:22

Call Dalicia.

5:13:25

Cesar says by the way the pursuit of the garlic army so closely that he kills 3000. Members of their rearguard as they try to cover the Army's retreat into the?

5:13:36

Hilltown of Elisia, you can say Lyssia to some people do.

5:13:42

This is a typical Golik Hilltown in the sense that it is protected by natural features to make it pretty tough to take.

5:13:52

Myglam sage says it is a plateau near Dijon, France, right now about 1300 feet high about 1.2 miles long 650 yards wide.

5:14:06

On 3 sides, the train is like impossible rivers. Craggie rocky terrain. But on one side on the West. It's a nice gentle slope a couple miles long.

5:14:17

So is another history and pointed out think of a Peninsula and it's a little like that, so very can get it retreats to this city.

5:14:25

But then turns around the block the entrance to the Peninsula with this army dig the ditch builds a 6 foot tall wall made of loose stones and above him since this hillfort city with.

5:14:36

The tribe whose home it is a lot of civilians and you should've waited for Caesar Caesar shows up takes a look at this place.

5:14:45

And besides will this is something you have to put under siege obviously.

5:14:50

But how do you put a?

5:14:53

Play's this large under siege is huge and ever if you really wanna go there. But as we've said all along the Roman.

315 minutes

5:15:00

You want the great secret weapons is the fact that there legionaries are about half construction worker have soldier.

5:15:08

Istorie Michael I'm sage, writes about scizor looking at Alicia deciding what to do quote.

5:15:14

Since direct assault was precluded the only alternative was to capture the town by Cedege which required the construction of massive fortifications. One of the striking aspect of the golf war is the engineering skill. The Romans displayed in constructing sees fortifications.

5:15:31

Part of a wider development in the use of fortifications by the Romans. They were used extensively not only in sieges, but also on the battlefield. The Romans constructed a continuous sejwal over 10 miles in length. The clothes off Alicia and quote.

5:15:47

Well, that's just for starters, but basically once werkin get a ressie? What's going on here in the scope of? What Caesars about to do, he launches a cavalry attack down that one, gentle slope of the Peninsula. This plateau is occupying and get into a dust up with both Caesars Legionaries and Caesars, German Calvary and once again. The German cowboy make the difference and they pursue along with the Romans. These Golik Cowboy remember to Cesar says get caught up kind of in their own defenses. And they start clogging up around the narrow part and they get just massacred in crowds of people is crushed to death.

5:16:26

So Cesar says that this tells bear can get it reeks that he's not going to be able to break this sejem self and also as this on in for vacation starts to become complete? What are you gonna do with Calvary anyway so she's your sister?

5:16:41

You wasted all the cowboy back to their home try because this is an army that is a consolidation of a bunch of Allied tribes not right almost everyone.

5:16:50

So you send the cowboy back to their own tribes and Cesar said he tells them to bring a relief army.

5:16:55

You put together a rising of the tribes and come here and save us, we got Caesar pin down right here.

5:17:01

Is there can get rich? Is sending this cowboy all back to their home tribes. Caesar again putting words in his mouth has him, saying, You know, don't leave me here don't forget who fought for your Liberty.

5:17:12

When something to the effect of Oh, yeah, I have 80,000 of your countrymen with me. You would wanna see them to either would you?

5:17:18

Would you bring us to numbers here for second because who the hell knows what else you gonna say about these ancient battles. Sometimes you can reliably come close to something on the Roman's I can still say something like we had this many legions. You know they're probably understrength. You know they probably got you know part time. Combattants, where their service in camp. Hill personal that the other so you don't know, but you can ask him a better on the garlic numbers. You only have see you to go from and he's outrageous.

5:17:45

But every story and says what are you fill the blank with?

5:17:50

I like the way Adrian Goldsworthy figures out what's about to happen here.

5:17:55

You don't know the numbers of Kelce involved, but you can reliably say it involves more than ever been assembled a single place before.

5:18:03

Because this really far me that begins to come together is going to be according to Caesar absolutely enormous.

5:18:11

Now Caesar may have expected the relief army may not have accounts different interpretations differ on that front.

5:18:19

But if he didn't expect it at some point here is that it's coming. So he begins doing with this battle, or this see just kind of known for. He begins building another wall. Another fortification facing in the opposite direction from the one he's already made mostly completed.

5:18:38

So, in other words, he's besieging the.

5:18:42

Celticare me in this hilltown, while preparing to be besieged himself from without.

5:18:50

The woman armies gonna operate within 2 separate sejwal there. Gonna camp there. There Gonna, live there and they are going to starve out. This celticare me on the Hill, while frustrating the efforts of the relief army that showing up to rescue it.

5:19:08

So for visual purposes if you magina.

5:19:11

He'll reply to completely surrounded by fortifications eringa for vacations and then even larger ring surrounding that.

5:19:20

I read somewhere like a 14 mile circumference or something then visually you'll get the right picture.

5:19:27

Imagine.

5:19:28

Um watchtowers that had artillery in the my thought I read somewhere 1500 with an estimate. Somebody threw up there for the number of those watch towers. This is a place that's going to be able to house.

5:19:43

60 to 80,000 Roman soldiers and friends.

5:19:47

So you think of the size were talking about here has multiple can teach camp is it is a 40 in and of itself.

5:19:54

It has 23 things that are like A. The Roman word means little castles or little fortresses and it's crazy, the best short description. I ever read because they are hard to find because he even Caesar, who is normally very spare with words can't help it go on and on by Cesar standards about all these Pittsfield with sharp and Steaks and I mean, all these things that are awaiting the garlic Warriors on John worry wrote a great book. An Angel warfare. And he described the defenses, which is a weird word right there. Defense is in one sense. But there also the fortifications. Besieging the other army in another, this is how he described the fortifications, Alicia quote.

320 minutes

5:20:35

The Roman entrenchments Lincoln encircling Chaney Campsen, Foretz be in Erdreich was 20 feet wide with sheer size IE not tapering at the bottom and the main circumvallation was constructed 400 paces behind this ditch here there were 2 trenches. Each 15 feet wide, and 8 feet deep. The River was diverted to carry water into the Internet ranch wherever possible behind the trenches with a 12 foot earthwork in Palisade with antlered prongs projecting from it breastworks in battlements were overlooked by Terence at intervals of 80 feet.

5:21:16

Caesar also so the grounds beyond his fortification with prongs and pitfalls of various patterns. Illustratively your humorously termed lilies and Stingers, a parallel line of fortifications was then provided as an outer circumvallation against the inevitable really force. The inner perimeter with 10.1 miles long. The outer 12.9 miles and quote.

5:21:43

So if you want. These Gollach Warriors looking to strike a blow maybe a fatal blow in the defense or reconquest of garlic. Celtic Liberty and you show up here to do battle with the Romans before you even get to the actual place where the Romans? Are you know their standing behind the earth and timber fortifications, there behind all these defenses. You get to get through the gauntlet. The Gauntlet is waris points out starts with a huge 20 foot wide. It'll say how deep the other changes or 8 feet deep, so figure at least 8 feet deep trench.

5:22:23

That'll break up the momentum of a giant human wave charge won't, it but that's about 6 football fields. He says from the rest of the defense is when you run into them your running into things like a double line of trenches 15 feet wide feet deep, one of them filled with water.

5:22:41

You are also running into an this is something you can see you there zonecd enjoy it on the romance part when they say that they constructed all these little traps and they sound like the kind of traps when I was growing up the North Vietnamese the Vietcong. We set you know, these things were they put a big sharpen steak in a 3 feet in the ground and covered with leaves wait for someone to walk by but the Romans have like thousands of those in front of there.

5:23:07

Tranches and then they have um a bunch of other things that are similar, but disguise differently in the mix them altogether. So that as you're approaching know you're coming towards artillery range. The Roman start shooting at you, you're just starting to get your blood of your not worried about your step in and everything and then all of a sudden you run into all these traps.

5:23:27

And then right after that, Raptors you know the more trenches, and then you run into these prongs worry called them. I was reading how they did this, the Roman soldiers would go cut all these branches and then they would cut the ends of the branches and sharpen all the end and then they would arrange them in a way so that it was like a giant hedge of night thorns. I guess you could say in giant almost it's almost like ancient barbed wire and they would either put it at the bottom of one of these trenches or right as you were clamoring out of one of them so they are clamoring out of this 8 foot trench and you know that you're human wave.

5:24:00

It's been somewhat disrupted what did the top of the trench this.

5:24:03

Giant heads of prongs.

5:24:06

And all this of course, is before the garlic Warriors, even make it to the Romans Stockade in Earth and so the wall.

5:24:14

Mr. Nick Field says that 6000 trees were logged to create these fortifications.

5:24:22

They might've been tough for the.

5:24:24

Celtic people to over run without all that stuff in front of them and let's not forget the behind these fortifications of these very same legionaries that is beating. These Gollach Warriors. Most of the time in the open field without even having the help of fortifications.

5:24:39

Guard towers everywhere as we said artillery.

5:24:44

I need Caesar doesn't have all the advantages remember.

5:24:49

There is a reportedly 80,000. Let's lower that to something more believable say 35,000 Golik Warriors essentially in his rear that army, he's besieging.

325 minutes

5:25:01

If the Army from outside the ring at taxis are the relief army and he turns to face it will. He's got very can get it. Reeks in that army in his rear so they can coordinate their attacks.

5:25:15

Well, Caesars got a heck of a challenge in front of him if you are a tribal army trying to resist colonisation from one of those you know as we said those.

5:25:24

Technologically, more sophisticated more centralized power throughout history.

5:25:29

This is one of the better chances as I said your gonna find it's a gamble. This is wagering as we've been saying throat. This talk everything if you are these Celtic People's and get the same time.

5:25:42

This is a pretty good wager, it might be a bit of a long shot.

5:25:45

But this is a chance that you would think for example, Native American tribes would have given everything to simply have a chance to maybe win.

5:25:55

Maybe 80,000 Romans are here, we don't know how many Celtic people are coming in the really force.

5:26:00

But the people inside the besiege Hilltown don't know that it really forces coming at all.

5:26:07

Caesar points out there can get rich and his army up on the Hill for cut off from any news and information they had this due date in their heads when they think they were leaving Army's gonna show up at the Army doesn't.

5:26:19

Food starts running low and they start having these hardcore debates inside the Hill. Ford amongst various garlic leaders and people of note.

5:26:28

There's like 46 tribes, um.

5:26:31

I think she's a ride in a fight is involved in this things of this is a pan tribal group of people that are starting to think that there's no re leaving army coming maybe So what are we gonna do?

5:26:41

One group, wants to surrender another wants to charge out there and so don't like a giant bonzy charge of death right make a good song at least and then there's a third group, wants to hold out coz they think we're leaving army is coming in Caesar put one of these.

5:26:56

Fantastic speech is into the mouths of one of these one of the longest. I think I read the longest speech Caesar put in anybody's mouth in the whole commentaries and he means it in a bad way. He want you to look at this people think aren't they disgusting. Because this golik guy is saying, You know, we need to be prepared to be cannibals. We need to just eat the old people and the useless now, this here is a way of holding out.

5:27:20

In the speech is worth recounting out of Caesar again. He's trying to make this guy look like degraded by this. But there's another way to look at it, which is mean again. This is a commitment. What does it mean when you sacrifice were willing to sacrifice everything it means you're willing to go cannibal if that's what it takes.

5:27:38

This is from.

5:27:39

My Thomas homes translation of Caesar.

5:27:42

So Cesar says that this song.

5:27:45

Nobleman's garlic no woman makes the speech with she said, should not be passed over. He doesn't think another word. Somebody should say that this golf in these horrible things and so here's Caesar with this Gollan. He has him, saying quote I do not intend. He said to notice the view of those who dignify the most abject slavery by the title of surrender for I hold that they ought not to be counted the citizens or admitted to a council. I am only concerned with those were in favor of a sortie, meaning raid of a Banzai attack.

5:28:17

They are all agreed in their counselors to be recognized the memory of our ancient Valar to be unable to bear privation for a short span that I called weakness not manly resolution. It is easier to find a man who will the front desk than men who patiently indoor suffering and yet I would give my sanction to this view soheili do. I respect the authority. But advocates if I saw evil involved in it say this sacrificer our own lives, but informing our plans. We must have regard to the whole of golf for we have called upon the whole of gall to help us is 80,000 men fall on one field. What think you will be the feelings of our friends in kinsman when they are constrained to fight almost on the Berry corpses of the slain to save you they have counted their personal danger.

5:29:07

Nothing do not been robbed them of your aid do not buy Urfali or rashness or lack of resolution ruin. The whole of golf and subjected to perpetual slavery can it be that because they have not arrived punctually to the day. You die out there. Good faith and resolution. What then do. You suppose to the Romans are toiling day after day almost out orlins simply to amuse themselves?

5:29:34

Is the messengers of your countrymen cannot reassure you because all ingris? Is barred except Roman testimony that there coming? Is near dread that event keep them busy apollonir works night and day.

5:29:47

End quote.

5:29:49

In other words, you, saying if you doubt that are leaving army is on the way. Tell me why the Romans are going to all this trouble.

5:29:57

He then says that they are to be prepared to eat each other. If that's what it takes to regain garlic Liberty.

330 minutes

5:30:04

Instead, with one translation here called the Council of war decides to send out the useless Mauzan Prolonge. You know how long the food will last a little more soda counting on the Romans may be taking these women and children and old people in Infirmed. You know the people who used to live in that town before it became a battlefield so they can get her ex send those people out to the Roman lines in Caesar probably send them back.

5:30:31

It's been explained that maybe Caesar didn't have the food to feed these people. Those people were miss teaching. Caesar make us slaves and then feed us like slaves. They just wanted to eat and see your self, obviously, but also he thought sending them back my eat up there can get his food supply even faster. The problem is neither side werlin to the most people began to die.

5:30:52

In between the lines eating grass is the way one anshen service described it.

5:30:58

Do you women and children the families of some of these Warriors dying in front of you day after day of slow starvation and exposure to the elements. Will the siege goes on and you have no idea if your friends are coming and then one day.

5:31:12

They do.

5:31:14

And they are visible in the distance in verken get a recent history can see them parading on an open plain in the distance in a way that is all but like a skywriter, saying.

5:31:27

Rejoice in all of gaules here, you are rescued.

5:31:33

And on multiple Hills in the distance. The Romans see what Adrian Golesworthy set is almost certainly the largest Golik Army ever assembled. However, many people that might be.

5:31:47

Actually goes with this is probably one of the largest armies. It's a Jew says likely the largest army abude even are.

5:31:55

Hopelessly out dated but he possibly logical friend from 100 years ago, hence tell Brooke thinks all these numbers are crazy.

5:32:03

Admits that it might have been possible that this was a larger than normal army because even though he's the guy who's always gonna say you know how you gonna feed him. He says it's possible that these people were never meant to eat for very long.

5:32:15

This really farm is like a cruise missile to be launched right at Cesar, the Romans in these defenses.

5:32:21

It's not to worry about them, breaking up like the Bellgate did you know? Is there starving over a month or something?

5:32:28

So figure you have an army here if we talking about the Native Americans having 2000 war years, and it's a pretty good amount or the Zulus having 20,000 and it's a large Zulu Army. This army might be when you combine the numbers inside the hillfort with the relief. Army 120, 1130, 1000. Yangchun sources have it well over 300,250 1000. Infantry in the relief for celon those are crazy, but once again.

5:32:58

If this is 100.

5:33:00

1000.

5:33:01

Tribal Warriors in one place.

5:33:04

Well, you know, I like that, Napoleon quote quantity has a quality all its own.

5:33:10

That'll make up for a lot of Roman advantages want it.

5:33:13

Just having so many people.

5:33:15

And you can understand that Brooks idea that maybe these people are just meant to be used right away. When you see how quickly everything unfolds. The relief army shows up campsite in these Hills. About a mile from the Romans goes down to this plane, which is the only part of the area, which is really like a battlefield. The one open space that Western area. The gentle slope of the plateau so all the real fighting, especially the wide open Calvary stuff happens there.

5:33:41

And they go out and they demonstrate there and that's where their can get everything all his beleaguering besieged starving people have already seen those people from the town starting between the 2 armies. You throw up at cheer. Cesar says let's remember why we say Cesar says all the time why were so reliance on him.

5:34:00

Is the only eyewitness from this battle? Do we have any account from and anyone else? Is accounted this? Battle often uses him as a source?

5:34:10

So he's both invaluable at the same time, obviously bias as hell, although.

5:34:16

Any one you got from this bottle who wrote about it's probably gonna be pretty biased.

5:34:21

In this case, the wind. Cesar place at the fear a lot of times when Caesars playing at the fear of the dangers of a situation you can perhaps suggest that you doing, it to magnify his own greatness, but this looks legitimately dangerous here.

5:34:35

This looks like a moment in history is we said where the tribal people kinda have a shot 120, 1130, 1000 war years games, you were shot.

5:34:47

So when their can get in return, his people see this really far me. Cesar says they come running down from their positions towards that trench that separates them from the Romans and they begin filling it in another words preparing to do their job in this whole attack, which is to attack the Romans from the other side with the big relief. Army smashes against them at the front.

335 minutes

5:35:08

People take up the positions.

5:35:12

When he sends his cavalry down into this plane to engage the garlic. Calvary that's down there. Now, who knows about these numbers estimates are Caesar had about 6000 cavalry wide mix of things still have some garlic. Calvary probably have some Spanish probably have some numidian we know we had some Germans.

5:35:31

I'm aguls well have goals and they fight and skirmish all afternoon, apparently and the golsar getting the better of it. When Cesar says all of a sudden and not for the last time the German cowberry once again turn the Tide.

5:35:48

Kill a bunch of girls chasing off win the day.

5:35:51

And where he says that there can get her ex and his people who are you standing by having field in the trench waiting to attack dejectedly head back up Hill toward the town after they see that this really far me isn't going to be giving them any relief today.

5:36:07

So then you get the next day.

5:36:10

And something happens, it seems to validate some of those earlier points were making that in the later books of Caesars as Andrew Riggsbee Point out. He begins to point out that these people are growing in there, changing and they are at their prolonged contact in fighting with the Romans is making them more dangerous as we said earlier this is the reason sometimes used to explain why the Germans will you suck. Romijn 1480 right prolonged contact with the Romans made them Roman after that they can do that will Caesars kind of religion is this commentary goes on. The counter going that way. They need to be dealt with now before they get any better because they spend the next day during the day.

5:36:53

Calmly and coolly and logically and diligently the Romans might notice 'cause. They will think of that counts is so lazy and liking to avoid hard labor, but they are cutting down trees and they're making ladders and grappling hooks and putting together bundles of sticks, so that when they run to Aldi's Roman trenches. They can all throw their bundled into the transit eventually the bundles. Phillip the trenching you can run over them.

5:37:18

In other words, they're not rushing at the defense is like a bunch of war. Mad battle crazed barbarians that you can just gonna pick up coz are so stupid. They are calmly and logically planning for an organized assault.

5:37:35

Turn away that's scarier.

5:37:38

And then when the sun goes down and things are only lit by torchlight. Maybe Moonlight, who knows.

5:37:45

The largest army probably ever assembled in golf.

5:37:49

One that is infinitely larger than any North American tribal army ever assembled exponentially larger.

5:37:58

Throws itself against the Roman defense is at night.

5:38:04

Caesar rights that after midnight. If this Celtic Army right just creeps up quietly and then launches attack all at once, making a lot of noise. All it wants me to imagine you're up in the Garlic Hill, 4 to see you wandering what's coming. Next coz you're out of touch with these relief forces on the other side of the Romans and then the stillness of the night is broken by this loud roar and you instantly know something's going on down there so big Kingery blow the trumpet. Cesar says begins to get his forces together to support the attack on his side. Meanwhile, this Celtic forces throwing themselves against the Roman defenses in the dark.

5:38:46

And falling into all the pits and traps and Spurs, and all these things. Caesars so lovingly and devilishly describe.

5:38:56

There bad nothing daytime, but night or you can see how would be even a bigger problem is these calls are falling into the pits in there, they are being skewered by these steaks be sharpened pieces of wood. The size of a Mans 5. Some of the others are much smaller meant to go through your foot in disable you mean while roaming artilharia shooting from the walls that you're trying to get through the trenches, you gotta deal with these problems.

5:39:23

It's easier makes it out to be in near run thing and they're beating off this attack. Well, like something out of one of those old westerns were the Native Americans are our attacking the small little Fort in there seems to be an endless supply of them and you seem to almost be at your last leg. Caesar specifically names. He's good at this remember 2 of his.

5:39:45

One of my translations called the generals, which is not a good translation. But he needs senior commanders on the scene. One of them is Marc Anthony Marcus Antonius and of course, he'll be ancient tablet father later when he hooks up with Cleopatra. But he's one of the people that will run to the aid of the beleaguered sectors whenever it's needed.

340 minutes

5:40:05

Your sister.

5:40:06

Traps and everything they got set up these goals are throwing down there bundles of sticks and they got their ladders now and it's an ear run thing at several different places in the dawn breaks and the garlic wave subsides.

5:40:21

And this melting of the Gauls back to their campus. Protrade some historians as the failure of the assault. But other historians suggest that first battle. They thought the Calvary one that the Germans once again turn the tide at made it impossible for these Celtic infantrymen to operate in this big field during daylight so whatever the reasoning. The relief army loses its second battle against Caesar and the first assault that it makes against the fortifications of the Romans fails as well.

5:40:52

And Cesar says that part of the problem here is that werkin get ariksen the troops.

5:40:58

Received the hillfort never got their act together in time to help them by the time. The relief for Smeltz back to the camp morning. There can't get it hasn't launched his attack yet.

5:41:10

That's a traditional garlic coordination problem. It's not surprising, although there can get everything done a pretty good job. Avoiding those kind of traditional garlic mistake, so maybe it's surprising that sense.

5:41:21

Cesar says that the garlic leadership, which remember is made up of a ton of different tribes under several major warchiefs from different tribes Native American fan. I can't help but think of some of that. The Chiefs that I've always thought most highly of working together. I'll be sitting come from different time periods working together in some giant after it like this, um, but they have a conference and try to figure out what's going wrong. 'cause we've lost 2 battles in 2 or 3 days.

5:41:46

They were upset about the reconnaissance, pointing out, maybe that then we should have lost so many people to those traps that we didn't know about and then they interview, the locals who are after all, Golik themselves about the local land.

5:42:00

And is there some weak spot in the Roman fortifications. Turns out there is a Hill that Caesar couldn't incorporated his defense is the celts. Find out about it. Cesar says 60,000 of them under one of these warchief. You gotta love it. When 60,000 is a detachment of your forces on whatever the real number might be 60,000 of them sneak over to this week spot.

5:42:24

And then when they launch their attack there will be corresponding attacks launched elsewhere to help.

5:42:31

Interesting to wonder whether the people at the time understood with this is this is the actual.

5:42:37

You spend the roulette wheel.

5:42:40

Right now, I'm in this is the encounter that will decide in Caesar will say this. He says during the fighting to his man. This is the encounter and they will come down. Cesar says to a moment that will decide the course of the war that he's been fighting for the better part of a decade and given what we know now decide the state of garlic Liberty for the next 5 centuries.

5:43:04

Cesar says that it is about noon that the surprise attack is launched against the weak part of the Roman Fortification and they say it's the weak part because instead of being able to be situated on top of the Hill with a good view all around this one part of the camp had to be situated below the Crest but that means you don't know and can't see what's on the opposite side of the crest. The reverse slope and in this case. If you believe Caesar's 60,000 hand-picked tribal Warriors were, and around noon, they come galloping over that slope heading towards a part of the camp remember. Caesar's troops are numerous but there's strung out over the entire length of this 14 miles or conference or whatever it is this about 2 legions, maybe 810, 1000 people right here close by with 60,000 sounds crazy, so will save 30,000, screaming.

5:43:53

Warriors coming down that Hill with them.

5:43:56

As we mentioned this isn't all Caesar has to deal with because of course, they launch a strike from the main area. This great big plane that all the battles been fought on the main Roman defense is well. Those can't come out to play again, too, and historians are divided on whether not this is a real attack intending to produce results of its own or whether it's purely a diversion, but you can't just send a bunch of legionaries. From there now to go bolster the weak area. Coz they are busy and because this is the climactic battle. You would expect that there can get her except in the Hill for it.

5:44:30

With his lean hungry besieged troops would also launch an attack to help, too so they come down off the Hill and they do the same and then they begin to concentrate right near that same weak spot that the 60,000 pick. The guys from outside are concentrating on this is now the crux of the battle, so see you there goes to a place where he can see really well and his job as he sees it, and he emphasizes so instead of being the hero commander on the ground wielding a sword, leading is meant by King Arthur or Alexander. Caesar's job is to hold on to the precious reserves and told them out stingily to wherever they are needed. Most and he does this, but what's going to happen when he runs out of reserves what's gonna happen when you have a threat and part of the line and no more legionaries to send their to bolster it could you do this several times in?

345 minutes

5:45:20

Battle.

5:45:22

Finally, the situation of the weak spot in the fortifications is so bad it's in danger being overrun.

5:45:27

Which everyone seems to think would mean the battle?

5:45:30

Cesar has to go I'm self.

5:45:33

The last thing he does before he runs to that spot of the line, though, and it turns out to be crucial wouldn't you know it to take a few lesions that he scraped together with some Calvary, including our German friends with some of the commander. Someone says right outside the fortifications and whip around and try to get behind the enemy that were fighting in that area and see what you can do basically and then Caesar grab some more legiones. I guess that's the bottom of the barrel and had their own self.

5:46:03

Rise to the threaten part of the line and you instantly have this feeling that he's just walked into the Alamo when it's totally under siege and he's Davy Crockett and he didn't have to be in a place where he might die in a min a few moments, but now he's walked into it at his own free will.

5:46:19

Cesar says that everyone notices the red cloak, which is why you wear the red cloak, but he he has the same affect that is super celebrity would have on both sides. He says Celtic in Roman alike.

5:46:32

Remember this is not modern warfare, where because of the projectiles weapons. Everybody stays as far apart from each other as I can. This is ancient warfare where wars decided this the Romans always say by hand strokes. So you gotta be close and everyone is and Cesar says that they see him arriving in both sides fight harder because of it.

5:46:51

What's more a lot of this battle is visible from the battle lines of people who are not involved in the fighting so they are cheering to Caesars is the first cavalry bottle in the playing both sides are cheering. It's like that. Murderous bloody game of Quidditch are something in this case. Caesars is because of the way the Hill is slope, which made it vulnerable to begin with most of the Golsen was not a lot of Romans, 2 can watch this entire fight in there cheering in making noise in the way Caesar narrates. This is it say near run thing, he said his troops throw their Spears fight with swords.

5:47:25

People are cheering and yelling from different sides of the battlefield.

5:47:29

Shots are going up, you said from the hillsides.

5:47:33

And then he describes.

5:47:36

This moment.

5:47:37

Again, you need can't help but think the Eagles are coming. It's one of those.

5:47:42

You had to be, it's like the people who are at the sinking of the USS Indianapolis that deliver the nuclear bomb in there in the water and the sharks are eating them and they been in there for 5 days and then the rescue plane appears in there is that moment. Will you just never happy in your whole life to see anything scizor looking he sees among other things, his German allied or mercenary cavalry, maybe the magnificent 400.

5:48:09

Of the German people.

5:48:11

Behind the Celtic forced it's about to overrun that part of the fortifications.

5:48:18

I'm slaughtering shoes.

5:48:21

It's one paragraph from Cesar arriving at the Ballygran section of the fortifications to the complete turn of the tide from the Wonderful Hammond translation. Caesar talked about arriving on the scene in his redcloak.

5:48:36

And no word on whether he was doing the Little Darth Vader breath thing when he did.

5:48:43

Cesar says quote Sezer hurry to join in the fighting. The conspicuous color of the cloak, he habitually war in battle proclaimed his arrival because the downward slope swiryn. Clearview from the Heights above the enemy spotted the Calvary Squadrons and cohorts. He did order to follow him and joined Battle Shout when up from both sides and was answered by another from the rampart and defense works. Our men through their Spears, then fought with swords. Suddenly, the cavalry was glimpsed in the rear more cohorts were dancing. The enemy turn tail and the cavalry charge them as they fled massive slaughter followed.

5:49:24

And quote.

5:49:27

Once again Caesars spare with words, but you get the picture.

5:49:32

It was a nightmare.

5:49:34

We don't know how many people died in the fighting before that climactic moment in Celtic history.

5:49:41

Um we don't know how many died afterwards, I've seen estimates all those Caesars not helping the Romans last more than 10000 which is a lot by Roman standards with the couch last way more.

5:49:53

They lost enough so that when these survivors of discharge in this attack on this one part of the fortification made it back to their own camp about a mile away, they knew it was over.

350 minutes

5:50:06

And it began to break up.

5:50:08

Go home.

5:50:11

And it's indicative of how hard fought this battle was that Caesar in the Romans didn't just totally destroyed them then. But Cesar said the pursuit had to be.

5:50:21

Postpone for little bit while they recovered.

5:50:25

And, of course, let's not forget.

5:50:28

There can get erection his besieged army is Allied Army of many tribes watch this whole thing.

5:50:37

I know know there, dude, along with.

5:50:41

Well.

5:50:42

Everything else.

5:50:46

You know, I'm always fascinated by the extremes of the human experience.

5:50:52

And the emotional and intellectual edge involved in some of the affairs. I mean think about if you could take.

5:50:59

If.

5:51:00

Oddo.

5:51:01

Of what it looks like from dairy King at Richs point of view in win this battle is over as he looks out.

5:51:08

At the panorama laid out before him, another oma defense is the skyline in the disaster in the foreground.

5:51:17

Like and what are your emotions?

5:51:19

Is this all sinks in?

5:51:22

As to what this means.

5:51:25

How much again Cesar make him out to be kind of a Noble Savage if you will to bring up one of those literary conventions again.

5:51:33

It has their can get her. It's basically saying, You know, do with me what you will, I only do but I did for Golik Liberty?

5:51:41

Is it kill me or hammy over the Romans Alive? Whatever you think best?

5:51:47

I'm so Cesar said he sets up this chair and he sitting outside this camp in there, bringing prisoners to him and notable figures from inside the see just let him be this place out and then.

5:51:58

Cesar makes no big deal about their can get Eric surrendering which may be closer to the truth, sometimes during say, but Adrian Goldsworthy says Caesar would never allow myself to be upstaged in his own commentary.

5:52:11

Maybe he's suggesting you should believe the cash asedio or Plutark account, with your more romanticized, but sound much more in keeping with their can get a rebus statuses and Noble native tribal chief kind of.

5:52:26

I mean, you put in African King or Great Native American cheese for a Pacific Islander King. For example, when you get this works in a lot of places in that same position in the movie.

5:52:37

And it works just as well.

5:52:40

But the sources, saying if you like allow for Little Amalgamation of them. They're can get it. Reeks will go and put on his best armor.

5:52:49

Adorning self with this best weapons.

5:52:52

Get on his horse ride down to Caesar, who sitting in the chair and do a circle around him get off the horse through his armor downset. Caesars feet and not say a word.

5:53:04

To be letter way?

5:53:06

By the people who will throw him into the Roman dungeon to await his fate with you will have to do you know come after Caesar's schedule lightens up a little bit because he's got a whole civil war to fight and he's gonna tear the guts out of the Republic and when he finally gets a chance to settle down and party. You know, he'll have 20 days of Thanksgiving proclaimed in his absence with Rome hears about this whole thing. But for him. To actually participate, and enjoy himself. It's gonna be awhile and then when that happens, though there's lots of different entertainment very exotic stuff in the highlight of this. The party favor of party favors will be there. Kingery, 6 years later paraded in chains is part of this procession.

5:53:48

Will be taking down to one of these Dungeons and he will be ritually strangled.

5:53:55

So think about the human misery that emanates from the results of this battle. I like the way the story and Nick Field. So it breaks down the importance of these days. We remember earlier in this conflict. I'd mention that Caesars or breaks it down to like a frantic moment practically the whole battle hinges upon.

5:54:16

Think about what that moment going the other way, which might lead to that battle going. The other way would mean over the long haul.

5:54:25

Story Nick Fields writes about the effect of the Ilije Cedege quote.

5:54:31

Babolsar singular moments in history, productive of strange events, much may depend upon a small detail the effects of a detailed maybe victory in the effects of victory. Maybe long-lasting Ilisia was such a very real sense. It symbolize the extinction of Gaulish Liberty. Rebellions would come and go, but never again would have Gaulish warlord. Indypendent avrom hold sway over the tribes of gall to gain Liberty. There can get her ex a strong and popular leader at Hazarded, everything at Elisia and lost.

355 minutes

5:55:08

End quote.

5:55:11

Which begs a more fundamental in difficult question when you look at the cost of losing?

5:55:19

What is the fight in the gold worth it?

5:55:23

The Gauls went from being political slave to being actual slaves.

5:55:29

Historian Paul Gabig on in his book the cutting edge.

5:55:33

Had a statement that I thought was so deep it makes you question the entire paradigm when you think about admiring the resistance, the hard bit never ending never say die resistance, which is the thing that makes the the movie, so great, is the Native Americans in the face of calamity continue to resist against overwhelming odds right in the outcome is known. The Dumas up on them and they still fight back.

5:55:59

Gun rights quote, Unfortunately, the golf protracted the war, meaning to Golik War, for 9 bloody years. He's been estimated at least 1,000,000 of the natives perished in the process from another perspective. This was their war of independence, but they lost and quote.

5:56:20

When you're one of those Golik Warriors looking over the edge of the Hill for to the devastation after the Battle of Elisia.

5:56:28

You realize now with the downside of the give me Liberty.

5:56:32

Or give me death choice is going to look like.

5:56:38

And the gavaghan quote makes you wonder about.

5:56:42

Yo, what's the proper amount of resistance to offer in the face of a Conqueror, who will take everything from you for resisting.

5:56:53

The hard question because one might be willing to sacrifice one's own life.

5:56:58

But balkot the idea sacrificing their children that mean it's one of those choices. We said we were painting things that you literally would give your life for against other things that you would give your life for.

5:57:13

The hardest choices.

5:57:14

In the human experience I think.

5:57:17

The resistance of people that have been called Celticare Lumped in with Celtic would continue for many generations and Celtic civilization would too.

5:57:28

This conquest of the Gauls in the submission.

5:57:32

That this supposedly enforces doesn't mean you're gonna stop speaking Celtic language in these areas. For example, in there will be enough. People talking about this scordi of these Celtic languages that are still tenaciously holding on centuries after this.

5:57:47

Weather in ocho classified the people in the British Isles in Ireland as Celtic. I'm using air quotes with my hands. Here, 2 seems to be a judgment call best left up to experts.

5:57:59

But the DNA evidence as we said earlier may indicate that there are things that go well into the roots of all the people in that region that predate the Celtic period quite a bit so if there are similarities in them, it might be a combination of cross-cultural contamination with some things that are very old. Indeed, nonetheless. Maybe those personality traits often associated with Celtic peoples are all together gone, or made up.

5:58:29

Much of this by the way as you know, probably was rediscovered over the last couple 100 years as part of the awakenings of nation states in their roots of who they are, and who they were.

5:58:41

I certainly know that the Irish consider themselves you know as Celtic Celtic gets.

5:58:47

And I happen to know that at least a few of them haven't given up the fight.

5:58:51

Maybe the Romans think they won.

5:58:54
